SENATE VOTES TO RAISE DUTY ON RAW SUGAR

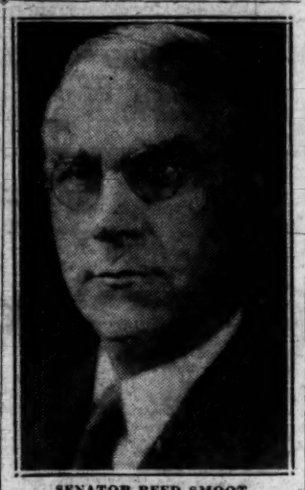
Increase of Two Cents Is Passed as Coalition Crumbles.

HIGHER LEVY IS SET ON WORLD IMPORTS

Ballot of 47 to 39 Seen as Reversing Recent Line-Up in Body.

NEW COMBINATION IS NOTED IN SWITCH

Conjecture Now Centers Upon What Members Will Do for Oil and Lumber.



SENATOR REED SMOOT.

By CARLISLE BARGERON.

The Senate Democratic-Progressive coalition, after withstanding tempting proffers of lumber and oil yesterday, like the tariff children which the Old Guard has always insisted they are, swallowed a big sugar lump and let themselves in for the charge that their only accomplishment over the last six months has been to delay the bill.

It may be that their fall will not be this hard, but the manner in which the sugar levy was voted into the bill has all the earmarks of an irresistible trade combine that will bring in lumber and oil, after all. And it has been assumed for some time that hides and leather goods would get back. It would only seem necessary to bring in cement for it to be what the Old Guard would call a "real" bill.

The vote on sugar, 47 to 39, was a complete reversal of the Senate's action some time ago. At that time it voted down by 10 votes the finance committee's rates of 2.20 cents on Cuban raw sugar and 2.75 on world imports. This time, by virtue of ten switches, it accepted the stubborn Senator Smoot's proposal of 2 and 2.50 cents.

Stage Perfectly Set.

Inasmuch as the House rates were 2.40 and 3 the stage seems to be a perfect setting for the rate which Senator Smoot wanted in the first place.

And a short while after it had voted for the sugar increase, the present rates being 1.75 and 2.20, it voted down Senator Broussard's proposal to limit Philippine importations to 600,000 tons a year. Many opponents of the tariff increase had contended this was the only way in which American sugar producers could get any relief.

Just before the vote, too, it turned down the proposal of Senator Howell, of Nebraska, which would have given the domestic producers a bounty, the way in which Senator Borah and others opposed to the increased tariff contended they should be relieved.

The ten senators who switched from their previous vote were Jones, Metcalfe, Pine, Schall, Ashurst, Dill, Hayden, Thomas of Oklahoma, Trammell and Goff.

New Combine Listed.

Of these there is every reason to believe that Jones, Pines, Dill, Thomas of Oklahoma, Ashurst, Hayden, Trammell, Schall and Goff are part of the new combination revolving around sugar, oil and lumber, which before it gets through may be completely absorbed by the Old Guard.

It does not follow that all of them will necessarily vote a straight ticket on the remaining two items. In fact, they did not so vote when they came up before, but at that time the coalition was successful in staving off the raid by what was termed "premature exposure." To just what extent they figure in the deal remains to be seen.

The fact that sugar came back so strongly in the face of the "premature exposure" and the adverse votes a few days ago on lumber and oil

Condition of Taft Reported as Same

Jurist Temporarily Improved, but Physicians Now Fear Stroke.

(Associated Press.)

William Howard Taft was reported by physicians at 7 p. m., yesterday to have remained in the same condition through the day.

The evening bulletin issued through the White House read: "There is nothing new to report concerning the former Chief Justice. His condition is unchanged since this morning."

Doctors Francis R. Hagner and Thomas A. Claytor did not return to the Taft home late last night, but checked the patient's condition with the nurse on duty.

While a fundamentally powerful heart has permitted the patient to fight off a complication of diseases, fear is held of a stroke that might suddenly break down the resistance of the former Chief Justice.

FORD, EDISON HELP DRYS AT HOUSE QUIZ

Pohibition Has Resulted in Prosperity for U. S., Committee Hears.

WET TACTICS CRITICIZED

(Associated Press.)

Advocates of prohibition yesterday vigorously assailed the arguments of antiprohibitionists for repeal of the eighteenth amendment before the House judiciary committee.

In the first day of their allotted time of seven days, the drys presented four witnesses who attributed to prohibition general prosperity, improved conditions among working classes and a better environment for the growing generation.

They insisted that evils attributed to prohibition by its opponents before the committee have been exaggerated and that isolated instances have been taken as indications of general conditions.

Two of the outstanding American drys the prohibitionists hoped to present—Henry Ford and Thomas A. Edison—expressed to the committee in the form of telegrams to Samuel Crowther, of Bayside, Long Island, the first witness, their unalterable opposition to repeal of the dry laws.

Repeal Possibility Denied.

Mr. Ford expressed a conviction that the "sane people of the Nation" would never see the eighteenth amendment repealed, while Mr. Edison said he felt that "prohibition is the greatest experiment yet made to benefit man," and that it was strange to him that some men of great ability and standing "do not help to remove the curse of alcohol."

Although the drys, headed by Mrs. Lenna Lowe Yost, legislative director of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, planned to present six witnesses yesterday, the cross-examination of the four was continued at such length that testimony of the others was put off until today.

After Mr. Crowther, who is an author on economic subjects, the committee heard Edward Keating, editor of Labor, and a former representative from Colorado; Dr. Daniel A. Poling, of New York, general director of the J. C. Penney Foundation and president of the World's Christian Endeavor Union, and Henry M. Johnson, lawyer and business man, of Louisville, Ky.

Mr. Crowther explained that he had made a survey of industrial con-

CAPITAL REDS LAY PLANS FOR PARADE TODAY

Communists to Picket White House Before Marching On.

PLACARDS PREPARED FOR USE OF JOBLESS

"Capitalism" Denounced in Speeches Made at Night Meeting.

SQUADS ARE PLACED AT STRATEGIC POINTS

If Agitators Are Peaceful No Disorder Will Result, Pratt Asserts.

Communistic elements of the city held a mass meeting last night preparatory to their contemplated White House demonstration at noon today as part of the world-wide uprising against industrial conditions and unemployment.

At the Communist headquarters in Seventh street, near N street northwest, inflammatory speeches were hurled, in which the "capitalist press" was scathingly denounced by speakers. If they are successful today in picketing the White House they will stage a march on the District Building to demand relief.

Directors of the Washington Council of Unemployed issued an anonymous statement last night, prior to the meeting, which outlined the policy of the Communist Party and urged those assembled to fight capitalism.

100 Hear Speakers.

A group of 100 persons, mostly colored, with a sprinkling of white girls and men, listened to speakers urging unity of action in the parade today. One white youth, a student in the District schools, urged the men to "defend themselves if the police attempt to interfere." He was introduced as Harold Brown.

Friends of the Soviet Union, at a meeting last night at their headquarters, N street near Connecticut avenue, declared that they would not participate in today's protest. It was explained that the unit's object is to establish more cordial relations between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Those instigating the parade today were extremely secretive regarding their plans. Until late yesterday no application had been made at Police Headquarters for a parade permit. Maj. Henry G. Pratt last night said that the group will be prohibited from marching unless it obtains permission.

At the headquarters of the Communist party leaders of the local movement averred that they did not recognize the law which makes it compulsory for demonstrators to secure official sanction.

To March to White House.

It was learned that the group will form in Communist Hall in Seventh, near N street northwest, at 10 o'clock, and will march from there to the White House and then to the District Building.

Activities at the Communist headquarters yesterday afternoon were confined to making placards bearing the slogans, "We Demand Work or Wages," "Hoover Prosperity, Seven Million Out of Work," "Seven Hour Day, Five-Day Week," "Down With the Speed-up and Wage Cuts," "No Soup, Kitchen Charity, but Work or Full Wages for the Jobless." One poster bore the picture of a man be-

Grundy Lobby Housed In Senate Office, Hint

Room 322 Is Assigned to High-Tariff Staff of Senate.

New York, March 5.—A Washington dispatch to the New York World says:

The tariff lobby directed by Senator Joseph R. Grundy (Republican), Pennsylvania, before he was appointed to the Senate, has now been installed in a room in the Senate Office Building.

Revelation of this fact shocked Senators who were informed of it today and is expected to result in an investigation by the lobby investigation committee. There was a disposition to regard it as the possible counterpart of the Bingham-Eyanson affair disclosed earlier in the investigation.

Officials of the American Tariff League, of which Senator Grundy was vice president at the time he was named to the Senate, are included in the corps of workers who have been using this base of operations within the building supposed to be reserved for the offices of senators themselves.

Room 322 is the headquarters assigned to the Grundy workers, although officially it is listed on the Senate records as having been assigned to Senator Grundy. However, Senator Grundy's regular office, where his official secretarial staff holds forth, is in Room 333, on the same

ROVER PLANS DRIVE ON CAPITAL GAMING

Posecutor and Other City Officials Confer on Law to Curb Evil.

RETICENT ON PROGRAM

Drastic legislation to curb gambling was discussed at a conference held yesterday in the office of United States District Attorney Leo A. Rover. Maj. Henry G. Pratt, superintendent of police, and other officials attended the conference.

A program of new legislation will be submitted to the Senate District subcommittee, headed by Senator Robsion (Republican), of Kentucky, later this week, probably on Friday.

Extension of the padlock law to cover gambling establishments probably will be the principal recommendation which will be made to the Senate committee. Mr. Rover and Maj. Pratt have been at work on statistics showing arrests and the results of court action in gambling cases for several weeks, and it is known that Mr. Rover was at work on a draft of the necessary legislation when the recent flare-up of Public Printer Carter occurred.

Barricading of premises, such as is done to protect gambling places and speak-easies from easy access by police raiders, would be made prima facie evidence of law violation under another piece of legislation which is under consideration.

Under this proposed law the police would be empowered to enter barricaded premises without having legal proof of gambling behind the barricades. The right to enter premises without warrants would be extended under this proposed law. But there is a serious question of the constitutionality of such a law and even those who propose it admit it is very drastic.

A third plan calls for amendment of the existing District law governing the possession of gambling paraphernalia.

Which of these laws will be advocated by the district attorney and

GLOOM ENSHROUDS NAVAL CONFERENCE

French Are Only Delegates Not to Feel Increase of Pessimism.

MEETINGS PROVE BARREN

By JOHN L. BALDERSTON.

London, March 5 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—An atmosphere of profound gloom today enveloped the headquarters of all the delegations to the London Naval Conference, excepting the French. There was no specially bad news to account for the increase of pessimism, but it was unmistakable, especially in American quarters, and was in no way dispelled by Secretary of State Stimson's statement tonight issued to refute th e"impression that the work of the American delegation at this conference is likely to result in an increase instead of a reduction in the tonnage of the navies of the world."

According to Mr. Stimson, "The plan which in its essentials appears to be acceptable to America and Great Britain, provides for a net reduction in the tonnage of the American fleet in capital ships, cruisers, destroyers and submarines, built, building or appropriated for of more than 200,000 tons and an even larger reduction on the part of the British fleet."

It was added, however, that "of course, these reductions are contingent upon some reductions being made in the fleets of other powers." This was a reference to the French building plan which will be reduced, it is now clear, only if France gets a Mediterranean security pact with guarantees of armed resistance against an aggressor.

Mr. Stimson's figures were not explained although experts held various conferences about them trying in vain to ascertain exactly what was meant. An hour after the Secretary of State personally produced the statement an emendation was promulgated to exclude aircraft carriers. There was much gossip in the American as well as other camps to the

CHAMBER VOTE GIVES TARDIEU AMPLE MARGIN

TONNAGE DEMANDS VIEWED AS UPHELD

Enhanced Prestige Seen for French Leader in Three Issues to Come.

Paris, March 5 (A.P.).—Andre Tardieu's second cabinet ran the gauntlet of the Chamber of Deputies today and, although roundly thumped by the parties of the Left, it emerged with a favorable majority of 53. The rectified ballot was announced as 316 to 263.

The winning margin of confidence was almost twice as great as political forecasters had been ready to grant the cabinet in advance of the voting. Most of them agreed that a margin of 30 votes would be a sign of strength for Tardieu and as the bitter debate on the ministerial declaration of policy progressed, some of the prognosticators began to believe that the cabinet would be lucky to win at all.

As a consequence the government will go back to the London naval conference and will face the chamber on the question of ratifying the Young plan, revising taxes and passing a budget with enhanced prestige.

Reaffirms Naval Demand.

The declaration of policy reaffirmed the French naval demand for a fleet of 724,000 tons by 1936 which M. Tardieu made at London several weeks ago. There was, however, a well defined impression in authoritative circles tonight that the program would be given some flexibility at London in order to relieve tension there and aid in the success of the five-power parley.

The new delegation will start for London at noon tomorrow. It consists of Premier Tardieu, Aristide Briand, foreign minister; J. L. Dumesnil, minister of marine; Francois Pietri, minister of colonies; Ambassador de Fleuriau and Senator Gustave de Kerguezec. Of these, Tardieu, Briand, Pietri and De Fleuriau were members of the original delegation.

Tardieu first became premier last November, getting his first vote of confidence on November 11 by 71 votes. He held power until February 17, when his government was defeated by 5 votes on a minor budgetary question and he resigned. Camille Chautemps, Radical-Socialist leader, who had played an important part in the Tardieu overthrow, formed a cabinet of left leanings, but this was thrown out February 25, being defeated on its first appearance before Parliament by 11 votes.

Tardieu was again called in by President Doumergue. He suggested that former Premier Poincare take over the task, but Poincare pleaded ill health and promised to suport Tardieu in forming a new ministry.

The result was a cabinet which leans so far to the right that the Radical-Socialists and Socialists declared war upon it as soon as the membership was announced. There was concentrated fire from the mass-

RINGGOLDHART MAY BE NAMED DISTRICT CHIEF

Fills Hoover's Desire to Select Truly Local Civilian to Post.

STILL DETERMINED TO ELEVATE CROSBY

New Commissioner Will Be Nominated Before End of Month.

EXECUTIVE AWAITS DISTRICT BILL FATE

Former City Official Fills President's Ideals for Place.

RINGGOLD HART.

President Hoover is desirous of naming a truly local civilian as the colleague of Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Crosby on the board of District Commissioners, and among the men who are being seriously considered is Ringgold Hart, former principal assistant corporation counsel, it was learned authoritatively yesterday.

There has been no change in the President's determination to appoint Gen. Crosby, but the search for a civilian Commissioner to serve with him still is going on.

When final selection will be made is not known, but the new Commissioner will be nominated before the end of this month the President made known when he informed Commissioner Sidney P. Taliaferro yesterday that he would comply with his request that he be relieved from further service not later than March 31.

Crosby Nomination Soon.

Gen. Crosby's nomination will go to the Senate, it is said, as soon as the present Commissioners have completed their testimony at the Capitol on the District appropriations bill for the next fiscal year. It is expected that President Hoover will send the nomination of the second Commissioner to the Senate at the same time, although it is possible that because of Mr. Taliaferro's request that he be relieved, his successor will be named soon, regardless of the status of the District appropriations bill.

Mr. Hart would have won very material advantage over any of the other men who have been mentioned as being under serious consideration, for he is thoroughly familiar with the workings of the District government, due to his long experience with District affairs. Mr. Hart resigned recently to take up private practice of law, and has offices in the Investment and the Smith buildings.

Conforms to Type.

He also has the advantage of conforming to the President's desire to name a strictly local civilian to the Board of Commissioners, for he was born in Washington, educated here, and has served for a number of years in the municipal service, rising from a civilian clerk and stenographer in the Police Department to be principal assistant corporation counsel. Despite his long service in the District government, it is no secret among those who know the former principal assistant corporation counsel that he is not at all convinced that the existing order of things should be continued and probably would work in harmony with Gen. Crosby in the development of plans for the betterment of the management of municipal affairs.

Fight Sputters Out.

The opposition to the appointment of Maj. Gen. Crosby, at first a raging fire, today is almost a sputtering ember.

From the beginning, there were a few organizations that upheld the President's choice, and as time went on the number grew. Finally, on Saturday night, the Federation of Citizens Associations adopted a resolution that was, in effect, an endorsement of the appointment.

The resolution expressed the gratification of the Federation for the Pres-

MEMBER OF COURT TO BE NAMED CHIEF

Two Selections for District Tribunal to Be Sent to Senate in Week.

STAFFORD IS FAVORED

A Chief Justice and then a new Associate Justice for the District of Columbia Supreme Court have been selected by President Hoover, it was learned last night.

The nominations of the two men will be sent to the Senate in about a week.

The fact that there will be two nominations means that one of the Associate Justices will be elevated to the office of Chief Justice.

That office was made vacant on December 8, when Chief Justice Walter I. McCoy reached the age of 70 and retired. His retirement also left a judgeship to be filled.

Associate Justice Alfred A. Wheat has been prominently mentioned for the office of Chief Justice, and so has Associate Justice Wendell P. Stafford and Associate Justice William Hitz. The latter is understood to have declined the appointment, and Wheat would like to see Stafford get it.

A dozen or more men have been mentioned for the judgship. At one time it was reported that the President had virtually decided to appoint Amos Woodcock, of Baltimore, but changed his mind when opposition to Woodcock developed.

The first man to be mentioned for the post was George Butte, of Texas, who has served in the Department of Justice here for many years as Assistant Solicitor General.

The District Bar Association recently boomed three men for the judgship—John E Laskey, William W. Millan and Joseph W. Cox.

Others who have been mentioned are Corporation Counsel W. W. Bride, Police Court Judge P. McMahon, Paul E Sieman and Alexander Wolf.

Missouri Cadet Wins Championship With Rifle

Boonville, Mo., March 5 (A.P.).—Cadet Lieut. Archie J. McGuire, of Blackwater, Mo., a student at Kemper Military School here, and captain of the varsity riflemen, today was announced individual champion of military school gunners of the United States.

In matches sponsored by the National Rifle Association, McGuire fired a score of 574 to defeat 40 representatives of the 35 essentialy military schools.

Bartley Madden Dies After Fall in Capital

Heavyweight Boxer, Here as Sight-seer Following Sharkey Fight, Killed in Accident at Treasury Building; "Gamest," Said Tunney.

Bartley Madden, 41-year-old heavyweight prize fighter, of New York City, famous several years ago as the "trial horse" for championship contenders, died last night in Emergency Hospital from injuries sustained yesterday morning in a 20-foot fall from the west steps of the Treasury Building during a sight-seeing trip.

Alone at the time of the accident, Madden told hospital attendants he had stepped off the steps involuntarily. A passer-by noticed him lying inert on the concrete roadway of the areaway. He suffered three broken ribs, a broken hip and internal injuries.

During his conscious moments at the hospital, Madden said that he had stopped off for the day in Washington en route to New York from Miami, Fla., where he had witnessed the Sharkey-Scott fight and had unsuccessfully sought a bout with Young Stribling, former heavyweight title aspirant.

He was almost penniless, Madden related, and wanted to get back to New York as soon as possible to take care of his motherless son. His wife died about three weeks ago, he said. He said his home address was 346 West Forty-fifth street, New York City.

Madden, born in Ireland in 1890, won the Irish heavyweight championship during the early part of his career, and came to the United States as a likely world's champion, but he never was able to attain the success in this country that had marked his efforts in his native land. He did, however, build up a reputation for being exceptionally "tough" and there were few American heavyweights who could knock him down or out prior to 1917. Thereafter his star waned rapidly and he became a "trial horse" for all who sought the title.

Among the prominent men Madden fought were Luis Firpo, Harry Wills, Fred Fulton and Bill Brennan.

Gene Tunney recently called Madden one of the two gamest fighters he had ever met. In 20 years of professional fighting, Madden participated in 94 bouts, winning 52, losing 14 and obtaining draw decisions in 4. No decisions were rendered in 24 of his bouts, while he scored 29 knockouts and was knocked out himself once.

British Disarm American Customs Men at Bimini

Detail Hunting Stolen Boats Compelled to Lay Down Guns.

Miami, Fla., March 5 (A.P.).—Seven customs officers and an employe of the customs service marine storage base here were disarmed of revolvers and a machine gun by British authorities in Bimini before they were allowed to land from a seaplane there today in search of eight rum boats stolen last night from the storage base.

Report of the disarming was brought here by Cal. Lathan, of the Curtiss-Wright flying service, who piloted the search party from here to the British island, 40 miles away, today.

The boats were stolen from the base last night after the night watchman had been attacked and bound by several men and then taken into the Everglades area, where he was released. The theft was not made public until after the airplane searching Flames Level Abingdon, Mansion Once Property of George Washington.

Abingdon, one of the oldest houses in the Nation, the birthplace of Nellie Custis and once the property of George Washington, burned to the ground late yesterday afternoon at its isolated site on the Four Mile Run in Arlington County, a short distance south of Virginia Highlands along the route of the Mount Vernon boulevard.

Fanned by a high wind, one of the numerous brush fires which have menaced other parts of the county during the last few days swept through bushes and dead weeds over the one-time spacious front lawn and quickly enveloped the large two-story frame structure in flames. The Jefferson District Fire Department responded to an alarm, but was unable to lend any aid owing to the lack of water.

The house, built in colonial style with ten large rooms, had been occu-

Lieut. Hinton Preparing Report on City Airport

On request of the executive committee of the Washington Chamber of Commerce, Lieut. Walter Hinton, chairman of the aviation committee of the chamber, is compiling a detailed report on the terms of Senator Bingham in regard to proposed development of property south of Highway Bridge as an airport for the National Capital, it was learned last night.

As soon as it is completed the report will be submitted to the executive committee for action. Officers of the chamber have decided to defer action on the proposed airport development because many details of the proposal are not definitely clear, it was pointed out yesterday.

The police headquarters automobile, which was stolen from in front of the headquarters at the District Building on Saturday, was found abandoned yesterday in Richmond, Va.

Richmond authorities notified Inspector William S. Shelby, chief of detectives, of the finding of the car, and stated that a Richmond detective would drive the automobile to this city tomorrow.

300 Per Cent Gain Laid to Power Unit

Federal Trade Commission Hears of Profits Made by Utilities.

(Associated Press.)

Testimony that the American Gas & Electric Co. had profited 300 per cent in charges collected from the Scranton Electric Co., a subsidiary, was given yesterday in the Federal Trade Commission's investigation of power utilities financing methods.

John H. Bickley, a commission accountant, was the witness.

After saying the capital stock of the Scranton Electric had been "written up" overnight more than $3,500,000 when it absorbed the Exeter Power Corporation in 1928 he detailed financial transactions between the American Gas and the Scranton Electric.

Other witnesses yesterday were Max F. Millikan, vice president and general counsel of the American Gas, and Frank B. Ball, vice president and secretary of the company. During Mr. Ball's testimony, commission counsel Healy vainly attempted to determine what had become of a "profit" in the sale in 1906 of the Electric Co. of America to the American Gas. Mr. Millikan, intermediary in the transaction, and Mr. Ball denied any definite knowledge of profit.

Confessed Killer Faces New Charge

Robbery of Postoffice in Detroit Is Laid to James Baker.

Detroit, Mich., March 5 (A.P.).—A new crime has been traced to James Baker, who confessed having killed eleven men, Detroit police announced today with the arrest of James Norton, alias Herbert Cherry, alleged to have been Baker's accomplice.

The two men, police charge, robbed a branch postoffice in a Hamilton avenue drug store here on February 3, 1929, taking $554 in Government funds and 60 watches. One of the watches was traced to Baker and Norton through Elinor, 17-year-old girl, to whom Baker confided his crimes.

Norton, alleged to have acted as a lookout for Baker, will be arraigned tomorrow on a Federal warrant. Baker is now in New York awaiting trial on charges of murdering Henry Gaw, watchman for the Guggenheim Laboratories, by poisoning him in December, 1928. His list of confessed crimes include eight poisonings in various parts of the world and murder of two men who were shot to death here in January, 1929.

Chewning's Bride Loses $4 to Court

Couzen's Daughter Forfeits Collateral on Minor Traffic Counts.

Mrs. Margo Couzens Chewning, daughter of Senator James Couzens, of Michigan, forfeited $4 in Police Court yesterday for minor traffic violations.

The young woman, whose recent marriage to William Jeffries Chewning, local bank teller, surprised Washington society, however, was successful in defending a charge of speeding without having to go into a courtroom. Mrs. Chewning declared that Policeman T. F. Agide, who arrested her Tuesday afternoon, did not pace her automobile, and attaches of corporation counsel's office at Police Court refused to issue papers on the charge.

The corporation counsel's office, however, declined to drop charges of failing to have a registration card and failing to change the address on a driver's permit. Mrs. Chewning, however, was permitted to forfeit $2 collateral on each of those charges. The $10 collateral posted on the speeding charge was returned.

G. E. STRONG MADE NEW RULER OF ELKS

Exalted Head Was Flying Officer of 122d Squadron Serving in World War.

OTHER OFFICERS CHOSEN

George E. Strong, member of the law firm of Holland & Strong, is the new exalted ruler of Washington Lodge, No. 15, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, having been elected last night at the annual meeting of the lodge.

The new ruler was a flying officer of the 122d Air Squadron during the World War and at present holds the rank of major in the reserves.

Mr. Strong was secretary to Representative Strong, of Kansas, in 1921, and while holding this position was speaker of the "little Congress." From 1921 to 1925 he held positions in the Department of Justice, including that of Special Assistant to the Attorney General.

In 1925 Mr. Strong joined the law firm of Holland & Strong. He is a graduate of the University of Chicago; the University of Kansas and George Washington University; is a member of the District of Columbia Bar Association and is qualified to appear before the Supreme Court of the United States.

Other officers elected at last night's session of Elks were John J. Moriarity, esteemed leading knight; David LaPorte, esteemed loyal knight; Leonard Gawler, esteemed lecturing knight; William S. Shelby, secretary; Nathen Weill, treasurer; Tom King, tiler, and Dr. Thomas E. O'Donnell, trustee. John Dillon Fitzgerald is the retiring exalted ruler. New officers will be installed April 2.

Private Matrons In Schools Fought

Ballou Would Eliminate Employment of Women by Private Funds.

Discontinuance of employment of matrons in District schools, who are paid out of private funds, was recommended by Dr. Frank W. Ballou, superintendent of District schools, at a meeting of the Board of Education yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Ballou made this recommendation after a request from the Parent-Teacher Association of the Oyster School that the matron be retained at that school was brought up for consideration. Dr. Ballou made the recommendation, he explained, because he considered employment of matrons by private interests, or free contribution of services by matrons, as inconsistent with the law. As an illustration of this the superintendent pointed to the necessity of employment of $1 a year men by the Government.

On motion of Henry Gilligan the board decided to postpone action on the recommendation of the superintendent until next week.

Wife Asks Maintenance For Self and Children

Alleging that her husband, Curtis K. Scott, of 2610 P street northwest, makes $300 a month, but does not contribute to the support of her and their three minor children, Ethel M. Scott, of 3827 Chesapeake street northwest, yesterday asked the District Supreme Court to grant her maintenance.

The wife tells the court that she married the man on August 19, 1920 and he deserted her last April. She alleges that prior to his desertion he beat her, and as a result drew a 60-day sentence in Police Court. Attorney J. Franklin Wilson appears for the wife.

Funds Are Solicited For Gallatin Statue

Frederick P. H. Siddons, secretary of the American Security and Trust Co., has issued an appeal to Washington people to contribute to the Gallatin Memorial fund for the erection of a statue of Albert Gallatin, Treasurer of the United States 1801 to 1814 on the steps of the Treasury.

Congress has authorized the statue and provided $10,000 for the purpose, and Mr. Siddons, as chairman of the Gallatin Memorial committee is endeavoring to raise Washington's share of a $50,000 fund raised by large cities of the country for this memorial.

300 Are Drowned In French Floods

Thousands Made Homeless When Raging Waters Sweep Provinces.

Paris, March 5 (A.P.).—More than 300 deaths have resulted from floods in southern and central France. Most of them occurred in Montauban and Moissac in the valley of the Tarn. Authorities fear that the death list might be underestimated.

The latest estimate gave 150 dead in Moissac with 500 houses destroyed and 2,000 persons homeless.

Reynies, a village of 500 inhabitants, was destroyed and had 12 dead. Albias, with 1,000 inhabitants, had 3 dead. Twenty houses collapsed there.

In St. Antonin, a town of 3,000, there were 2 dead and 25 houses in ruins. La Francaise, a place of almost equal size, suffered a loss of 30 houses but no deaths were mentioned.

INCREASED TARIFF ON SUGAR IS VOTED IN SENATE, 47 TO 39

shows the determination of the new influences at work on the bill.

Had the sugar tariff been voted when it was first before the Senate it would not have been considered a coalition loss at all. The levy at that time would have been classified among those things done for agriculture. The coalition, indeed, split on the question at that time. The matter was determined solely on its merits or demerits then. There was no issue between Democrats and Republicans, no issue between Progressives and the Old Guard.

G. O. P. Bill Forecast.

But this time it appears as part of a combination which, if successful, and the cards certainly seem stacked for it to be, will virtually revamp the bill from a coalition written one to an Old Guard bill.

Six members of the coalition, because of home fires, voted for the sugar tariff before: Couzens, Fletcher, Frazier, Howell, King and Nye.

And it was upon this weakness in the coalition camp that the tariff fixers, who have laughed contemptuously at the "high principles" of the coalition from the beginning and predicted confidently that in the end their fixing would prevail, went to work upon. They went to work upon the coalition in such a way and at such a time, too, that they bid fair to make them look like political monkeys.

It was, of course, difficult for Nye, Frazier and Howell to vote against a sugar tariff. They have beet sugar interests in their State, but so do Borah, Norris, McMaster and Norbeck, as well as Blaine and La Follette, but they fought to hold the coalition together, particularly against a split this second time.

Three Votes Would Save Lumber.

Now what are the chances of oil and lumber getting into the bill since sugar has paved the way?

Lumber was defeated by a 5-vote margin, meaning that only three votes are necessary for an overturn. Well, if Senator Smoot, Metcalfe and Hayden do not afford them observers will be greatly surprised.

There was a 12-vote margin on oil, 7 votes necessary to an overturn. It will be surprising if the fixers do not get them from these possibilities: Ashurst, Fletcher, Metcalfe, Smoot, Vandenberg, Dill, Hayden, Schall, Trammell and Walcott.

If the bill goes to conference with these major Old Guard gains there would seem to be no reason why it should not pick up many other little tid-bits there.

In the final analysis it will mean that after all this hue and cry the Old Guard will not only have fairly gotten the rates it wanted, but juggled the Democrats and the Progressives entirely out of an issue. Because it will be Democrats and Progressives, those who strayed from the fold, of course, who made the outcome possible—made it possible after demonstrating that the "iniquitous" Old Guard could do absolutely nothing by themselves.

There was one Old Guardsman who could not restrain his mirth after yesterday's result. "The dynasty fell on the only things about which it was right," he chuckled.

"Mindreader" Sees Future While Girl Is Buried Alive

Sale of Foot Ease and Heart Balm Is Aided by Little Lady's Stay of Half-Hour in Grave; Mme. Zetta Reads Your Mind.

A small booth opposite the Patent Office on Ninth street became Bagdad-on-the-Trolley Line yesterday when crowds of the faithful drawn by voices from the ballyhoo minaret saw the Marvelous Monono Fay buried alive in dirt piled deep on a gaudy platform.

While the white-robed madame slumbers in her coffin, blissfully beyond sound of the "Professor's" high-powered sales line, brisk attendants distribute bargain packages of foot ease, heart balm, muscle builder and what have you. Big Business, however, has enmeshed the old-time medicine show. A sign above the stage announces that this is only one of 200 "dynamic medical clinics" scattered about the country.

The chain-store atmosphere is everywhere. As one enters to the left stands an information booth, where an alert young woman tells you what it's all about. Brass-lunged orators relieve each other smoothly, and Mme. Zetta's acts click with a nicety bespeaking efficiency tactics.

Just as the faithful begin to lose interest in the panaceas produced by the "Professor," Mme. Zetta, "the lady with the radio mind," steps forward to read the mind of each and every bystander. If you have no job, the madame will assure you that one will come eventually, even if you don't like it. And just to show that her heart's okay, the madame permits the "Professor" to crack a 100-pound rock on her chest. A sledge hammer is used, and the lady grunts, but offers to take her home are refused.

Just about this time, the professor "decides" that Fakir Fay should be relieved from her 30-minute tenure of the grave. The lady is in a trance, he explains, but this will be dissipated as soon as he relieves pressure on certain nerve centers. This he does with mysterious gesticulations, and here's Lady Fay with us again. A few twitches a la Holy Roller fashion, and the ravishing eyes open, with only one set of lashes loosed by the earth. Another "doctor" begins fulminating with a style that would shame a congressman, and the show goes on.

Policeman to Get Speeding Hearing

Cline to Face Court Today on Charge of Driving Car in Wild Chase.

Reckless driving charges against Second Precinct Policeman Luther E. Cline, 29 years old, will be aired in Police Court today, after a postponement from yesterday when he appeared there without counsel.

Inspector E. W. Brown received a report from Motorcycle Policeman Miles Znamenacek, of the Traffic Bureau, that Cline was arrested at Thirty-fourth and M streets northwest, after a wild chase when the motorist was alleged to have failed to stop at Znamenacek's order on Wisconsin avenue near the Mount Alto Hospital. Cline was declared in the report to have "stepped on the gas" and raced along Wisconsin avenue through Georgetown at a speed of almost a mile a minute.

The inspector said Cline, a member of the police force for five years, had been warned several months ago regarding his driving. The policeman was not booked at any precinct, but had been instructed to appear in court, continuing on duty pending a disposition of the case.

Lindbergh to Attempt Long Glider Trip, Claim

Del Monte, Calif., March 5 (A.P.). From sources close to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh it was learned today the famous flier, who is here to make sail plane tests, plans a long-distance glider flight. It was said that if winds are favorable the colonel would try to fly as far south as Santa Barbara, an air-line distance of about 200 miles, and possibly farther.

Col. Lindbergh, who with his wife is staying at Pebble Beach, arose at 5:30 a. m. and went for a drive around Monterey Bay to ascertain the direction and nature of the winds.

Theater to Replace Car Barns.

Lynchburg, Va., March 5 (Special). The Lynchburg Traction & Light Co. has moved to its new car barns, Thirteenth and Kemper streets. The old car barns, bought by the Publix Theater, are being razed to provide a site for a $500,000 theater.

CARAWAY OPPOSES OIL PRICE CUT QUIZ

Thmoas' Request Officials of Firms Be Called Is Frowned Upon.

NO JURISDICTION, VIEW

(Associaed Press.)

A request by Senator Thomas (Democrat), Oklahoma, that the Senate lobby committee summon officials of five oil companies to learn the reason for a recent price cut in crude petroleum prices was viewed with disfavor last night by Chairman Caraway, of the committee.

Senator Caraway said he had not received the letter from Senator Thomas which contained the suggestion but he expressed the opinion that such an investigation would not come within the jurisdiction of the committee.

"All we have any jurisdiction over," he asserted, "is attempts to influence governmental legislation."

In his letter, Senator Thomas suggested that the following officials be called:

W. C. Teagle, of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey; W. B. Farrish, of the Humber Co. of Texas; E. R. Brown and Ben H. Stephens, of the Magnolia Co of Texas; W. L. Mellon, of the Gulf Oil Co., and Avery D. Andrews, of the Dutch Sell Co.

Spread in Price Hit.

Senator Thomas also suggested that the committee in quire into the reasons "for the spread between the cost of producing gasoline, shown to be some 6 cents, and the selling price to the consuming public, shown to be some 20 cents."

Senator Thomas is the author of the amendment defeated last Friday which would have placed a duty of $1 a barrel on crude oil and 50 per cent ad valorem on petroleum products. He has announced that he will offer a modified amendment probucts. He has announced that he will offer a modified amendment probably calling for a duty of 80 cents a barrel on crude oil and 40 per cent ad valorem on petroleum products.

Denying that he had lobbied against an oil tariff for the Standard OOil Co. of NeNw Jersey, Philip P. Campbell, former representative from Kansas, told the lobby committee yesterday he had received no instructions whatever from this company in regard to the proposed duty.

Mr. Campbell, now an attorney for the company, was summoned after a letter written by Representative Sproul (Republican), Kansas, claiming Mr. Campbell was a lobbyist, had been placed in the lobby committee record.

Political Cause Claimed.

Questioned about the letter, Mr. Campbell told the committee he thought it was "only fair to me to say that Mr. Sproul is running for the Senate and he thinks I am running for the Senate." He explained that Mr. Sproul is running against Senator Allen, Republican fncumbent.

"For lack of clearnes sor an understanding of what is going on," Mr. Campbell added, "he thinks I am running for senator and that is the reason he referred to me as a lobbyist for the Standard Oil Co. That is the only possible excuse he could have have had for making that statement because there is absolutely nothing in the statement he makes."

The only other witness yesterday was Charles A. Price, a clerk for the Tennessee River Improvement Association, who was questioned at length by Senator Black (Democrat), Alabama, concerning some correspondence with B. C. Cobb, of the Hodenpyl Hardy Co. of New York.

Speaker Stresses U.S.-German Amity

Von Klenze Cites Policy of Self-Analysis in Talk at University.

Germany has adopted a policy of self-analysis with a view to learning the mistakes of the past fifteen years and rectifying them, Dr. Camille Von Klenze, of the University of Munich, said yesterday in an address before the students of the University of Maryland. "Germany," the speaker added, "wants America's friendship more than that of any other nation in the world."

According to the speaker, the middle classes in Germany are in poverty, with students going with one meal each day in order to obtain an education. Only the German people's ability fully to relax after their labors, has enabled them to keep pace with modern developments and maintain their place as a world power, Dr. Von Klenze declared.

The visiting instructor urged the interchange of professors between Germany and America as one of the best means of promoting lasting friendship. Dr. O. C. Kiep, counselor of the German Embassy, and W. Von Wuthenau, one of the secretaries, were guests of the University of Maryland for the lecture.

DAVIS HINTS RELIEF FOR UNEMPLOYMENT

Cabinet Member Confers With Cenate Leaders on Situation.

TARIFF DELAY BLAMED

(Associated Press.)

Early consideration of labor legislation was promised yesterday by Senate leaders after conferences with Secretary Davis over the unemployment situation.

The Secretary was optimistic over the outlook and expressed the opinion that early passage of the tariff bill and of the public buildings expansion measure would tend, with other programs now in effect, to relieve conditions completely by early summer.

Senator Watson, of Indiana, the Republican leader, who talked with Mr. Davis at the Capitol, said the $230,000,000 public buildings bill would get early attention after passage of the tariff measure, which is now near the end of its course through the Senate.

Senator Wagner (Democrat), New York, who also was visited by the Labor Secretary, will go before the commerce committee today to urge approval of his bills to set up employment agencies in cooperation with the States and to provide for an advance program of employment.

Wagner Seeks Emergency Fund.

Commenting on the latter bill of Mr. Wagner's, Secretary Davis suggested in a letter to Chairman Johnson, of the Senate commerce committee, that Congress place an emergency public building fund in the hands of the President to be used at his discretion. However, Senator Wagner was standing by his proposal to establish a Federal employment stabilization board to handle a $150,000,000 emergency fund.

Mr. Davis estimated the number of unemployed at 3,000,000 in his conferences at the Capitol. He expressed hope that the White House agreement of the leaders of industry and labor for a truce on wages and the promise of railroads to continue their building work would combine with prospective legislation to overcome the problem.

He suggested also to Senator Wagner thta the bill for employment agencies be made strictly a national affair, but the New York senator remained in favor of a cooperative arrangement with the States. He wants one agency for every State.

Senator Watson explained that Muscle Shoals legislation would have the right of way in the Senate after the tariff is disposed of, but said the public buildings measure also would receive prior consideration. Also an early effort will be made to complete consideration of the public roads appropriation, which is now in conference, between the Senate and House for a conciliation of differences.

Blame on Tariff Attacked.

The Davis statement blaming delay in acting on the taric for unemployment was attacked i nthe Senate late yesterday by Senators Walsh, of Montana, acting Democratic leader, and Trammel (Democrat), Florida.

Mr. Walsh said whatever delay had been caused by the tariff "must be attributed to those in close association with the rPesident," because these Republican senators were permitting extra votes on sugar, lumber, hides and oil.

Mr. Trammell said the delay on the measure had been "precipitated and possibly invited by quite a lot of criticism on the floor on the part of administration senators."

Secretary Davis also conferred at the Capitol with Senator Brookhart (Republican), Iowa, the author of the resolution to appropriate $50,000,000 for relief of unemployed. The Iowan was of the impression afterward that the Labor Secretary did not consider this amount sufficient, but administration leaders have already given notice they would not support his proposal.

Catholic Churches Hold 1930 Novena Services

The Novena of Grace, nine-day services, in honor of St. Francis Xavier, sixteenth century Spanish Jesuit missionary, which was begun Tuesday morning at St. Aloysius Church, North Capitol and I streets northwest, is, according to Father James M. Cotter, one of the priests attached to the church, attracting capacity crowds at each of the nine daily services from 7:30 a. m. to 8:15 p. m.

Talks by the priests of St. Aloysius are given at the half-hour services, which will be concluded with the upper-church service on March 12. The following priests have spoken at the services: The Rev. Michael J. Fitzpatrick, rector of St. Aloysius; the Rev. Phillip Clarke, the Rev. A. M. Torre, the Rev. J. I. Fink, the Rev. Cotter, the Rev. J. A. Canning and the Rev. John F. O'Hurley.

Seven other Catholic churches in Washington in addition to St. Aloysius are holding Novena of Grace services.

Missing Women Hunted by Police

Two Girls and Young Married Woman Objects of Search.

Police were requested yesterday to conduct searches for two girls and a young married woman, who have been missing from their homes for the last few days.

Mrs. Clara Williams requested the authorities to conduct a search for her 15-year-old daughter, Marie Williams, who has been missing from her home on F street northeast near Second street since Tuesday. The girl is believed to be in company with a chum, Lucille Barry, who resides on Third street northeast near E street.

The authorities were also asked to search for Mrs. Elsie M. Hawkins, 22 years old, who was reported by her husband, Frederick Hawkins, as missing from her home on Rhode Island avenue, Brentwood, Md., since Sunday.

23 Germans Enter Suit For Sequestered Stocks

In one of the most voluminous suits ever filed in the District of Columbia Supreme Court, 23 residents of Germany seek to recover stocks in American corporations which they claim were held in England for German banks at the outbreak of the war and which were confiscated and turned over to this Government.

The suit, which was brought through Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, former Assistant Attorney General, is directed against Howard Sutherland, as alien property custodian, and W. O. Woods, as treasurer of the Unitde States.

DAY IN CONGRESS

SENATE.

Met at 11 a. m. and recessed at 10:05 p. m. to 11 a. m. today.

Voted to increase the tariff duties on sugar.

Leaders promised early consideration of legislation to relieve unemployment.

Former Representative Phil Campbell, of Kansas, appeared before the lobby committee and denied that he had been hired by the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey to lobby against an oil tariff.

Agricultural committee recommended establishment of a Government commission to regulate cotton exchanges.

Senator Grundy (Republican), Pennsylvania, introduced a bill authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to pay the City of Philadelphia $535,716 in settlement of claims against the Government for internal revenue taxes collected on railroad stocks and bonds owned by the city.

Received the nominations of James A. Cobb as a judge of the local Municipal Court; Frank Lee, as district attorney of eastern Oklanoma, and Arthur Arnold, as district attorney for the Northern District of West Virginia.

HOUSE.

Met at noon and adjourned at 3:45 p. m. to noon today.

Received from the President a request for an additional $150,000 for the expenses of the American delegation to the London Naval Conference.

Passed and sent to the Senate the McFadden bill to increase the amount of paper of an individual borrower which a member bank may rediscount with a Federal Reserve Bank.

Prohibitionists appeared before the judiciary committee and insisted that prohibition was a success, despite the arguments of the wets.

Senate Bill Seeks To Free Filipinos

Joint Act Would Grant Independence Within Five Years.

(Associated Press.)

Proposing a gradual relinquishment of United States control of the Philippines, Senators Hawes (Democrat), Missouri, and Cutting (Republican), New Mexico, yesterday introduced a joint bill to grant independence to the islands within five years.

The measure would grant the Philippine legislature the immediate right to provide for election of delegates to a constitutional convention. Once drafted and accepted by both the Filipinos and the United States Congress the Constitution would become the governing instrument of the islands, during a five-year period in which the islanders would still owe allegiance to the United States while undergoing a "practical demonstration of what independence means." Continuance of independent government without allegiance to the United States would then become the alternative offered in a Philippine plebiscite.

The bill also would provide for maintenance of naval coaling stations in the islands, maintenance of Armed American forces there, and would stipulate that Philippine foreign affairs be under the supervision of this government.

Baltimorean, Slayer, Sentenced to Gallows

Baltimore, March 5 (A.P.).—Lorenzo Price, Negro, today was sentenced to be hanged for the murder of Reuben Hayman on the night of January 2 by Judge Robert F. Stanton in criminal court, before whom he was convicted three weeks ago, after an appeal for a new trial had been denied by the supreme bench.

Price was convicted of slaying Heyman after accosting him and his companion, Mrs. Dorothy Burgess, and forcing him to drive his automobile to a secluded spot. After shooting Heyman to death he was accused of assaulting Mrs. Burgess. He was not tried on the latter charge.

PRINCIPAL KEEPER AT AUBURN KILLED

Prisoner Murders Official in Sight of Warden and 875 Inmates.

TRIAL IS INTERRUPTED

Auburn, N. Y., March 5 (A.P.).—Within sight of 43 guards and 875 prisoners, Principal Keeper Edward L. Beckwith, of Auburn Prison, today was stabbed to death by a long-term inmate impelled by a fancied grievance. Beckwith was the third principal keeper in three years to die through the fury of a convict.

Beckwith's assailant, Anthony Mortelito, 31, serving sentence of twenty years to life, was clubbed into submission in an instant after his flashing knife plunged four times into the officer's abdomen. He was dragged almost unconscious immediately to an isolation cell to await full investigation.

Beckwith's death came at a dramatic moment in the trial of Max Becker, another inmate, charged with the murder of the principal keeper's predecessor, George A. Durnford. Durnford was killed in the riot of December 11 last. Court promptly recessed.

Lull Preceded Outbreak.

The stabbing climaxed two months of calm at the formidable penal institution, a calm which prison officials regarded as that which precedes a storm. Such a lull, they said, has preceded every major disturbance at the prison in years, especially the riots of July 28 and of last December.

Beckwith, known among the inmates as "firm but fair," was standing in the southwest corner of the mess hall as the 875 convicts marched in. Suddenly, as Mortelito came near, he stepped out, whipped out a secretly fashioned knife and plunged it deep into the veteran officer's body. His face twisted in pain, Beckwith fought back and with one of his blows felled his attacker. Then he collapsed.

Defense Comes Too Late.

Guards Joseph Burke and Thomas Locherine leaped to his defense, but were too late. Warden John L. Hoffman, who succeeded Brig. Gen. Edgar S. Jennings after the December riot in which seven convicts were killed, saw the attack. He was standing near Beckwith at the time.

Mortelito was sentenced at White Plains on May 31, 1922, by Supreme Court Justice Arthur S. Tompkins, after pleading guilty to a charge of murder, second degree, in the death of Paolo Letti on February 25, the same year. He was received at Sing Sing Prison June 2, 1922, and transferred to Auburn June 13. Prison officials said he would have been eligible to parole in 1937 and that a deportation warrant was held against him. He is a native of Calebria, Italy.

Since the Auburn Prison riot of December 11 in which Principal Keeper Durnford and seven convicts were killed, the cells have been cold and uncomfortable. Mortelito fashioned a crude electric heater with which to warm his cell. That was his first infraction of prison rules. Prior to that time he had been a model prisoner. Principal Keeper Beckwith removed the heater but according to Dr. Raymond F. C. Kieb, State commissioner of correction, did not punish Mortelito.

"It looks," said Dr. Kieb today, "as if Mortelito had brooded over the incident ever since."

Hoover Asks $150,000 More for Navy Envoys

(Associated Press.)

President Hoover yesterday asked Congress to grant $150,000 for expenses of the American delegation at the London Naval Conference in addition to the $200,000 allowed originally.

The additional funds are expected to last until mid-April. The President transmitted a report from Undersecretary Cotton, of the State Department, saying the original appropriatoin had been used up on March 3.

"Expenses have been greater than anticipated," said a report of Director Roop, of the Budget Bureau, which the President also sent to Congress. "Moreover, an unforeseen delay has occurred."

VOTE SET FOR TODAY IN FOX REFINANCING

Postponed Balloting May Decide Fate of Vast Movie Holdings.

MAGNATE SEES VICTORY

New York, March 5 (A.P.).—Postponing until tomorrow the announcement of the vote on a refinancing plan for the Fox Film enterprises, stockholders of Fox Film Corporation tonight adjourned their meeting. The adjournment came shortly after they had cast their ballots on a modified plan put forward by a bankers group headed by Bancamerica-Blair Corporation.

Counsel for William Fox and the bankers who proposed the plan claimed that an overwhelming victory for them was assured by the vote. They insisted that foes of the plan, led by Harry L. Stuart, of Halsey, Stuart Co., and John E. Otterson, of the Electrical Research Products Corporation, had been unable to muster enough proxies to defeat the Fox plan and thus open a possible way for the adoption of a plan favored by them.

A supreme court justice today denied Fox's attempt to prevent his cotrustees, Otterson and Stuart, from voting 50,100 shares of Fox Film stock at the meeting tonight. The justice held that Otterson and Stuart were entitled under a voting trust agreement with Fox to vote the stock. Despite this ruling Fox tonight voted this stock, which was also voted by his cotrustees. In the minds of expert observers this was a further legal complication in the confusion attendant upon the financial affairs of the huge film concerns.

After the meeting of Fox Film stockholders, the stockholders of Fox Theaters Corporation, a subsidiary, also went into session to vote upon the bankers' plan, which was put forward to save the Fox enterprises from a receivership.

Florida's Truck Crop Hurt by Cold

Heavy Damage Reported; 90 Per Cent of Beans and Tomatoes Killed.

Jacksonville, Fla., March 5 (A.P.).—Heavy damage to truck crops from last night's cold and frost was reported today by the State Marketing Bureau.

Rather serious damage was reported from the eastern Lake Okeechobee area. It was indicated that 90 per cent of beans and tomatoes from Okeechobee City to Clewiston, were killed.

Residents of Pahokee, in the lake area, brought word to West Palm Beach that ice "thick as a blotter" had formed last night and that growers considered the cold as the most serious since 1925. Potato growers estimated their losses at only 10 per cent.

Lawtey reported beans a total loss and 90 per cent damage to strawberries bloom. Ten per cent of the beans in the Davis section, near Fort Lauderdale, were killed, but tomatoes and peppers grown in sand lands escaped.

French Are Only Delegates Who Do Not eBcome More Pessimistic.

BRITAIN IS SLIM HOPE

effect that the Americans have now taken a leaf from the French book and resurrected obsolete tonnage, largely in destroyers and submarines, to bolster up the claim that they are reducing their fleet, and the unkindest jibe addressed to Mr. Stimson was, "Remember the Maine."

The "plan" mentioned in the statement of the head of the United States' delegation is the provisional Anglo-American parity agreement of a month ago.

Conversation Fails to Help.

A conversation this evening between Senator Reed and Ambassador Tsuneo Matsudaira did not advance matters. It was learned from a non-American source that the discussion dealt with the cruiser situation after 1936 when, the Americans have explained, they will probably not have more than nfteen 10,000-ton cruisers in commission.

Mr. Matsuadira is believed to have stated his government's decision that if the United States decided to build three more cruisers after that date, Japan will build two 8-inch gun cruisers of 8,000 tons each, thus maintaining the 70 per cent ratio.

The Japanese chief delegate, former Premier Reijiro Wakatsuki, told the whole Japanese press tonight that he was "not optimistic," which is further than any other responsible conference figure has gone in public.

Counter-Demand Revealed.

It was learned tonight that Premier Ramsay MacDonald, in urging upon the Japanese the unwisdow of the Americans in claiming that no limit should be placed upon the size of six-inch-gun cruisers under 0,000 tons, said that if the United States forces this through, the British Admiralty will demand 14 8,500-ton cruisers instead of cruisers ranging from 5,400 tons to 6,000 tons.

From an informed British source it was learned that the highest British financial authorities are alarmed at the prospects of the results of the naval conference causing very large increases in naval estimates, although these will not be brought forward this year but will be postponed.

Restive under attacks from home, the unhappiness of the Americans is paralleled by the distress of Mr. MacDonald and the other British delegates, who are under fire in their own political camp. This movement of revolt among the Labor rank and file increases. There are private meetings daily and the ministers are heckled. So far this has been kept out of the newspapers and within the walls of Westminster, but it is unlikely that secrecy as to the misgivings current can much longer be maintained.

British Only Hope.

There is reason to think that only one hope remains of saving the conference and getting any results worth having. The United States delegation has apparently abandoned the always unfounded hope that a consulattive agreement of any kind would make the French modify their program, but it is known that France would cut down her figures sufficiently to enable British-American parity to go through on the present figures if an agreement were signed by Great Britain in connection with a pact guaranteeing the status quo in the Mediterranean.

While hitherto there has been the strongest reason to suppose that Great Britain would refuse, and there is no real ground for modifying that verdict, the fact that this emerges as the last hope of the conference is likely to cause strong pressure on Mr. MacDonald to agree.

The following suggestion may be put forward in an effort to meet British objections to more military commitments to which the United States declines to be a party:

Why not, it will be argued, guarantee Mediterranean peace with the British fleet for five years only until the next conference meets? Nobody expects war before then, and this striking victory for France would result in concessions by her that would prevent Great Britain from building against France.

Further Plan Suggested.

This train of thought has run even further in return for scrapping paper submarines and cruisers after she gets her security pact, France might further ask that Great Britain and the United States reduce their battleship fleets to ten vessels each, and this plea would be listened to with eager ears.

The logic of this is impossible, for the formula would save everybody's face without real risk and enable the conference to succeed in a measure, but unhappily British prejudice against such commitments in favor of France has grown in the years since Locarno until it almost equals the similar sentiment in America.

Of actual developments today the conference was almost barren. The committee seeking means of humanizing submarine warfare broke up 10 minutes after it met because the Japanese had no instructions authorizing them to discuss the size of undersea craft.

The American delegation met today and so did the Japanese. Senator David A. Reed and Secretary Stimson saw Mr. MacDonald, and Senator Reed and Ambassador Tsuneo Matsudaira spent an hour together.

Mr. Stimson's cold is better, but he is still far from fit.

Rear Admiral Hilary P. Jones, retired, yesterday returned to the Capital from London, where he served as one of the technical experts to the American delegation at the naval disarmament conference. Ill health caused his withdrawal.

Among those to greet the admiral at the Union Station was Admiral Charles F. Hughes, chief of naval operations, who has just recently recovered from a slight stroke. Admiral Jones was taken at once to the Naval Hospital, where, it was said, he will undergo treatment for several weeks.

Admiral Jones appeared wan and pale. He had to be helped to the Navy Department automobile. A number of those at the station recognized him and several cheered.

STIMSON OPTIMIST OF SLASH IN NAVIES

Secretary Issues Statement to Offset Reports That Increases Are Likely.

SHIPS MEANT IMPORTANT

By ALBERT W. FOX.

The State Department has made public the text of a statement which Secretary Stimson issued in London yesterday and which promises reduction of tonnage at the London conference. It is as follows:

"There seems to be an impression that the work of the American delegation at this conference is likely to result in an increase instead of a reduction in the tonnage of the navies of the world. The surest way to answer that is to give such results as seem to be within reach up to date. The plan which in its essentials appears to be acceptable to America and Great Britain provides for a net reduction in the tonnage of the American fleet, in capital ships, cruisers, destroyers and submarines, built, building or appropriated for, of over 200,000 tons and an even larger reduction on the part of the British fleet. If vessels authorized but not commenced were included in existing fleets the amount of the reductions would be much greater.

"Of course, these reductions are contingent upon some reductions being made in the fleets of other powers."

Details respecting this reduction will be of especial interest to those senators who have been convinced that the conference was heading toward expansion or limitation and not reduction. Practically all of the reports cabled from London have indicated that no reduction, excepting the scrapping of obsolete vessels which would have been scrapped irrespective of the conference, was in sight.

If the 200,000 tons mentioned by Secretary Stimson includes these obsolete vessels, it is explained, the views of senators will not be changed. If, on the other hand, there is a tentative Anglo-American agreement to scrap modern ships or curtail construction of modern vessels the Stimson announcement will be regarded as important, especially if Anglo-American parity is to be guaranteed on this basis.

pied during recent years only at brief intervals. Owned with its contiguous tract of old plantation land by the Richmond, Fredericksburg & Potomac Railroad, the structure had been empty, a shell of the beautiful mansion that made it a showplace in bygone generations, during the last three years since the family of Edward Beckwith resided there before moving to Virginia Highlands.

Built in 1695 by John Alexander, the home was bequeathed to his sons and through four generations until it became the property of George Washington, who gave it to his stepson, John Parke Custis, the son of Martha Custis Washington. There Washington's step-granddaughter, Nellie Custis, was born.

In recent years many pilgrimages had been made to Abingdon by hundreds of school children and tourists, many of whom chipped off wood as souvenirs. Every article of value was said to have been removed before that time, however, private individuals in Richmond having salvaged the beautiful marble mantels which long graced the open hearths.

Several attempts have been made in recent years by individuals and organizations seeking restoration of the mansion. At the convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution of Virginia last year in Alexandria, the Thomas Nelson Chapter of Arlington County presented a resolution to commit the State organization to the proposal. The resolution was defeated. The Thomas Nelson Chapter, according to Mrs. William Williams, past regent of the group, declared that attempts also had been made to interest Henry Ford in the plan, but that nothing had materialized.

Mrs. Williams announced that an attempt now would be made to place a marker on the site.

ed batteries of the left as soon as today's debate opened. L. O. Frossard, speaking for the Socialists, and Edouand Herriot for the Radical-Socialists, accused the premier of inconsistency in his political conduct.

They taunted him with suborning faithless members of their own parties with portfolios in his cabinet, especially centering their attack upon M. Dumesnil, the new minister of mamine. The speakers also taxed M. Tardieu with responsibility for overthrow of the Chautemps cabinet, saying that today's declaration was essentially the same as that on which M. Chautemps had been denied a vote of confidence.

The premier replied vigorously but with good humor and with the assurance of a man confident that he had the upper hand.

15 Girls Are Hurt In Fall at School

Trapdoor Gives Way and Plunges Them Into Basement.

New York, March 5 (A.P.).—Fifteen schoolgirls plunged through a trapdoor over an ash hoist in the play yard of Holy Cross Parochial School in Brooklyn today and fell 25 feet to the basement below.

Seven of the girls, the most seriously injured, were hurried to King's County Hospital in ambulances, while ambulance surgeons from other hospitals treated the others at the school. Several had broken bones, all suffered from cuts, bruises and shock.

The girls, all between the ages of 11 and 16, were standing on the trapdoor while at a fifteen-minute recess. The door, of glass and reinforced steel, gave way and precipitated them to the basement. Several nuns dropped into the shaft to aid the screaming children.

While panic spread among the 700 pupils at the school and frantic parents of the neighborhood rushed to the scene, the nuns and brothers of the schools carried the injured girls from the basement to the first floor where an emergency hospital was established.

Parents Are Indcited In Death of Daughter

Decorah, Iowa, March 5 (A.P.).—An indictment charging murder in connection with the death of their daughter, Romelda, 14, was returned today against Mr. and Mrs. Walter Casten, of Decorah, by the Winneshiek County grand jury. The jury held the girl came to her death by poison administered by her parents.

The girl died last November and at the time death was announced as due to a cerebral hemorrhage. The stomach of the girl was sent to the University of Iowa, which returned a report that traces of poison were found. Officials took action after they learned that a $5,000 insurance policy had been taken out on the girl's life by the parents five months before she died.

Bankruptcy Petition Is Filed Against Gest

New York, March 5 (A.P.).—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed against Morris Gest, theatrical producer, today in Federal court.

The petitioners were Langdon West, claiming $2,421 for services; Robert F. Brunton, jr., $1,150 said to have been loaned to Mr. Gest, and Milton Stiefel, $750, for services. No estimate of the amount of Mr. Gest's liabilities or assets was given.

Jury Chosen for Convict Trial.

Jacksonville, Fla., March 5 (A.P.).—A jury was completed after two and one-half days in court here today for the trial of Watson Moulthrope and Roland Lalone, escaped Connecticut convicts, for the slaying of W. D. Smith, Jacksonville detective.

POLICEMAN, THUG DIE IN GUN FIGHT

Another Newark Officer and Gunman Wounded in Apartment Battle.

STICK SUBDUES LATTER

Newark, N. J., March 5 (A.P.).—Police Sergeant Robert Anderson, 35, was shot and killed and Patrolman Marion Thigpen, Negro, slightly wounded early today in a pistol fight with two negro gunmen. One of the gunmen was shot dead and the other is reported dying at City Hospital with nine bullet wounds.

The wounded gunman, who is alleged to have shot Anderson, was identified as Audley Billups, 26. The dead gunman is known as "Cokey Joe," but his name is believed to be William Merrick.

Thigpen and another patrolman, Frank Wycalek, were informed at 1:30 a. m. that the two negroes had been flourishing revolvers and had gone into a house on Barclay street On their way to the house the policemen were joined by Sergeant Anderson and two other officers. Shouts and loud voices led the squad to a third-floor apartment, where they surprised a group of negro men and women.

At Anderson's command, "stick 'em up," the man identified as Billups jumped for a rear door. He was grabbed by the sergeant, but broke away, pulling his gun. His first shot hit Thigpen and sent him to the floor.

A second shot plowed into Anderson's chest, but the sergeant kept his feet and fired three times, each shot hitting Billups. "Cokey Joe" was shot through the mouth by Wycalek and died intsantly as he tried to escape from the room.

Billups started down stairs, but Thigpen, who had recovered consciousness, caught him on the second floor and subdued him with a night stick.

Sergt. Anderson died at a hospital without regaining consciousness.

Paroled Prisoner Held As Killer of Schoolboy

Clinton, Ind., March 5 (A.P.).—Clifford Siders, 29, who is on parole from the Indiana State Reformatory, confessed in the Vermillion Circuit Court, at Newport, today, that he attacked and killed Glenn Judson, an 11-year-old schoolboy, on the streets in Clinton last Hallowe'en night. Siders, who had been sought by police for several months in connection with criminal attacks on a number of women in this vicinity, was captured in Clinton yesterday. He was paroled about six months ago from the reformatory, where he was serving a term for criminal assault.

Police had practically abandoned all hope of capturing the boy's slayer after all clues had proved futile.

Brookhart's Manager Will Run for Senate

Webster City, Iowa, March 5 (A.P.).—Maj. Frank J. Lund, of Webster City, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination of United States senator from Iowa.

Maj. Lund is a former member of the Iowa General Assembly. He was a leader in the preconvention movement in Iowa for Frank O. Lowden for President and manager of Senator Brookhart's last senatorial campaign.

ITALIANS' CONCERT GIVEN AT LIBRARY

Mme. Avertino, Soprano, Is Accompanied by Pizzetti, Composer.

SONATA IN A PLEASES

Ildebrando Pizzetti, noted Italian composer, took part in a program of his own works in a concert at the Library of Congress yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Elizabeth Sprague Coolidge Foundation. In addition to the capacity audience which heard him in the chamber music auditorium at the library, thousands more heard the concert broadcast by NAA, the naval radio station in this city.

Signor Pizzetti proved as accomplished a pianist as he is a composer, as he participated in the entire program, even playing the accompaniments for Mme. Olga Avertino, soprano, who sang five of his songs.

The program was opened by his Sonata in A for violin and piano. Adolfo Betti was the violinist and the composer the pianist in this number. In the sonata was a variety of color, glowing instrumentation and flowing melody. Signor Betti was a violinist of real virtuosity, and his work was comparable with that of Signor Pizzetti.

After the tumultous applause following the sonata had quieted somewhat, the composer appeared once more to play the piano parts for Mme. Avertino. Her beautiful voice was adequate to the songs and of mellow, sweet quality.

The final number on the program was a trio by Signor Pizzetti for violin, violincello and piano. This trio was written by Mrs. Elizabeth Sprague Coolidge, through whose generosity the Chamber Music Auditorium at the Library of Congress was built.

Alfred Wallenstein, the cellist, in the playing of the trio, compared favorably with the other musicians of the afternoon. His tone was round, vibrant and artistically phrased and his playing throughout was marked by an easy encompassment of technical difficulties.

police chief when they appear again before the Robsion subcommittee has not been determined. Mr. Rover has not completed his draft of new legislation nor definitely worked out a program. There is a feeling among some of the District officials charged with enforcement that if they are to be held up to harsh and often unfair criticism for the existence of gambling places they should be vested with drastic authority to combat gambling.

Those present at the conference, which was held in the office of Mr. Rover and which lasted for almost two hours, were Maj. Henry G. Pratt, superintendent of police; Inspector William S. Shelby, head of the Police Detective Bureau; Assistant Corporation Counsel Vernon West, representing Corporation Counsel William W. Bride; Building Inspector John W. Oehmann and Fire Marshal Charles G. Achstetter, representing Fire Chief George S. Watson.

Mr. Rover declined to discuss what happened in the conference, or to answer questions regarding possible decisions which it is believed were reached. Other participants in the conference also met similar questions with silence.

Mr. Rover explained that the result of the conference is to be communicated next Friday to Senator John M. Robsion (Republican), of Kentucky, and that he did not feel at liberty to reveal what transpired until after the report had been made.

After the hearing Senator Copeland told Mr. Rover and Maj. Pratt that if they brought in the draft of a new gambling law he would use his influence to have it passed by Congress.

Adjust Rail Rates, Let Rum Laws Alone, Ford Advises

Prohibition and Its Enforcement Are Satisfactory, But Shipping Expenses Are Too High, Asserts Magnate After Months of Study.

Fort Myers, Fla., March 5 (A.P.).—If Congress wishes to do constructive work, let its members set about adjusting railroad rates, and leave the prohibition law alone—that is the conviction of Henry Ford.

Mr. Ford's impression and the suggestion are founded on many months' study of the rate situation. He made his ideas known during an interview as he sat in a comfortable chair in the tiny office building at his Fort Myers winter estate.

"Rates are too high everywhere," he said. "Railroad officials ever so often appear with a plan that they are entitled to fair returns on their investment. I believe that the present rate structure gives the carriers a handsome but none the less unjust and exorbitant profit.

"Convoys of trucks everywhere are beating down the railroads, because of cheaper carrying rates."

Mr. Ford commented upon the fact that automobiles manufactured by his company are being delivered in Florida and in Michigan by truck because, he said, of a saving in comparison with railroad rates.

"Can you explain why rates on fruit are higher from Florida than from California, as far as large markets of the country are concerned?" he was asked.

"No more than I can explain why they are high on everything else. It looks, however, like something has been levied against Florida all the way through.

"Do you have any idea why a number of Florida banks closed their doors during the summer?"

"No, but it might have been because of railroad rates. I don't know much about banks and would not like to say definitely."

Mr. Ford spoke from personal experience as far as operation of common carriers is concerned. His company recently owned a railroad.

The automobile builder was emphatic in expressing his belief that structure of the present prohibition law is satisfactory.

"So is the enforcement of the law," came as an afterthought.

"We've had no trouble from drunkenness in our plant at Dearborn and we're right on the border," he pointed out.

The seller and the buyer of illicit liquor should be punished, Mr. Ford believes, inasmuch as he sees one as guilty of violation of the law as the other.

"It won't do any good to stir up the present situation," he responded, in answer to a question as to his opinion of recent conferences at Washington, and in other cities on the subject.

"If they stir it up they'll only get in trouble."

Bryan University Work Will Start

Construction on First Unit of Tennessee School Begins Monday.

Dayton, Tenn., March 5 (A.P.).—Directors of the Bryan Memorial University Association announced today that work will be started Monday on the first unit of a school that will be built as a monument to the late William Jennings Bryan and his fundamentalist principles. A contract was let some time ago for the first structure, an administration building, to cost $80,000.

Mr. Bryan died here in 1925, soon after engaging in a legal contest against teaching the theory of evolution in the public schools of Tennessee. He appeared as an attorney for Fundamentalists in the trial of John T. Scopes, who was defendant in the case.

Plans for the administration building specify a rotunda to serve as a Bryan memorial room. In it would be placed paintings, statuary and a portion of his library. Members of the association said the university will open in September.

Three Fliers Die As Plane Hits Hill

Accident in Rainstorm Occurs on Ranch of Will Rogers.

Los Angeles, Mar. 5 (A.P.).—Three fliers were killed on the Will Rogers ranch in the Santa Monica Mountains when their airplane crashed into a hillside last night, presumably in a sudden, heavy rain storm. The wreckage was found today.

The bodies were identified by police as those of Morey Johnson, Hollywood tailor, who piloted the plane, and E. W. LaVoie, 28, and W. G. Hogge, 35, aviators who had accompanied Johnson on what airport officials said was to have been a short "courtesy hop."

Disaster is supposed to have overtaken the trio about 5 p. m., although no one is believed to have seen or heard the plane fall.

LaVoie and Hogge had recently engaged in night flying in an illuminated plane for advertising purposes. None of the men was married.

LaVoie's mother, Mrs. John LaVoie, lives at Meriden, Conn. Johnson's relatives live in the West. Hogge's relatives were not located.

MERGER IS FAVORED IN NEGRO CHURCHES

CANVASS RESULT TOLD

A canvass of the vote of the annual conferences of the African Methodist Episcopal and African Methodist Episcopal Zion Churches conducted yesterday at headquarters of the former denomination demonstrated that each of the denominations had passed affirmatively on the question of a merger. The result of this canvass will now be sent to the bishops' council of both denominations to be submitted to various individual congregations.

If a majority of the members voting should favor the merger, it will be consummated. The rules and regulations governing the procedure to be followed were placed in the hands of a committee consisting of Dr. John R. Hawkins, R. L. Brockenburr, E. A. Eichelberger and W. C. Huesten, as subcommissioners, who shall determine the manner in which the vote shall be taken.

Three-fourths of the respective conferences of these denominations have affirmed the action taken yesterday, the result of the canvass showed.

Ill Health to Keep Fall From Trial of Doheny

El Paso, Tex., March 5 (A.P.).—continued ill health will prevent Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, from attending the trial of Edward L. Doheny, oil magnate, opening in Washington next Monday, it was said at the Fall home here today.

Mr. Fall, according to his wife, suffered a relapse brought on by the recent cold weather.

party returned to Miami from Bimini this afternoon.

Despite the fact that British authorities refused to allow the party to land on Bimini soil before its members were disarmed, the customs men and Williams searched the island without success, Lathan reported.

The theft of boats from the storage base is the third this year, it was recounted today. Directly after the first capture of the year was made in Coral Gables Canal New Year's Day, the boat in which $12,000 worth of liquor was seized, was stolen. Several weeks ago, three more boats were taken from the base, while the coup of last night brought the total for the year to twelve.

The boats stolen last night had been captured by prohibition or customs officers during various recent seizures of liquor.

FORD AND EDISON WIRE TO HELP DRY ADVOCATES AT HEARING

ditions under prohibition for the Ladies' Home Journal and said he had found that the laboring classes had increased their bank accounts, improved their home conditions and purchased automobiles, radios and other luxuries of life out of money which formerly they spent for alcoholic beverages in the corner saloon.

He presented statements from industrialists to show they felt conditions had improved greatly, but under cross-examination he conceded some unemployment and uncertainty as to whether prohibition would eliminate future economic crises. He insisted, however, that any future depressions would, in all likelihood, be less serious than in the past. The writer specified he was not discussing prohibition from a moral standpoint, but merely was presenting his observations.

Mr. Keating followed Mr. Crowther and testified "the brewer, the distiller and the dive keeper" were responsible for prohibition because they had refused to comply with regulations of the liquor traffic.

"They are corrupting enforcement officers, bribing prosecuting officials and 'fixing' courts," he declared.

Did Same Thing Before, Claim.

The Colorado man said the point he wanted to make before the committee was that the liquor men were doing the same thing on a more extensive scale for 40 years before prohibition.

"No other amendment to the Constitution," he said, "was so thoroughly debated over a long period of years as the eighteenth amendment. The liquor men, backed by most of the political machines, defended by the most widely circulated newspapers, financed by apparently bottomless slush funds, fought to the last ditch and were finally crushed by the weight of their own iniquities rather than by the skill and strength of the opposition.

"Now, ten years after the decision was rendered, they are back here boasting of their contempt for law and trying to bluff the American people with threats of civil war if they are not permitted to have their way."

The former representative said the antiprohibitionists could not muster 100 votes in the House for repeal of the eighteenth amendment and challenged the wets to place a candidate on the ticket in every congressional district next November to determine whether the country wanted prohibition.

Results of Poll Shown.

Presenting the results of a telegraphic poll he had just conducted on prohibition questions among presidents of leading colleges and Christian Endeavor Unions in 43 States, Dr. Poling said he had reached the conclusion that there was "decidedly less drinking now among college and high school students and among youth generally than before prohibition. He maintained that in every economic level the youth of the country was better off now than under preprohibition status. He stressed particularly an improvement which he said had been observed during the last two years.

Mr. Johnson's testimony dealt with conditions before and after prohibition in his home town, Louisville, Ky., which he described as the former center of America's fine whisky industry. He presented figures obtained from Roy W. Easley, director of safety of Louisville, a former prohibition agent, and Thomas B. Duncan, president of the Louisville Board of Trade; E. S. Jouett, vice president of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, to show that there had been rapid economic progress in the city since prohibition due to the closing down of most of the sixty distilleries there.

He said he did not know how many speak-easies were in his city, but that previous to prohibition there had been 436 saloons. During preprohibition days he said that the banks had tied up much their money in whisky certificates, and that there were few home owners among minor railroad employes.

Derby Day Conditions Cited.

The Kentuckian, under questioning by Representative La Guardia, said that "touts and toughs from every corner of the earth" caused conditions on Kentucky Derby day at Louisville that could not be controlled. He attacked the pari-mutuel betting laws in his State, and said he would be willing to do away with derby day if it were possible.

The drys plan to continue their attack today with Representative Burtness (Republican), North Dakota, as the first witness. He will present a statement signed by a large number of State officials and prominent citizens of his State taking issue with Pierce Blewett, a farmer, who testified before the committee that prohibition had been largely responsible for many of the hardships of farmers in that State because of the curtailed demand for barley.

P. H. Callahan, of Louisville, Ky., a business man; Louis H. Taber, of Columbus, Ohio, master of the National Grange; Mrs. Ruth K. S. Strawbridge, of Philadelphia, who is to present a poll of the social register, and C. P. Connally, of East Orange, N. J., are the other witnesses scheduled.

Throughout the day the committee room was jammed with people, several women becoming so tired from hours of standing that they sat on the floor. Every speaker was applauded from time to time.

Vote on Prohibition Planned in Rhode Island

Providence, R. I., March 5 (A.P.).—The Rhode Island House of Representatives today passed in concurrence a bill providing for submission to the people on a separate ballot at the November elections the question:

"The eighteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States. Shall it be retained?"

Passed by the Senate last week, the measure now goes to the Republican governor for signature. There is a little doubt that he will approve the measure, which was backed by his Republican administration.

A COLD

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Sunday Supper

Cup Cakes

These dainty little cup cakes will add a party touch to the simplest Sunday supper. And just see how light and tender and fresh-tasting they can be, when made with pure, sweet Crisco!

If you are accustomed to using only butter in your cakes, you may find it difficult to believe that Crisco actually makes cakes that you can't tell from butter cakes. But it's true!

One taste of Crisco itself will show you why. See—doesn't Crisco taste for all the world like fresh, unsalted butter right from the churn?

Cup Cakes

½ cup Crisco
1 cup sugar
3 eggs
1¼ cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream Crisco and sugar. Add beaten eggs and mix well. Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt and add alternately with the milk to the first mixture. Add vanilla and beat thoroughly. Pour into greased muffin or cup cake pans and bake in quick oven (425° F.) 15 to 20 minutes.

This recipe makes 15 to 20 cakes.

Filled Cup Cakes

Follow recipe for Cup Cakes. When cool split in halves crosswise and remove portion of the cake. Fill center with stiffly whipped cream, flavored and sweetened. Put halves together and ice all over with Creamy Chocolate Frosting.

Creamy Chocolate Frosting

1½ cups milk
1½ cups powdered sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 squares unsweetened chocolate few grains salt

Cook milk with chocolate, cut in pieces, over a slow fire, stirring until thick and smooth. Add sugar and cook again until very thick, stirring constantly. Cool and add vanilla and salt.

Snicker Doodles

½ cup Crisco
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
½ cup seeded raisins
½ cup currants
½ cup nuts
1 teaspoon soda
1 tablespoon hot water
2½ cups flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon clove
½ teaspoon mace
1½ teaspoons cinnamon
¾ cup sour milk

Cream Crisco and sugar together. Add unbeaten egg yolks and mix well. Add raisins, currants and nuts, cut fine. Add soda, dissolved in hot water. Mix and sift flour, salt and spices and add alternately with the sour milk to the first mixture. Fold in one stiffly beaten egg white. (Save other white for frosting.) Pour into well-greased muffin pans and bake in a hot oven (375° F.) 15 to 20 minutes.

This recipe makes 18 medium-sized cup cakes.

Frosting

1 egg white
2 tablespoons sweet cream confectioners' sugar
¼ teaspoon mace

Add cream to unbeaten egg white and mix well. Add sugar, a little at a time, until frosting is the right consistency to spread. Add mace and mix well.

These recipes have been tested and approved by cooking authorities. You will get best results by using level measurements and the ingredients specified.

CRISCO was used in the Cooking School recently conducted by this paper

Mrs. Frances Northcross, in The Post Cooking School, made a point of modern methods in cooking. Naturally, then, she used Crisco, the modern shortening. Not only is Crisco easy to use; in addition, it helps you secure better, surer results.

Benjamin Guervitz Is Fined in Hyattsville Court on Charges.

FEBRUARY LEVIES LISTED

Benjamin Franklin Guervitz, 24 years old, C street near Fifteenth street southeast, was fined a total of $350 yesterday by Judge J. Chew Sheriff in the Hyattsville branch of Prince Georges County police court. He was arrested Sunday morning by Deputy Sheriff Ralph Brown on charges of transportation and possession of intoxicants, reckless driving and exceeding a speed of 60 miles an hour.

Deputy Sheriff Brown told the judge that he began chasing Guervitz's car at Muirkirk and chased him to Beltsville, where Guervitz is alleged to have jumped from his still moving car and taken to his heels. Harold Heffner, who was riding with Deputy Sheriff Brown, ran to the car and stopped the motor, while the deputy took up the chase afoot through a cemetery and churchyard to the front door of a minister's house, firing several shots into the air in an attempt to halt the fleeing man.

The policemen said they found 480 quarts of alleged liquor in the automobile. Guervitz was fined $200 on the liquor charge, $100 for exceeding 60 miles an hour and $50 for reckless driving.

Alton Cissell, Vista street northeast, was fined $200 on charges of possession of a smoke screen, exceeding 60 miles an hour and reckless driving. He was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Brown after a chase from Berwyn to Beltsville. According to Deputy Brown, he sighted the car speeding through Berwyn on the Baltimore boulevard at a rapid rate of speed. He gave chase and finally overhauled the car at Beltsville. A companion of Cissel jumped from the car while it was traveling at the rate of about 35 miles an hour and escaped, police said.

A smoke screen outfit was found on the car which was traveling toward Baltimore, Brown said. The policeman said that he did not believe that the apparatus would work.

Clarence Mackall, colored, Columbia road northwest near Seventh street, was fined $101 on charges of driving an automobile while intoxicated. He was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Brown at Riverdale when the latter claimed he noticed that the car was wending a zig-zag path on the boulevard.

Charges and countercharges flew fast and quick yesterday in a controversy between two Riverdale town bailiffs and John Dorsey, of Riverdale, and Dorsey's mother.

Bailiffs R. W. Shiflett and Louis Porton arrested Dorsey on charges of reckless driving and exceeding a speed of 25 miles through the town. Justice of the Peace H. J. Moffat held Dorsey for action of county police court. Dorsey countered by swearing out a warrant for Bailiff Shiflett, charging him with reckless driving. Mrs. Ellen Dorsey, mother of Dorsey, then appeared before Justice of the Peace Retta Morris and swore out a peace warrant against Deputy Porton to restrain him from "bothering her boy." When the case was called in Hyattsville branch of police court yesterday, none of the participants answered and it was postponed until next Wednesday by Judge Sheriff.

Acting on information that University of Maryland students were frequenting the place and purchasing liquor, County Policeman Claude Reese and Deputy Sheriff Ralph Brown early yesterday raided a house in College Park and arrested Richard Beckwith, alleged proprietor.

Police found 48 pints of alleged beer and 3 pints of alleged liquor, they said. Eight men and two women were having a party at the house when they arrived, the police said. Beckwith was held on $500 bond by Justice of the Peace H. J. Moffatt for action of the county police court on charges of possession of liquor with intent to sell. The hearing is set for next Wednesday at Hyattsville.

Fines and costs totaling $2,662.45 were collected in the month of February by the Prince Georges County Police Court, according to the report of Thomas R. Henault, clerk of the police court. Motor vehicle cases totaled $1,165, and this sum will be deducted and forwarded to the commissioner of motor vehicles at Baltimore.

Fines in other criminal cases totaled $1,194, with $136 costs and $167 in costs for motor vehicle cases, making a total of $1,497.45 to be deposited in the county treasury.

The court heard 227 cases in February and disposed of 222, leaving 5 cases pending at the end of the month. There were 119 cases docketed at Hyattsville, 77 at Upper Marlboro, 14 at Laurel and 20 at Capitol Heights in February.

Cumberland Votes In City Primaries

Result of Tabulation of Ballots Is Announced by Officials.

Special to The Washington Post.

Cumberland, Md., March 5.—The result of the unofficial tabulation of the city primary election returns yesterday show Samuel Wertheimer, Herbert L. Blye, Joseph H. Griffin, John G. Shearer, Howard E. Chaney, George W. Legge, jr., Thomas G. Pownall and William H. Shaw, nominated as candidates for councilmen. Counciman Herbert L. Blye, was renominated. Harry Grimm, Joseph W. Young, Ploswald Weber, were eliminated from the councilmanic race, as were Councilmen Clifton W. White and Frank Billmeyer, who sought renomination. The eight nominated will go on the election ballot Tuesday, March 18, when the four highest will be chosen.

There was no contest for the mayoralty nomination. Dr. Thomas W. Koon, incumbent, and City Commissioner Charles F. Heller were the only aspirants. They were automatically nominated and their names did not appear on the primary ballot.

Girl's Nose Is Broken By Wife, She Tells Court

Clarksdale, Miss., March 5 (A.P.).—Miss Mae Ross, 22-year-old stenographer, testified in circuit court here today that Mrs. K. A. Carney, wife of a Clarksdale lawyer, attacked her the night of February 11 and broke her nose upon her return with Mr Carney from an automobile ride.

Miss Ross, who was employed by Mr. Carney, said Mrs. Carney also inflicted severe bruises and cuts and resulted in her being confined in a hospital for ten days.

CEMETERY COMPANY FACES LEGAL ACTION

Prince Georges Group Says Baby Was Buried Prior to Obtaining Permit.

PROJECT OF $1,000,000

M. Hampton Magruder, counsel to the Prince Georges County commissioners, yesterday was directed by the board to "take such legal action as will be necessary to prevent a continuance of the violation" of the cemetery act which the board charges against the Northwest Cemetery Co., Inc.

The cemetery company has advertised that it expects to spend several million dollars in developing the Washington Memorial Park, a 100-acre tract near Takoma Park, as a cemetery. It is alleged that the company buried an infant in the tract several days before an act passed by the last State Legislature which required a permit from the county commissioners before a cemetery could be established.

J. F. Lillard, president of the cemetery company, declared recently in a statement to the county commissioners that the burial was merely a precautionary measure inasmuch as the cemetery company was organized and incorporated and had purchased the property prior to June 1, when the law became effective.

The commissioners decided to take action when they were informed by their attorney that the cemetery company had "undertaken to sell lots in violation of local laws." The question probably will come before the County Circuit Court at its next term which begins in April. The commissioners claim that the burial of the infant was merely a subterfuge to circumvent the action of the law. The cemetery company claims that the burial established the area as a cemetery.

'Panther' Innocent In Attacks on Hogs

Farmer Gets $43 Award as Dogs Are Blamed for Damages.

With the decision yesterday by Prince Georges County board of county commissioners that dogs had attacked the hogs of Harry Fowler, Forestville farmer, last month, the panther scare which had nearby Maryland up in arms for several weeks was officially declared "null and void."

The county commissioners awarded the sum of $43 to Fowler from the dog tax fund for the damages sustained by his hogs, thus officially joining the band which hooted derision at the panther theory from the first.

Fowler believed that a panther had been at work but later decided that it was dogs and put in a claim for $80 damages.

Father's Plea Saves Son From 30 Days in Prison

Special to The Washington Post.

Bedford, Va., March 5.—Leonard Patesel, son of H. P. Patesel, of Roanoke, and employed at the Norfolk & Western shops in Roanoke, was tried before Mayor J. Gallaway Brown this morning, charged with driving a car while intoxicated. He was fined $50 and given a jail sentence of 30 days, but on account of his father's plea and the age of the youth, about 18 years, the jail sentence was suspended. His driver's permit was revoked for a year.

The car, a Ford roadster, is said to belong to the boy's father. Young Patesel was arrested last night.

Dr. Johnson Named on School Board.

Man Is Dead Following Knife Duel on Street

Special to The Washington Post.

Lynchburg, Va., March 5.—Richard Scott and Alfred Jones, Negroes, fought a knife duel Sunday night at 53 Ninth street, until they were so weak they could scarcely stand when the police arrived, the fight resulting in Scott's death today.

Jones is still at Lynchburg Hospital and has a chance to recover. Charge against Jones was changed to murder today. It is not known what the duel was over.

Berryville Mission Groups Will Meet

World Day of Prayer to Be Marked by Special Service.

Berryville, Va., March 5.—Immediately after Ash Wednesday services, which were held in Grace Episcopal Church by the rector, the Rev. Dr. Louis Tucker, this morning, a meeting of the woman's auxiliary of this church was held with Mrs. F. B. Whiting in the chair. The chair announced that as Friday of this week had been designated as a world day of prayer by the Council of Women for Home Missions and the Federation of Women's Boards of Foreign Missions of North America, she had arranged that such service be held in this church on that day and that the missionary societies of the other churches would join as before.

Mrs. E. Jaquelin Smith, vice president of the woman's auxiliary for the diocese, would have charge of the meeting. As this branch of the auxiliary with the branch from Christ Church, Millwood, will be hostesses, the second week in May, to the annual meeting of the auxiliaries within the diocese of Virginia, committees were formed preparatory to that meeting.

Mrs. John B. Neill was appointed chairman of the hospitality committee and Miss Agness Page, of Millwood, vice chairman. About 15 delegates are expected to attend this meeting.

Slemp Calls Suit For $2,700 Outrage

Former Coolidge Aid Cited as Defendant in Fraud Claim.

(Associated Press.)

C. Bascom Slemp, former secretary to President Coolidge, said yesterday that inclusion of his name as one of seven defendants in a suit filed in Bristol, Tenn., to recover $2,700 from the Aud Life Saving Suit Corporation of Virginia was an "outrage."

Mr. Slemp said he has never had any connection with the Aud corporation. He added that a former partner of his, Judge John W. Davis, of Washington, at one time acted in a legal capacity for the concern, but "there is not the slightest reason why I should have been named as a defendant."

Representative Reece (Republican), Tennessee, who was also named in the suit, was absent yesterday, but Judge Davis, who said he had no connection with the corporation save to draw up its charter, asserted that Mr. Reece had no interests in the company or its affairs.

W. M. Kay, who brought the suit, claimed that the purpose of the corporation was to "defraud" through the sale of worthless stock.

Staunton Ranks Low In Crime in Virginia

Special to The Washington Post.

Staunton, Va., March 5.—This city ranked next to lowest among the cities in Virginia giving January crime statistics to the New York office of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

This organization's first uniform crime report shows that nine cities in this State are cooperating, and the number of major cases in each during January follows: Bristol, 18; Charlottesville, 3; Norfolk, 48; Petersburg, 19; Roanoke, 21; Staunton 4; Suffolk, 26; Hopewell and Salem also cooperated, but their information was incomplete.

HIGHER DUTY ON SUGAR.

In one of the few times when it was right the Senate coalition has been beaten, and the Republican sponsors of the tariff bill have succeeded in attaching to it the most unpopular item in the whole list. The sugar duty is to be increased. The Senate vote is obviously the outcome of logrolling activities, which may have their effect also on the lumber and petroleum items. Apparently a few coalition members found their patriotism oozing in the face of tempting offers of tariff favors to their States. The regulars, on their side, seem to be ready to swallow bitter doses of oil and sawdust for the sake of tasting a little sweetening.

If the Senate had attached to its vote for a higher sugar duty a limitation upon imports of Philippine sugar, there would be some prospect that the increased duty would help the domestic industry. But with Philippine free sugar production stimulated by the added handicap placed upon Cuban and other foreign sugar, the domestic sugar industry merely faces a new and dangerous competitor.

American consumers are to pay an added and unnecessary price for sugar, which does not go to the protection of the domestic industry. Beet sugar can not reach the Atlantic seaboard in competition with Cuban or Philippine sugar. The market for beet sugar is restricted on account of freight rates and the cost of production. Although consumers will pay the increased duty to the last cent, the farmers who raise sugar beets can not be expected to receive any benefit from the duty. Huge increases of duty-free sugar from the Philippines may be looked for. But the consumer will not obtain cheaper sugar. Importers will make sure that the price will stay up, and the domestic industry, however anxious it may be to furnish cheaper sugar, can not do so.

NEW YORK'S NEW TRAFFIC RULE.

New York City pioneered the use of automatic traffic signals. Now it is about to pioneer a reform that should be generally adopted. As soon as appropriations are made available, all existing lights will be altered so as to provide an all-red signal system for pedestrian protection. Instead of an amber signal to signify a change of direction, red lights will glow simultaneously in all directions to signify the change, halting all traffic and giving the pedestrian an opportunity to clear the intersection.

The amber light that is used as an intermediary signal in Washington and in most cities, is not effective. There always has been a tendency to race through the green and amber, and to start on the red and amber. So long as only the red is visible, however, motorists stay in their places. Red means "stop!" and is so interpreted. An all-red intermediary system would protect the pedestrian.

The New York police department has been experimenting with the all-red intermediary system in certain intersections and has found it so definitely superior that an appropriation of $500,000 has been requested with which to make the change. Similar modification of the local system would be wise.

EATEN UP BY ARMIES.

China plays no part at disarmament conferences, yet remains militarized. Reduction of armaments in this case is an internal problem, the most serious with which the Nanking government is confronted. The military chiefs still have a firm grip on China, and they continue to sap the vitality of the whole country.

Finance Minister T. V. Soong has once more called the government to account for its vast military expenditures. His report shows that about half of the entire budget is devoted to the expenses of civil war. Military outlays during the last fiscal year totaled $209,000,000 compared with $28,000,000 for expenses of civil government. These figures do not include the cost of the military in eleven provinces that maintain their own armies, nor the amount spent by the war lords who have been in rebellion against Nanking.

Added to the warning of Minister Soong is a telegram from Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang, Governor of Manchuria, to the effect that "the recurrence of internal strikes, famines, natural calamities and banditry has reduced the country to a state of extreme exhaustion, and another war at the present juncture would threaten the existence of the nation." Nevertheless the opposing forces are preparing for the annual spring military campaigns.

War in China is a very convenient profession. It is pursued only when the weather is right and everything contributes to its success. Last fall the Nanking forces under President Chiang Kai-Shek brought the rebels to a sudden halt and hostilities were suspended for the winter. Now that spring is opening after a hard winter the war lords are becoming restless. Gen. Yen Hsi-shan, famous leader of the opposition against the government, is again on the war path. He has ordered his army to move southward, and clashes with the Nanking troops may be expected soon. The people of China, already famine-stricken, pay the bill.

TRIAL WITHOUT JURY.

The recommendation of the Law Enforcement Commission that petty prohibition cases be tried without juries has brought about a movement to have all minor infractions of Federal law tried before United States commissioners. Representative Christopherson, chairman of the House subcommittee which failed to agree on the commission's proposal, has introduced a bill providing for trial of misdemeanors under all Federal statutes without juries.

While this new plan is obviously an improvement over the method recommended by the commission, it is by no means certain that it will not run into constitutional difficulties. Mr. Christopherson suggests that the Government set up a system not dissimilar to the State police courts or justices of the peace. The right of initial trial by jury would not exist for trivial law violators. It may be claimed that this plan is constitutional, in view of the Supreme Court's decision that there may be a class of petty or minor offenses which might by act of Congress be tried without a jury. On the other hand, the court has voided statutes which provided for trial without full juries, even in the case of misdemeanors.

The difficulty into which this measure runs is in setting up a dividing line between petty and major offenses. Obviously the line between felonies and misdemeanors will not serve. The Supreme Court has decided that some offenses, such as violating a revenue statute or acting as a peddler without a license, need not be tried by jury, because they are not crimes. On the other hand, the court held that a conviction under the prohibition act, providing a sentence of twelve months in jail and a fine of $1,000, must be tried by jury.

Before this measure could be enacted with the assurance that it would not be thrown out by the Supreme Court it would be necessary to go through the whole category of Federal criminal law and designate which offenses are crimes and which are not. In the end the number of cases in which jury trials may be constitutionally abolished might prove so small that legislation of this kind would be a waste of time.

THE FIGHT ON ILLITERACY.

Criticism by the American Federation of Teachers' of the illiteracy campaign sponsored by the National Advisory Committee on Illiteracy is needlessly severe. It impugns the motives of Secretary Wilbur in striking a broadside blow at ignorance of the English language. If the Federation of Teachers disapproves the methods by which the problem is being attacked, it has a right to say so. But nothing can be gained by referring to the campaign as a political gesture.

Secretary Wilbur occupies a distinguished position in the educational profession. It is folly to suppose that he contemplates ridding the country of illiteracy in six weeks merely to make an excellent record in the next census. It is more reasonable to suppose that Dr. Wilbur is taking advantage of a psychological moment to advance the cause against ignorance. Few people like to be classed as illiterate in a national census. Now that the time is near when they will have to face the census takers many who have heretofore been disinterested will make a special effort to learn to read and write.

If the 24 lesson course sponsored by the National Advisory Committee results in stimulating interest in literacy it will have accomplished a worthy purpose. It was hardly necessary to point out that such courses can not remove the pall of ignorance from American life. But it will be a start that may be followed up with effective results. The very fact that the committee is making a survey of the whole subject with a view to promoting a Nation-wide campaign indicates that the present method of giving elementary lessons is an expedient designed to introduce a more comprehensive program.

PRESERVATION OF BIRDS.

The nations are beginning to discourage and prohibit continued indiscriminate slaughtering of birds. Twenty years ago little thought was given to the harm that might result from the killing of birds by meat and feather hunters. Slight attention was paid to what effect the disappearance of bird life would have upon food and forest crops and upon the advance of the insect menace, as well as the increased growth of weeds. Now the value of birds is better understood, and they play an important part in the economic welfare of all countries where they are protected by law.

Twenty countries on five continents are now united upon bird protection. They realize that migratory birds know no boundaries and that it would prove ineffective to protect them in one country and not in another. Some of the Asiatic countries are joining in this preservation move. In recent years Japan has established 64 state and 380 prefectural bird sanctuaries for the protection of song, insect-eating, migratory and sea birds. The birds in public gardens, along highways and in the cemeteries can not be molested.

The international committee on bird preservation deserves much of the credit for this world-wide movement toward preservation of bird life. This organization was established about the time Canada and the United States concluded their migratory bird treaty.

THE RETIREMENT BILL.

The substantial majority by which the House enacted the retirement bill vindicates those who sponsored the measure and supported it through the days when it was attacked by a vociferous minority of Federal employes. The bill now goes to conference, and there is good reason to believe it will emerge virtually intact. Neither the Dale bill, which was passed by the Senate, nor the Dale-Lehlbach bill, the House measure, fully solves the difficult problem of Federal employe retirement. The latter measure, however, is by far the more generous and equitable; it will provide relief to the largest number and it will become a basis upon which a scientific and more generally equitable retirement system can be worked out.

The Dale bill rigidly limited annuities to a $1,200 maximum. It was designed to favor what may be termed the middle-scale workers. The Lehlbach bill is more generous with respect to the maximum annuity, basing it upon the salary and service of the employe and enabling the worker in the higher pay brackets to obtain an annuity in keeping with his salary. President Hoover objected to the Dale bill on the ground that it discriminated against a large number of employes. It was his objection that silenced the agitation against the Lehlbach bill.

The defects in the Dale bill having been illuminated, there is no danger that the Senate conferees will push the Senate bill in the conference.

Administration leaders have set March 17 as the date for enacting the tariff bill; as a tribute, no doubt, to St. Patrick Harrison.

In view of recent developments, one may be pardoned for wondering how enough alcohol is diverted to industry to keep the wheels turning.

A BRITISH ADMIRAL'S VIEW

By SYDNEY R. FREMANTLE, Admiral, R. N., In the London Times.

The issues before the five-power conference appear to be crystallizing, and the time to be opportune for a brief comment from one of those who believe that a powerful British navy is an essential necessity, first as the principal insurance for the continued existence and prosperity of the British Empire, and, secondly, by its enhancement of British power and prestige, as the most effective contribution to European, if not to world, peace which it is in our power to make.

The fundamental principle which we advocate is that the strength of the British navy should be decided by the British Empire alone, and not by international agreement. It should be the business of the government of the day, which is responsible to the country for national security, and should be determined solely by our own requirements and our own obligations. This principle, that nations should be their own judges of the strength necessary to them, has been upheld by the French in their clear and logical statement; it is implicitly supported by the Italians; it has not been seriously controverted by the Japanese.

By word and deed we submissively concede this principle; America does so by word, but not by deed. The very calling of the conference, the apathetic interest shown by the country in the vital issues at stake, and the general, though somewhat vague and unenthusiastic, desire expressed in the press for the success of the conference (a success which appears to be obtainable only at the cost of successive British sacrifices), seem to indicate that our first trench has been lost, and that in the future the strength of the British navy is to be the result of a coordinated opinion of the delegates of five nations whose naval needs and obligations vary widely among themselves and differ radically from our own, and none of which has, as we have, been founded, developed and maintained by sea power.

No conclusive answer has been given to the question why, if the government of the day in 1927 considered that 70 constituted our minimum requirement in cruisers, they are now content with 50. Admittedly as risk of war diminishes, insurance premiums can be reduced. One great event only, the Briand-Kellogg pact, has in the past two years affected the risk of war. But the pact includes no guarantees for its enforcement, and its originator is building a fleet for which it is difficult to conceive an object other than that of supporting her policy. If 23 cruisers in the Indian Ocean and 17 in the South Atlantic were required to locate and bring to action a single cruiser in each of those seas, how can it reasonably be contended that a strength of 50 is not ludicrously insufficient for the needs of reasonable safety of our manifold trade routes in the Seven Seas together with the scouting service of the main fleet of capital ships?

Apparently we are to be content with approximately 150 destroyers. In the Great War some 140 destroyers were required solely for service with the grand fleet and its advanced element of light forces based at Harwich. Another 20 or so were required at Dover, an indication of the strength in light craft which will always be required for warfare in narrow seas. We finished the great war with 390 destroyers, yet we never had enough, and at one time were losing for want of them one ship in every four of those maintaining the communications of the Saloniki army. Had our destroyer force not been reinforced at a critical moment by a most efficient flotilla from the United States, nothing could have averted a serious crisis in our fortunes. There seems little chance that the submarine will be abolished; if there were, possibly our destroyer requirement might be considerably reduced. But no agreement as to the use of submarines is likely to prevent an enemy from doing his utmost to drain the life blood which flows to us from overseas, our food, our oil, our raw materials.

In conclusion, may I remind your readers in the words of Lord Fisher that an initial naval disaster in war is irreparable, irretrievable, and eternal, that naval strength, whether in personnel or in material, can not be extemporized, and that injudicious reductions of our navy have invariably been succeeded by panic building programs to the detriment both of national economy and naval efficiency.

HAPPINESS.

In youth they dreamed of happiness and fancied it to be A vague and shadowy distant joy, too far away to see.
They talked it on their wedding day and down along the years
As if there is some special day when happiness appears.

They slaved and toiled to start the home wherein their babes were born, Together round the garden they would putter, night and morn.
"Some day, if fortune comes," said he,
"we'll surely happier be."
"We'll have a maid to do the work and one to cook," said she.

Their ship came in as time went on,
but still they looked away.
They had not found the perfect peace that could outlive the day.
For they had grieved and they had wept, and they had bowed to care,
And wheresoever they had gone, anxiety was there.

Now looking back across the years,
"What fun we had," says he,
"In that first little house of ours; how trim it used to be."
Says she: "I think I'd like to live
those struggle years again,
With all their doubts and all their debts, for we were happy then."

The Theories of Men Will Work When the Men Do.

By ROBERT QUILLEN

FOR ages men have dreamed of a land in which all shall work for the common good and every man's reward shall be equal to his neighbor's.

Experimental Utopias of that kind have failed for want of authority.

In each instance the dreamers pooled their resources and energies and fared well until one of them lost interest and decided to eat his share of the bread without doing his share of the labor.

And because no one had authority or power to punish his disloyalty or require his cooperation, his bad example was the beginning of a contagion that ended in disaster.

The Russian experiment will fail for an opposite reason—because power alone maintains a semblance of cooperation and the majority would rebel if it dared.

Yet there is a golden mean between these two extremes of Utopian anarchy and brutal autocracy, and in that golden mean is the ultimate hope of the world.

Given the will to cooperate and an established authority sufficient to require cooperation of the occasional spoil-sport, nothing could prevent the success of an economic brotherhood.

More and more the very rich are learning that surplus wealth is enjoyable only when it is used to benefit mankind.

Picture the civilization that can result when all men learn that lesson.

Every man, whether physician or carpenter, artist or cook, will work for the state—for the whole people—and not one will receive money in return.

Instead of a money reward, there will be community dining rooms, clothing and furniture depots, hospitals, doctors, dentists—a service to supply every human need without cost.

There will be no need of money, for a man with none can obtain as much as he could obtain with thousands.

There will be no competition in making a show, for there is no food for vanity in a possession the humblest neighbor can duplicate.

There will be no theft or trickery, for men will not steal if they are free to take.

There will be no crimes against property, for there will be no property.

Each man will labor a few hours each day, doing the thing he is best qualified to do, and each can take as reward anything that he needs.

The able will direct; the unfit will share in the community abundance; the rebels and the indolent will be confined and fed sparingly until they see the beauty of good sportsmanship.

That is ultimate civilization; but unfair and greedy men won't build it, nor will firing squads establish it before the time is ripe.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

MR. HOOVER'S FIRST YEAR.

President Hoover has completed his first year in office. The results have not been bad. He has caught a 45-pound sailfish, taken off ten pounds at handball, put the Mayflower out of commission, put the Rapidan on the map as a trout country, given the Washington Fire Department two of its best workouts in history and been pretty busy in every respect.

* * * *

"The Man in the Green Hat" has been arrested, horseback riding as a presidential hobby has been pretty well discredited, the hair shirt has been put across as the outstanding novelty of the gents' furnishing business, and the biggest huddle of industrial leaders in history has been held in Washington.

* * * *

Among the big things in the President's favor is the fact that he has at no time appeared in Indian or cowboy costume since taking office. Agents with Indian headgear have been given the gate and not a picture has appeared in press or newsreel showing Mr. Hoover with a wan smile trying to look like Chief Blue Eagle.

* * * *

He has not been serenaded once by cowboys from the movie camps, nor has he posed for the photographers pitching hay. That's something.

* * * *

His first year in office has given the country the Wickersham report, the Babe Ruth salary holdout, the Scott-Sharkey fight, the Graf Zep flights, grandeur pictures, the naval disarmament parley, Art Shires and the first world championship in years to the Philadelphia Athletics.

* * * *

Mr. Hoover, too, has been the first President to introduce an entire running backfield of secretaries. Other Presidents have had one secretary, but Mr. Hoover uses three, which is in itself no mean trick.

Amos and Andy, the radio stars, may be credited to Mr. Hoover's administration, too—and the lighter golf ball.

* * * *

All in all, it's been a fair first year, October and November excluded. Of course, to put Mr. Hoover over in a big way the country needs either a war or a Mississippi flood, or something like that, but the results so far have been as good as could be expected.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Retrocession of Virginia Portion of District of Columbia Necessary and Inevitable.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Arlington County must be returned to the District of Columbia.

It was just plain a b c logic when the Father of His Country, in his great foresight and wisdom, decided, when the location of the Capital of these United States was determined upon, that it should occupy a site extending on both sides of the Potomac River.

The slicing off in 1846 of the Virginia portion of the original District of Columbia was not a calmly and judicially considered move by Congress. This detachment of a vital and necessary part of the District of Columbia was obviously a hasty and ill-advised step, taken at a time when the Capital City was yet in the infancy of its development. It was truly a deplorable case of snap-judgment.

Today it is hard to understand how Congress, as such, could have allowed itself to listen sympathetically to the tempest-in-a-teapot agitation of a small bloc of narrow-minded individuals then living only in the Virginia portion of the District of Columbia.

The fear of the loss of their slaves on the part of a few influential persons then living in the Virginia portion of the District of Columbia had much to do with this cleavage. The few slave owners involved entertained the fear that unless they succeeded in breaking away from the District of Columbia their slaves would be freed by Federal legislative action.

Should the narrow prejudices and point of view of a few locally-residing persons of those early days in 1846 be permitted to stand as a permanent bar to the large-scale, orderly and proper development of the Nation's Capital City?

To keep Arlington County out of its logical place as a part of the scheme of the City of Washington is to discredit the wisdom and reflect on the memory of George Washington.

Let the short-visioned controversialists stands aside, for the inevitable must in due time become a reality. And it is believed that this "reality" will not be long delayed.

The interests of both the Nation's Capital City and the State of Virginia are deeply concerned in this retrocession question; and posterity will surely acclaim the wisdom of the accomplishment of this momentous event.

Too Many Boards and Commissions Sapping the Powers of the States.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I am not an alarmist, but with every thoughtful citizen, when I contemplate how far we have wandered from the governmental system our fathers left us, and see the tendency to centralize all power in Washington, administering it by bureaus, boards and commissions, and, also, the tendency to take over all the powers and duties of the individual States, and through bureaus or commissions control all commercial and industrial activities of the individual citizens, I am forced to the belief that unless a halt is called a "government of the people, by the people and for the people" will soon cease to exist.

Originally we were a combination of States, the States having well-defined powers, duties and privileges, with a central government of limited powers. The central government has been assuming the duties and usurping the powers of the individual States, until little is left to the States except the geographical lines defining their jurisdiction.

Several of the laws are undisguisedly communistic, while others contain traces of that evil in many of their provisions. Others are purely socialistic. The eight-hour law, abridging the right to contract, a thing forbidden by the Constitution, is communistic. Child labor and compulsory education laws are socialistic. It is a part of the socialistic creed that children be taken under the control of the Government.

Having delegated much of its legislative powers to the several boards, bureaus and commissions, Congress has degenerated into a body of Peeping Toms, running around seeking for something to investigate. The subjects of investigation range from the building of airplanes to the marketing of peanuts. Nothing is too small or too insignificant for congressional investigation.

Monroe Doctrine Not Understood in South America—Wrong Kind of News From the U. S. A.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Your editorial, "The Monroe Doctrine," should be translated and sent to all Latin-American newspapers, and especially South American papers.

The man, who reads and runs, in those countries can not be argued out of the idea that the Doctrine (la Doctrina Monro) is not a clear statement of North American ambitions to grab all of Latin America. When they are told what the document is and the circumstances which produced it, they do not believe what you say.

By the way, what was the matter with the Monroe Doctrine when Great Britain grabbed British Honduras from Guatemala?

If American syndicates which sell news to Latin papers would cut out a lot of the crime and sensational stuff that is printed in those countries, and would send facts about things they should know, those countries might be educated a little more than they are, and we would be much more respected.

Consumer Must Pay Higher Prices If Farm Board Plan Succeeds.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Why should the Farm Board buy up millions of bushels of grain to boost the price to the producer at the expense of the consumer? This looks like class legislation, unless the consumer is also taken care of. As it is, the common people are hardly able to buy the necessaries of life. They are telling the farmers to cut acreage, make food and cotton products scarcer and therefore higher to the consumer.

TWO GARAGES SHUT BY PADLOCK ORDER

Places on L and Fourteenth Streets Northwest Closed in Rum Conspiracy.

DURATION OF ONE YEAR

Acting on an order signed last week in District Supreme Court by Justice Wendell P. Stafford, United States Marshal Edgar C. Snyder yesterday padlocked for one year premises at 2101 Fourteenth street northwest and 1319 L street northwest.

The two garages were formerly occupied by Herbert Glassman's rent-a-car and sales and service stations. Action by the Government to padlock the premises followed charges that the prohibition law had been violated in each of the buildings. Owners of the property sought to have the Government's petition for padlock dismissed, but were unsuccessful.

Herbert Glassman, his brother, David Glassman, and ten other men are now under indictment charging conspiracy to violate the prohibition law at the two garages.

The Glassman garages were reestablished at other locations several weeks ago and the padlocked premises have been occupied by other concerns since then. However, each had been vacated when the marshal affixed the locks, which under the terms of the court injunction will remain for a year.

COMMUNISTS PLAN WHITE HOUSE PARADE

find bars and bore the subscript, "Defend Class War Prisoners."

Weapons to Be Shunned.

About 30 persons, mostly colored, formed the group that listened to impromptu speeches yesterday at the headquarters. The demonstrators were cautioned to bring no weapons with them today; but the speakers emphasized that the workers "will defend themselves against 'police brutality.'"

Maj. Pratt has announced that the police will not interfere if no parade is held. "If they violate any law," he said, "we will have to act. We are not anticipating any difficulty."

At the White House it was said by the Secret Service man in charge that no extra precautions were being made for today. Local police will handle the situation.

No Official Notice Given.

Attorney General Mitchell announced yesterday that he had not been officially informed of any purpose on the part of Communists to have unemployment protests today. No plans are being laid by the department for combating Communists. United States guards will be on the alert for violations of the law or any attempted attack on Government buildings or officers. Department of Labor authorities will be on guard to arrest persons not legally in this country with a view to deporting them.

Police are being assigned for immediate duty in the Third and Second Precincts in case of any disorder. A squad of 25 men will be stationed at the Third Precinct and will be sent to the White House to prevent any disorder.

Squad Near Headquarters.

Capt. O. T. Davis has assigned a squad of his own command to duty near the Communist headquarters to maintain order. In the past the vicinity of the Communist headquarters has been the center of subversive activity.

In addition to this Inspector William S. Shelby will have a group of plain-clothes men at headquarters in readiness for action should any disorder occur.

So long as the demonstrators assemble peaceably there will be no disorder, police say, but if any attempt to stage a parade is made without a permit, police have been instructed to interfere.

Three white girls, not over 18 years old, were painting placards yesterday at the headquarters which will be used in today's demonstration.

The activity of the group is being financed by the Unemployment Council of the Trade Union Unity League.

On the eve of the world-wide demonstration Representative Fish, of New York, yesterday introduced a resolution in the House for an investigation by the House of communistic activity in this country.

Mines Will Be Guarded Against Reds' Meeting

Moundsville, W. Va., March 5 (A.P.).—Deputy sheriffs were called to guard coal mines at Powhatan, Ohio, today when picketing was resumed at mines where employes recently were in a strike. The strikers returned to work last week.

Sheriff Ford Moore said he would have his entire force and 30 special deputies on duty tomorrow because of reports he had received that Communists were planning to hold a meeting there in observance of "international unemployment day."

The Listening Post

By CARLISLE BARGERON

THE term "Grundyism" has been shouted so loud as to be heard in the most remote corners of this country, and perhaps even abroad. It is supposed to denote something sinister, some monster that would absolutely wrest the poor people out of house and home.

The Democrats and the Progressives have vied with one another in denouncing the man from whose name the term was derived. Indeed, it came to be such a menacing cloud that even the Old Guard shrunk from it in the open.

"Keep quiet," they admonished the old man. "It is not that we do not believe as you do but those Democrats and Progressives have made such a piercing, shrieking thing out of your name that it will be embarrassing, politically, of course, unless you remain inconspicuous. There is your seat over there but for goodness' sake don't get up on your feet."

* * * *

WELL, now, there arises the serious question as to whether the Old Guard should not embrace Mr. Grundy, place him at their head and front and say quite proudly: "Here is our issue. Grundyism is our creed. It means consistency and political integrity. We ask you to compare him with what has been going on in the Senate the past few weeks."

We are quite serious about this. Mr. Grundy has sat in the Senate now for several months and he must have thought he was in some market place, in some mart of barter and trade.

He has heard senators beat their breasts about their principles until it came to getting a tariff for their State. He has seen such flip-flops as can occur only in a circus and the United States Senate.

And not once has the question of whether his State benefited from a proposed increased tariff rate been the determining influence in his vote.

* * * *

THE senator seems to know only one word, indeed, when an increase is proposed, whether it is for Florida, Arizona or New Mexico. And that word is "aye."

He has voted "aye" for Nebraska products while one after another of his cherished desires went down before the coalition attack. He has voted "aye" for the products of Florida, of Texas, of the great Middle West.

When the two Oklahoma senators, after ranting against the Eastern wealth for many months, suddenly came running in like truant kids and asked for a rate on oil, he put his arms around them and voted "aye." He voted "aye" for a tariff on lumber, and his State has hardly a tree.

To those gallant coalitionists who sheepishly said they would like to join the Old Guard in the little matter of sugar, he said: "Of course, you would," and voted "aye."

There are cynics who say "But ah, there is a slick method in his consistency. He reasons that if he keeps doing this the coalitionists will vote for some of the things he wants."

Well, it would seem that, as a matter of simple decency and to maintain their self-respect, they should—vote for all of them, in fact.

GRUNDY WORKERS TOILING IN SENATE OFFICE, CLAIM

corridor, but at the opposite end of the building from 322.

Among those who utilize Room 322 as a headquarters are Arthur L. Faubel, of New York, secretary of the American Tariff League; John Lerch, of the New York firm of Lamb & Lerch, attorneys for the league; and Warren F. Doane, of Philadelphia, long Senator Grundy's right hand man in Pennsylvania affairs and editor of "The Manufacturer," organ of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association, formerly headed by Senator Grundy. There are also clerical and stenographic assistants and the office presents the appearance of being busy.

Once Had Office Down Town.

Before he was appointed to the Senate, Mr. Grundy maintained an office in a downtown building under the name of the American Tariff League News Bureau. He told the Senate lobby committee that this office had cost him about $2,000 a month since January, 1929. The downtown office is closed and inquiry elicted from the superintendent's office the information that it has "moved to the Capitol."

At the office of the American Tariff League in another room of the same office building formerly occupied by Grundy's News Bureau, it was said that Mr. Doane could be reached at Senator Grundy's office in the Capitol.

Telephone callers to room 322 are greeted with the announcement, "Senator Grundy's office." Inquiries for Messrs. Faubel and Doane brougth the response that they were out at present, but that any messages would be received for them. It was suggested at room 322 that perhaps they could be reached at room 333, Senator Grundy's official office.

Faubel Lauded Grundy's Action.

When Mr. Faubel appeared before the lobby committee several weeks ago he gave whole-hearted indorsement to Senator Grundy's previous testimony classifying Western and Southern States as "backward Commonwealths," whose senators should talk darn small" on tariff matters, "because they haven't any chips in the game."

Mr. Faubel also suggested that he would like to see the Senate remodeled into something resembling the British House of Lords, with only a limited veto power over the actions of teh lower house.

Mr. Doane was at one time associated with the enterprises of J. A. Arnold, of the American Taxpayers League, the Southern Tariff Association, the National Council of State Legislators," which Senator Blaine (Republican), Wisconsin, has characterized as "lobby racketeering."

Hotel Burglar Suspect May Face Murder Quiz

Little Rock, Ark., March 5 (A.P.).—Police here announced today that three employes of the Arlington Hotel at Hot Springs had identified Carl R. Ashton, held as a suspected hotel burglar, as a man who was taken several months ago in an elevator to the floor of the hotel on which Preston Austin, wealthy Texas cattleman, was slain a short time afterward. The employes picked Ashton out of a group of prisoners, police said.

Rewards totaling $22,000 have been offered for the capture of the slayer of Austin, who was strangled to death in his hotel room.

$500,000 in Morphine Seized as Liner Docks

New York, March 5 (A.P.).—Morphine valued at about $500,000 was seized on pier 57, North River, foot of West Fifteenth street, leased by the French Line, late last night, it was learned today.

The drug was in two large trunks apparently owned by a first-class passenger on the liner Ile de France, who had left the vessel a few minutes before. No arrests have so far been made.

Troopers Guard Prison To Prevent Outbreak

Rahway, N. J., March 5 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—Seven State troopers were stationed at the New Jersey State Reformatory here today to prevent a threatened riot between Negro and white prisoners, which was feared as an aftermath of a flat fight yesterday.

Commissioner William J. Ellis, of the department of institutions, who arrived here today to look over the situation, said that the situation was well in hand and that the troopers had merely been called to show the prisoners that the authorities intended to maintain discipline.

Young Vanderbilt Taps Disobedient Taxi Man

Mexico City, March 5 (A.P.).—When a taxi driver insisted on taking him out toward the country despite his repeated orders to drive him to his hotel, Cornelius Vanderbilt, jr., who carried a small blackjack for purposes of defense, struck the chauffeur a light tap on the back of the head with it last night.

The chauffeur thereupon stopped the car and called a policeman who escorted Vanderbilt to his hotel. The chauffeur denied he intended to harm his passenger.

TEXTILE EMPLOYES AND PICKETS CLASH

Walkout of Workers From Tennessee Mills Is Being Sought.

PISTOL SHOTS ARE FIRED

Elizabethton, Tenn., March 5 (A.P.).—J. C. Donnelly, president of the local of the United Textile Workers of America, today said pickets would be instructed to continue their activities in trying to enlist aid of employes of the American Bemberg and American Glanzstoff plants to join them in a walkout.

Donnelly's statement followed a clash between pickets and workers in the Stoney Creek section, 12 miles from here, today, during which Landon Estep, an employe of the big rayon mills, fired two shots.

No one was injured, although the pickets pelted a cab in which Estep sought to continue to work with rocks, breaking the glass windows.

Donnelly said pickets were entitled to protection, and added, "Any private citizen has a right to carry a gun when his life is endangered."

None of the pickets were armed today, said Bob Cole, who is directing their activities. Cole said the pickets were following their usual activity or trying to enlist workers in a walkout.

Warrants which William Fair, deputy sheriff, in charge of officers guarding the two rayon mills, said would be issued for a number of pickets on the ground that they had violated a section of an injunction curtailing their activities, had not been served late today.

There was no disturbance as the workers for the 3 o'clock shift went on duty. Mill officials continued their reports that the strike called Monday by the local of the union had not affected their operations.

The injunction granted Monday night by Chancellor S. E. Miller, in Carter County Chancery Court, enjoined pickets from operating on any highway in Carter or any other county which was used in transporting workers to and from the mills.

The strike was called in protest against a "stretch out" system, which union officials said had increased the work of employes in the mill and had resulted in several hundred being dismissed.

Estonian General Shot By Overzealous Sentry

Riga, Latvia, March 5 (A.P.).—Gen. Tirvand, chief of the Estonian general staff, was severely wounded and his aid de camp, Maj. Ibrut, was killed by an overzealous sentry at Reval, whose challenge to halt they had disregarded.

The inhabitants of Reval were aroused early this morning by sirens, church bells and rifle fire. Within ten minutes every street corner was occupied by members of the defense force, who learned later that the alarm was merely intended to test their efficiency. The sentry who fired apparently had not been warned and took the alarm seriously.

Steamer France Drifts With Broken Propeller

Toulon, France, March 5 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—A broken propeller is holding the French Line steamer France, with several hundred passengers aboard, in Mediterranean waters outside this port. The damage occurred when the vessel was several hours out from Cannes, en route to Algiers.

Omission of that African port from the France's scheduled stops will bring the steamer to New York one day earlier than she was expected to dock there.

Mothers of Dead Veterans Organize

100 Who Lost Sons in the World War Plan to Promote National Society.

New York, March 5 (A.P.).—A hundred women who lost one or more sons in the World War met today and banded into the American Gold Star Mothers, an organization which it is planned to make the nucleus of a national society.

Mrs. Mathilda Burling, of Queens, who called the meeting and who was elected chairman, told the organizers that the association's primary aim will be to keep alive the memories of the members' dead sons, but that it also will sponsor legislation for the benefit of its members and aid them in taking advantage of benefits already provided by law.

The society will center its organization efforts for the present in New York State.

Behind the Screens

With NELSON B. BELL

FROM Andy Sharick, managing director of the Rialto Theater, has come the following self-explanatory note:

"After the close tonight (Thursday) of Glenn Tryon in 'Dames Ahoy,' the Rialto Theater, at Ninth and G streets, will close down for a few weeks for repairs and sound treatment. It will reopen very soon with Universal's greatest production, "The King of Jazz Revue,' starring Paul Whiteman and his band and featuring at least fourteen of the greatest revue acts ever seen on either stage or screen.

"The Whiteman picture will be followed by John Bowles and Laura La Plante in 'La Marsellaise,' and that, in turn by another Universal picture that has been in the making for many, many months. This is 'All Quiet on the Western Front,' a camera rendition of the sensational war book by Remarque.

"The Whiteman vehicle and the war drama have cost Universal a fortune to make. It is said that the 'King of Jazz Revue' is now considerably past the $2,000,000 mark in production cost and is not even yet quite finished. Its release date is April 7, but it may reopen the Ninth Street house before that time."

As this is written late Wednesday afternoon, the race for proxies in the Fox controversy seems to have proved closer than was anticipated, with adjournments, legal moves and countermoves still further clouding the issue. Late private information is to the effect that each side claims approximately 300,000 votes and that both are in favor of the new financing scheme known as the Bancamerica-Blair plan. I am still pulling for Fox—not that it matters.

There seems to be something of corrobation of our last Sabbath's contention that the stage revue has largely outlived its usefulness as a part of the program in theaters ostensibly dedicated to the motion picture in the scramble for "name" stars to feature them.

With the Palace going in strongly for mazda monickers and Fanchon and Marco doing the same for the Fox, John J. Payette, the Warner Brothers' general manager in the Washington territory, has adopted a strict policy of offering only special stage attractions of the first rank at the Earle. Nick Lucas, contrary to expectation, will make his first appearance on Thirteenth street at the Friday midnight performance, a Pittsburgh engagement terminating tonight in time for him to make the jump and get in in time for rehearsal tomorrow. The future books should lay you at least 8 to 5 that his biggest hit will be "Tiptoe Through the Tulips."

The complete roster for next week, by the way, is somewhat to this effect: Metropolitan, beginning tomorrow, William Powell and Kay Francis in "Street of Chance," said to be based on the unsolved Rothstein case; Palace, Marion Davies in "Not So Dumb"; Earle, Douglas Fairbanks, jr., and Loretta Young in "Loose Ankles" and Nick Lucas in person; Columbia, William Haines and Leila Hyams in "The Girl Said No"; RKO-Keith's, "The Case of Sergeant Grischa," with Chester Morris and Betty Compson, second week; Fox, all the Fox contract players in "Happy Days," second week.

"Happy Days," incidentally, did the biggest day's business in the history of the Fox Theater last Monday, both in money and number of people in attendance. It is running far ahead of all preceding attractions, including both "The Cock-Eyed World" and "Sunny Side Up," in number of patrons, but nevertheless is running second to "The Cock-Eyed World" in receipts by reason of Labor Day's holiday prices. It may catch it, at that.

As an earnest of his willingness to promote Washington's every civic interest, and particularly to aid in putting the Capital on the map operatically, William Fox, so I am led to believe, this week placed his final O. K. on the proposal to turn over his F street theater for three days in April for the presentation of four grand operas.

The theater is to be relinquished upon a basis that can return the Fox corporation no profit, the arrangement being that the house be given only an even break and assured protection against an actual loss.

Now let's see your diamond horseshoe!

The first test of Washington's interest in the "Newsreel Theater" idea was made at the Savoy Theater last night when the first of its so-called "Variety Nights" was put on. The bill was devoted entirely to short-reel subjects and omitted the usual feature picture. This policy is to be continued each Wednesday night for some weeks to come and it will be interesting to note upper Fourteenth street's reaction to the innovation.

It comes to these aged ears that "Bill" Ring, well-known Washington newspaperman, is to desert the Fourth Estate to accept a position in the publicity department of the Warner Brothers' local theaters, under the direction of William C. Ewing, also a "Bill," who deserted the newspaper game to grow into his present post.

Twenty-five years ago yesterday, at the age of 3, I took up my residence in the City of Washington and it doesn't seem a day over a century!

NATIONAL

Two more triumphs were registered yesterday by the Stratford-Upon-Avon Festival Company in the National Theater.

At matinee, the company presented "Julius Caesar," with Wilfred Walter turning in a masterful funeral oration in his role as Marc Antony. It was the first time the elocutionists of the company held full away, and they went after the Shakespearean text hammer and tongs. Notable work was done by Kenneth Wickasteed, in the title role; Roy Byford, as Casca; George Hayes, as Brutus, the noblest Roman of 'em all, and by the one woman who had a chance, Miss Joyce Bland, as Portia. 'Twas she who rated so high as Juliet on Tuesday night.

At the evening performance the troupe turned to the opposite end of the scale and presented "The Merry Wives of Windsor," with Roy Byford as Sir John Falstaff—and there was never quite a Falstaff like this. All during the engagement Mr. Byford has stood out as a star in his own right, illuminating even the lesser roles. When they handed him Falstaff he found meat to feed upon, and food to his liking. Miss Mary Holder played Mistress Ford and Miss Fabia Drake played Mistress Page. The company entered into the spirit of light-heartedness and gave one of their finest performances.

Tonight the Stratford Players will essay "Hamlet," with George Hayes as the Melancholy Dane.

Fifth Ave. Fashions NEW YORK

CAPTIVATING school dress with fluttering plaited skirt of novelty wool crepe in navy blue ground printed in vivid red tones, is illustrated in Style No. 8162.

The neckline is just too smart for words with attached tied collar of plain navy blue crepe. It is so sophisticated, and yet so youthful.

A belt of the plain navy blue crepe marks the normal waistline.

This jaunty little dress comes in sizes 8, 10, 12 and 14 years.

For the miss of 8 years, it takes but 2⅛ yards of 35-inch material with ⅜ yard of 35-inch contrasting.

It will especially interest mother for it is so entirely simple to make.

The bodice is in two sections and is seamed at sides and shoulders. The two-piece skirt is then pressed into plaits and attached to the long-waisted bodice. It is now ready to set the sleeves into the armholes and stitch the collar at neckline.

French blue wool jersey with matching faille silk crepe collar is fetching.

Pique print in capucine tones on beige ground with tie collar of self-fabric.

Sailor blue linen with white sheer linen, yellow cotton broadcloth with brown polka-dots with plain brown belt and tie and feather weight tweed in Spanish red tones with matching faille crepe tie are ideal selections.

Too Much ACID

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion, as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

Senor Tellez To Return as Dean of Corps

Ambassador of Mexico Will Be Ranking Diplomat.

By JEAN ELIOT.

WHEN Senor Don Manuel Tellez, Ambassador of Mexico to the United States, returns to Washington next week from Mexico City, he will step into the role of dean of the Diplomatic Corps from which Dr. Hernan Velarde, Ambassador of Peru, will retire, after enjoying the honor briefly, on sailing for Europe tomorrow. Dr. Velarde, who succeeded to the post with the retirement of the British Ambassador, Sir Esme Howard, has been detached from the embassy in Washington and will spend a year's leave of absence abroad, later resuming his diplomatic career.

M. Jules J. Jusserand, who spent 22 years at the French Embassy in Washington, was dean of the Diplomatic Corps for over a dozen years. But since his day the "turn over" among ambassadors in Washington has been so high that one dean has trod almost upon the heels of another.

Senor Don Juan Riano, Ambassador of Spain, who succeeded M. Jusserand in the coveted post, broke with his government shortly afterward, resigned from the diplomatic service and, with his American-born wife, settled down in this country to make their home. The quondam Belgian Ambassador, Baron de Cartier, who came next to the post, had filled it but briefly before the was transferred to the Court of St. James. Then came Sir Esme Howard to be dean of the corps for a few short but fruitful years, and Dr. Velarde to serve only a few weeks.

It looked for a time as though Senor Tellez might be slated for a cabinet post in the administration of Senor Ortiz Rubio as President of Mexico, but it has now been officially announced that he is to return to Washington and, with Senora de Tellez, he will start north within the next few days. They have been in Mexico to attend the inauguration ceremonies.

Senor Tellez has been in the diplomatic service for over 25 years and has been a conspicuous success in the role of Ambassador to the United States. Affable and humorous, he is popular with his colleagues and with those Washingtonians with whom he has had contact. Senora de Tellez is rather retiring by disposition, but is very winning and is beloved by those who know her best. She is one of the youngest hostesses of the ambassadorial group.

The "heir apparent" to Senor Tellez as dean of the Diplomatic Corps is the Ambassador of Italy, Signor Giacomo de Martino.

Mrs. Grosvenor Backus, who entertained at luncheon yesterday at the National Woman's Country Club, had as guests Mme. Varela, Lady Broderick, Mrs. William Floyd Crosby, Mrs. Terence Shone, Mrs. Cortlandt Parker, Mrs. Edward Stafford and Mlle. Adele Varela.

Although the news had already been widely heralded in the press, the Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Franklin Hartman, of New York, have sent out cards announcing the marriage of their daughter, Mrs. Edna Hartman Guild, and Mr. Horace Hampton Westcott, of Washington, which took place on March 1 in Frederick, Md. The announcements were received by their many friends in Washington, where Mr. Westcott and his bride will make their home.

Miss Harriet Sawyer, executive and educational secretary of the Associate Alumnae of Vassar College, will be the guest of honor and speaker at the Twentieth Century Club tomorrow at 11 o'clock at Barker Hall, Y. W. C. A. Building, and will speak on "The Summer Institute of Euthenics at Vassar." Miss Sawyer has planned educational conferences for the alumnae home, which was given to the college by Mrs. Avery Coonley and her sister, of New York. She received her master's degree from Columbia University and has been on a speaking tour throughout the country on the subject of Euthenics. She is now the guest of Mrs. Avery Coonley. Miss M. Pearl McCall, assistant attorney general for the District of Columbia, will speak before Miss Sawyer on "The Coming Codification Conference on Nationality at The Hague."

Swiss Envoy and Wife Sojourn in New York.

The Minister of Switzerland, Mr. Marc Peter, went to New York yesterday, where he will be joined today by Mme. Peter. They will return to Washington Sunday.

Mme. Simopoulos, wife of the Minister of Greece, and her small son, John, will go today to Aiken, S. C., for a short stay. The Minister, who went to New York yesterday, will join them in Aiken later.

Gen. Charles P. Summerall, chief of staff, U. S. A., and Mrs. Summerall, canceled the dinner they were to have given last evening in honor of Vice President Curtis, as the Vice President is withdrawing from all engagements because of the illness of former President Taft.

Mrs. Arthur H. Vandenberg, wife of Senator Vandenberg, has left for Philadelphia and will sail today on the S. S. Republic for a cruise in the West Indies. Senator Vandenberg and Miss Barbara Vandenberg have remained in their apartment at the Wardman Park Hotel, where Mrs. Vandenberg will join them in two weeks.

Mrs. Vandenberg is accompanied on the cruise by Miss Antoinette Donnelly, of New York.

Chief Justice Buys Home on R Street Here

Mrs. Hughes in New York to Shut Her Dwelling.

The Chief Justice and Mrs. Charles Evans Hughes have purchased the house at 2223 R street into which they will move in May. Mrs. Hughes is now in New York, where she went on Monday to superintendent the closing of her house and the shipping of her furniture to Washington preparatory to establishing a permanent home here. Since coming to the Capital Chief Justice and Mrs. Hughes have had an apartment at the Mayflower.

The sale of this pleasant house, next door to the home of the Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Adams, to the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court was made by Miss Laura Harlan, daughter of the late Justice Harlan, who served on the Supreme Court Bench with Chief Justice Hughes while he was associate justice.

Chief Justice and Mrs. Hughes purchased their new residence from Mr. and Mrs. Jan van den Bosch, who had bought it a few months before from Mrs. Frothingham, widow of Representative Louis Frothingham, and the house has been occupied through the winter by Miss Helen Cannon, daughter of the late Mr. Joseph G. Cannon, long Speaker of the House. At one time the house was the home of Dr. and Mrs. Cary D. Langhorne.

When Chief Justice and Mrs. Hughes first returned to Washington there was talk of their taking over the house in Kalorama Road Circle, which Mr. Charles Evans Hughes, jr., purchased when he came to town as Solicitor General, but probably this proved to be inadequate to their needs.

Mrs. Ellis, wife of Representative Edgar C. Ellis, entertained at luncheon yesterday at the Roosevelt Hotel, in honor of Mrs. Herbert Hadley, widow of the former governor of Missouri. In the company besides Mrs. J. H. Roy, of Chicago, who is also visiting in the Capital, were Mrs. Harry B. Hawes, Mrs. Leonidas C. Dyer, Mrs. Frank Crowther, Mrs. Joe J. Manlove, Mrs. Milton A. Romjue, Mrs. U. S. Guyer, Mrs. John J. Cochran, Mrs. Jacob L. Milligan, Mrs. Henry F. Niedringhaus, Mrs. David Hopkins, Mrs. Charles E. Kiefner, Mrs. Thomas J. Halsey, Mrs. Roland C. Johnson, Mrs. John W. Palmer, Mrs. Allmon, Mrs. James L. Baity, Mrs. Paul Bestor and Mrs. Elton Marshall.

The Military Attache of the French Embassy, Brig. Gen. Raymond Casanave, is passing a few days in New York at the Ritz Tower.

The Military Attache of the Cuban Embassy and Senora de Prieto are passing several days at the Ambassador in New York.

Diplomats Return From Camden Trip.

The First Secretary of the Peruvian Embassy, Dr. Santiago Bedoya and the First Secretary of the Chilian Embassy, Senor Don Oscar Blanco Viel, have returned from Camden, N. J., where they went several days ago to attend the inauguration of a new steamship route from New York to Chilean and Peruvian ports. The Santa Clara, recently launched, is the fastest ship to make the trip.

Mme. Paul Lessinoff has sent out cards for an afternoon at home on Sunday, the third in a series she has been giving. With her on Sunday will be her cousin, Miss Farrar, of Erie, Pa.

Lieut. George P. Howell, of Fort Eustis, Va., and Mrs. Howell are in town for a few days, having come for the wedding of their cousin, Miss Louise Ladue and Lieut. Gordon Hall, U. S. M. C., which took place Tuesday.

Dr. and Mrs. James Brown Scott have returned to Washington after an extended stay in Havana, Cuba.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Hendrickson motored from Willmar, Minn., and are now making the Cavalier their home.

Mrs. William Fitch Kelley has canceled all social engagements for this week because of illness.

Mrs. Huntington-Kidd will be at home this afternoon from 5 to 7 o'clock at her home in Georgetown. Assisting Mrs. Kidd will be Mme. de Lagnel and Miss Margaret Louise O'Brien. No cards have been issued.

Wed to Marine Officer

Harris & Ewing.

MRS. GORDON HALL, bride of Lieut. Hall, U. S. M. C. Until her marriage on Tuesday she was Miss Louise Ladue. She is the daughter of Commissioner and Mrs. William B. Ladue.

Mrs. Harris Crist Is Rockville Visitor.

Mrs. Harris Crist, of Brooklyn, who has been in Cuba and Florida for most of the winter, is now the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard L. Nicholson, at their home near Rockville. She will visit Mrs. John Pitcher at her apartment in the Jefferson before returning to Brooklyn.

Representative and Mrs. Frank Foss have been joined in their apartment at the Hotel Roosevelt by their daughter, Mrs. O. E. Ringquist, and her baby, Sibyl Ann, of Boston. Mr. Ringquist, who is on a trip to Texas, will join his family in a week and with them will return to their home in the North.

The University of Michigan Woman's Club will hold its monthly luncheon tomorrow at the A. A. U. W. Club House.

Col. Thomas Fairservis, of New York City, is at the Carlton for a few days, accompanied by Maj. J. I. Hanscom, also of New York.

Mrs. Frederick Kampfert entertained Tuesday at a birthday luncheon in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Charles B. Sinclair, the guests remaining for bridge. Among the guests were Mrs. Garnett Brown, Mrs. James Brett, Mrs. Richard Sinclair, Mrs. Anna Brown Massey, Mrs. Edward O. Kershansen and Mrs. Frank Noske.

Mrs. Harry Lee Rust, jr., Announces Lecture.

Mrs. Harry Lee Rust, jr., chairman of the committee of the Junior League, arranging the series of lectures given each Monday at the Willard at 4:30 o'clock, announces that Alice Van Leer Carrick, author, lecturer and well-known authority on antiques, will lecture next Monday afternoon, her subject being "Next to Nothing House."

A group of prominent matrons is sponsoring the series, which the league is giving to raise money to carry on its work in the child welfare department of the Children's Hospital.

Capt. and Mrs. Arnold Are Luncheon Hosts.

Capt. and Mrs. Clarence L. Arnold were hosts at luncheon yesterday at the Mayflower, having as their guests Capt. and Mrs. A. W. Johnson, Capt. and Mrs. William O. Baggaley, Commander and Mrs. Andrew S. Hickey and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Orme.

Capt. Arnold is the former naval attache to the United States Embassy in Argentina. He and Mrs. Arnold have been guests at the Mayflower for a week.

Miss Charlotte Freeman Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Watson Freeman Clark, will leave Washington next week for New York and will sail on March 18 for Haiti to visit her uncle, Capt. Harry Brown, U. S. N., and Mrs. Brown.

Lectures Set By Dames for Coming Weeks

Dr. Goodwin to Talk at First Event on March 12.

Fascinating slides of Virginia and Washington, with illuminating talks by widely known speakers, feature the series of lectures announced by Chapter 111, Colonial Dames of America, for the benefit of Wythe House which will be inaugurated with a talk by the Rev. W. A. R. Goodwin, D. D., on March 12, at 4:30 o'clock at the Washington Club. The Rev. Mr. Goodwin will tell of the restoration of colonial Williamsburg.

Three additional addresses on succeeding Wednesdays include an illustrated discourse on "Mount Vernon and the Historic Potomac," by Mr. Paul Wilstach on March 19; "An Imperial Caprice," with slides by Mr. Alexander Wilbourne Weddell on March 26; "The Future of Washington and the Bicentennial," also illustrated, by Dr. Charles Moore, chairman of the Fine Arts Commission, on April 2, and "Russia of Today," with slides, by Dr. William E. Hughes, of Philadelphia, which will be held on Saturday evening, April 12, at 8:30 o'clock. The five lectures will be held at the Washington Club.

The series constitute an annual program of Chapter 111, and this year is being directly furthered by Mrs. John Rutherford, Mrs. J. Harry Covington and Mrs. Montgomery Meigs Macomb.

The officers of the chapter include: Mrs. John Rutherford, president; Mrs. Walter Rupert Tuckerman, first vice president; Mrs. Charles Stuart Alden, second vice president; Mrs. Robert Giles, secretary, and Mrs. Albert M. D. McCormick, treasurer.

On the board of managers are: Mrs. Arthur D. Addison, honorary member; Mrs. Charles Stuart Alden, Mrs. Copley Amory, Mrs. William Eaches Fendall, Mrs. Robert Giles, Mrs. McCormick Goodhart, Mrs. Ralph Jenkins, Mrs. Montgomery Meigs Macomb, Mrs. Albert M. D. McCormick, Mrs. John Rutherfoord, Mrs. Walter Rupert Tuckerman and Mrs. Marinus Willett.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Crowther, of Bayside, Long Island, are guests at the Willard for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Lincoln, of Scarsdale, N. Y., are guests at the Powhatan for several days.

Mrs. Elorzo Tyner and her daughter, Miss Peggy Tyner, have moved to the new addition of the Wardman Park Hotel, where they plan to make their home.

Refugee Benefit Concert Is Tonight.

Society is expected to respond to a call to aid Russian refugees now located at Sofia, Bulgaria, by a large attendance to the concert being arranged by Mr. Maxim Karolik at the home of Mrs. Henry F. Dimock tonight at 9:30 o'clock. Mr. Howard Moran is treasurer.

Mr. Karolik will be assisted ably by Mr. Henri Sokolov, who has arranged a number of solos for the violin, and by Mr. Robert Gotta at the piano.

The proceeds of this concert will be used toward building a general hospital and several small orphan asylums for the refugees who have been in dire need since the war.

The junior committee includes Miss Elise Alexander, chairman; Miss Ellis Bostrom, Miss Katherine Carlisle, Miss Vittoria Catalani, Miss Nina Deneen, Miss Betty Thorpe, Miss Laura Tuckerman and Miss Adele Varela.

The list of patronesses include Senora de Ferrara, Mme. Claudel, Mme. Debuchi, Viscountess d'Alte, Mme. DIAL FLASHES

By ROBERT D. HEINL

MICROPHONES located for test purposes on a farm near Pittsburgh, in selecting the new KDKA site, often picked up the crowing of roosters.

It was a surprise when, at the conclusion of Senator Borah's address in the Women's International Peace League, the announcer said: "You have just been listening to Rabbi Abram Simon."

AMOS takes the part of King Fish, we are told, by the simple expedient of talking closer to the microphone in a slightly lowered tone of voice; to revert to his role of Amos, he steps back a few feet and resumes his natural voice.

Station WMAL, using only 250 watts power, now heard with clarity in Baltimore, seems to indicate that the old dead spot between the two cities is no more.

Station WBAL, Baltimore, with 10,000 watts, is, at times, almost as good as another local station here.

"I WISH most earnestly, in a prominent place, you would censure Station WRC for cutting short the Sunday afternoon service of the Washington Cathedral, not even permitting its listeners to hear all of Bishop Freeman's sermon," writes K. L. Bissell. "This act is certainly most irreverent and sacrilegious."

As explained by Edwin N. Lewis, executive secretary of the cathedral, although every effort was made to conclude at 5 o'clock Sunday, at which time a commercial hour goes on, it was found impossible because of the second annual patriotic service which was being held in the cathedral under the auspices of the Society of Sponsors of the U. S. Navy.

A part of the service was an impressive massing of colors at the altar, which took considerable time out of the broadcasting period. So, getting off to a late start, Bishop Freeman ran a little overtime, with the station cutting him off at 5 o'clock, about five minutes before he had finished.

Formerly the cathedral broadcast ran until 5:30 o'clock, but since WRC took on the commercial hour the broadcasting has terminated 30 minutes earlier.

IF you want something a little different, tune in on the six-day bicycle race in Madison Square Garden at 10 o'clock tonight from Station WMCA, New York. Also the station will cover the race at 9:30 p. m. tomorrow and 10:30 p. m. Saturday, at the finish.

Station WMCA is located on the frequency of 570 kilocycles, between KSD, St. Louis, and WEEI, Boston.

The chairman of the British Broadcasting Corporation, Lord Clarendon, has been quoted as declaring:

"We never give the public what they want, but we try to educate them in wanting what we give them."

Dare Interprets the Mode

The line of loveliness and an odd side decolletage created in white crepe with strass incrustation. (Courtesy of Mag-Helly, Paris).

Paris, March 5.

WITHIN six weeks one will know what the fashionable woman has accepted or rejected. And how is that? Well, within these six weeks we will have the showings of the collections again—meaning the styles for summer and early fall.

One does not have to be quite such a prophet as one had to be before the last collections, because it was then that the questions:

How long?
How short?
How rotund?
How tight?

Where will the waistline be? were the bane of our existence!

But now the final arbitrater, the fashionable woman herself, has given or withheld her approval from a sufficient number of ideas to enable the couturiers to guide their subjects accordingly.

• • • •

So it is quite safe to say that the midseason collections, now being designed, will show: Skirt lengths—short for sports, longer for tailleurs, medium and long for afternoon, depending upon the formality of the dress, and long for evening; a waistline with a tendency to depart upward from the normal, the bodice modified to suit the average woman; a subtle femininity in furbelows and frills; tulle, net, lace and printed chiffons for the dance floor; tweed effects in silks for daytime wear.

• • • •

"Pouf, who cares about a sun-tan back now!" thinks charming little Mrs. Mag-Helly, as she designs the delightful evening gown illustrated for you today—and nonchalantly covers up the middle of the back in favor of an exaggerated side decolletage!

• • • •

An Easter outfit a la Dah-ray, oh, so chic and inexpensive and practical for spring, summer and even fall! There's a tweed dress, then a little jacket, which makes the dress and jacket become a suit, then a three-quarter length coat, which makes an ensemble—you'll like it, so better send that stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare Department of The Washington Post for the illustrated leaflet that tells you how to make it!

• • • •

You'd catch your breath, too, at the delightful charm of the cunning little ermine cape-collar of Heim inspiration, which fooled around and did all kinds of amusing things by way of being utterly and irrefutably different as a finishing for an evening coat! It's sketched today, too.

• • • •

I don't know what some of us are going to do about it—pray that the material buyers have the good taste to give us a chance, I suppose! Because matching in anything is no longer the mode, while harmonizing is imperative. The three-material ensembles commence, as a rule, with a plain tweed in sober colors for the coat, followed by a striped material with the introduction of colors for the skirt, and a corresponding jersey, often in plaid effects, for the blouse. But all three are in the same colors and shades of colors, and one can never imagine for a moment that they don't belong together.

• • • •

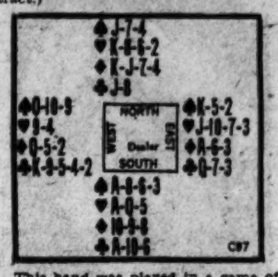
WORK ON BRIDGE

MISPLAYED HANDS I HAVE MET.

(The play in this hand would be the same at both Auction and Contract.)



This hand was played in a game of Contract Bridge. South bid one No Trump; West passed; North, with a count of 9, bid two No Trumps, and East passed. South, with a count of 18 (2 more than the minimum for his initial one No Trump) bid three No Trumps, which obtained the contract.

Had the hand been played at Auction Bridge, three passes would have followed South's initial one No Trump.

In the play West started with his fourth best Club. The Declarer played dummy's Jack, East covered with the Queen and South won with the Ace. Declarer then attempted to establish a long Heart in dummy by leading three rounds, winning the third in dummy, but the attempt failed, as East had four Hearts. When West refused the third Heart lead, Declarer led a Diamond from dummy and West won with the Queen. Then West, appreciating that Spades was the most promising suit, led the Ten through Dummy's Jack. Dummy covered, East played the King and South won with the Ace. South led a second Diamond, which East won and cashed his good Heart. East then led and Club and West, having the King-Nine over South's guarded Ten, was able to make the remaining tricks with Clubs and Spades, so Declarer went down four—a severe loss.

The Correct Play.

In several respects the Declarer played the hand very badly. On the first trick there was no point in playing the Jack of Clubs from dummy. If closed hand had held Ace and two small, the Jack would have been the correct play, but with the Ten in the closed hand, it was folly to play the Jack unnecessarily. With a small Club played from dummy and with East playing the Queen, South could win and the suit still would be stopped. Declarer should not then attempt to make up the Hearts (a seven-card suit headed by Ace-King,Queen should be held in reserve). South's lead to trick 2 should have been a Diamond. North finessing unless West covered with the Queen. In any even that lead would establish three Diamond tricks for the Declarer. When the Ace of Diamonds wins, West's Clubs will be established, but that will give Declarer a second Club trick, so that he will make in all one Spade, three Hearts, three Diamonds and two Clubs —game.

What Today Means to You

"PISCES."

IF March 6 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m., from 5 p. m. to 6 p. m., and from 10:30 p. m. to 11:30 p. m. The danger periods are from 7 a. m. to 8 a. m., and from 4 p. m. to 4:50 p. m.

The astrological indications for this date are none too favorable. An unsettled feeling will prevail and a certain anxiousness as to what is to happen. It would be best to move slowly until the fog of uncertainty lifts—sunset should bring a change for the better.

Children born on this March 6 will be persistent, ambitious, and actuated by high ideals. They will be sociably inclined, and pleasure loving. They will feel great adaptability, and will feel at home anywhere and with any one.

You should have both a happy and healthy life, for you are always busy. You are seldom puzzled over the questions of what to go, for your interests are too varied and too vital to permit either idleness or boredom. Yours is not the sort of "busy-ness" that innumerable people exhibit, by rushing about in an aimless way and exhausting an enormous amount of energy. You work systematically and with a purpose. You have many creative hobbies which fill up your so-called leisure hours. Although you concentrate on the thing of the moment, yours is not a one-track mind. Your many avenues of thought and action give you the required exercise to keep mentally and physically fit. You do not, however, have enough relaxation. You never completely "let go," and you can never "just sit."

You are not lacking in veneration, and you have a great regard for customs. You are strongly interested in all that is beautiful, ideal, sublime, and have respect for religious observances. Your horoscope shows that you have a deep love of home, family and society. You do not have a suspicious nature, and you are always ready to give everybody the benefit of a doubt.

Successful people born March 6:
1—Elizabeth Barret Browning, author and poet.
2—Ring Lardner, author.
3—Edward Morris, packer.
4—Michelangelo, artist.
5—Philip H. Sheridan, soldier.

COLDS AND BABIES.

(Children's Bureau, Department of Labor.)

Babies are frequently the victims of cold in the head, because of their thoughtless exposure to some one suffering from this complaint. All colds are contagious and isolation of the baby from them is necessary if spreading is to be prevented. Infection is usually contracted from the sneezing or coughing of some careless person or by unclean hands and handkerchiefs. Too warm living or sleeping rooms, too heavy clothing, too little outdoor air, or exposure and chilling or enlarged adenoids help to make young children susceptible. Since many of the contagious diseases begin with sore throat or a running nose it is important to isolate all babies with colds.

If the mother has a cold she should make every effort to protect her baby from taking the cold from her. She should wash her hands thoroughly before handling the baby or preparing his food. If she is nursing the baby she should cover her mouth and nose with four thicknesses of cheesecloth or surgical gauze while the baby is nursing or while she is bending over and caring for him.

Colds in the head cause difficulty in breathing. Two or three drops of liquid vaseline in the nose three or four times a day help to keep the passages clear and make breathing easier. Rest in bed is an essential part of the treatment of every bad cold, but the room should be well ventilated and not overheated.

Fat Folks Eat Less Than the Thin

A Gland Is Weak

VERY often we find that fat people eat less than thin people. They are naturally careful in their diet. So it is evident, generally, that something else causes excess fat. There is usually an under-active gland. Modern physicians, in treating obesity, seek to supply the deficiency.

The factor they use is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. It largely explains the results. A book in each box of Marmola gives the formula and states why it leads to reduction.

Marmola is prepared in a famous medical laboratory, to deal in the right way with excess fat. People have used it for 22 years—millions of boxes of it. They have told the results to others, until people now employ it in a larger way than ever.

Do what those people have done. Don't starve, don't over-exercise. There is danger in both. Let Marmola supply the gland factor which is probably too scant. Watch the results for a little while, in lower weight, new health and vitality. Those results will tell you if this is the right way for you.

Do this for your own sake, for your family and friends. If your condition is abnormal, correct it. Go try Marmola now.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 a box. Any druggist who is out will gladly order for you.

Browns Have Spirit, Lack Punch

Only 2 Positions on Club Open But Hitting Seems Weak.

Mere 27 Players on Squad With Scouts Seeking Ivory.

This is the fourth of a series of first-hand Associated Press stories on major league baseball prospects.

By BRIAN BELL.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 5 (A.P.).—The St. Louis Browns form a happy family—all for one and one for all—but they would be willing to trade just a little of their peace and harmony for three or four .300 hitters.

The Browns have the spirit but lack the punch. When the question of pitching comes up, they can hold their heads up with any club in the league.

However, when the talk shifts to hitting they have to move back to make room for some of their more robust neighbors, such as the Tigers, Athletics, Yankees and Indians.

Bill Killefer, promoted from coach to manager of the Browns but formerly a manager in his own right with the Chicago Cubs, is sure to do well with the material he has.

The good-natured Killefer is long on quality but a bit short on quantity. He has only 27 players and the league rules will permit him to carry 25 all season. Some of the athletes to be included in the ultimate 25 probably are not now on the team.

Scouts Comb Byways For Players.

St. Louis scouts are combing the byways and hedges of the big league trail looking for two or three promising youngsters to place under the Brown banner.

With the exception of the champion Athletics, no club in the American League appears nearer "set." There is room for mild argument at one infield place and an outfield position, but the five starting pitchers and the catchers can be named well in advance of the opening.

Killefer's main trouble is that when he has nominated his starting line-up he finds himself entirely too lonesome on the bench. The reserves are neither numerous nor impressive. Sam Gray, Alvin Crowder, "Rip" Collins, George Blaeholder, Walter Stewart and John Ogden will retain their pitching places without a struggle, but the other four berths will be assigned only after much managerial thought. Coffman and Kimsey, who spent last season with the club, but did comparatively little pitching, will be given plenty of work to do this spring and if they can impress Killefer they will hold over.

A promising youngster is Herman Holshouser, who had a brief trial with the Boston Braves. A college product, he has four years professional experience behind him at 23.

Other minor league graduates are Caldwell and Stieley from the Texas League, and Stiles from the Western.

No movement has developed to oust Lu Blue at first, Oscar Melillo at second, Ralph Kress at shortstop. Blue is a great fielder and excellent lead-off man. Melillo fought so hard against an attack of Bright's disease that he won his health back and last year played the best ball of his life. Kress is acclaimed by many close observers "the best shortstop in baseball."

McNeely, in Center, Light Hitter.

The trade by which Sammy Hale came to the Browns from the Athletics in exchange for Wally Schang may result in a division of the labor at that corner of the infield. Frank O'Rourke, one of the game's most energetic performers, is not as good a hitter as Hale and Sam's bat may win the assignment for a part of the season. O'Rourke, however, will be around.

The hard-hitting Harry Manush and capable Fred Schulte will play left and center with the right field job resting in the lap of the baseball fates. Earl McNeely can field but is a light hitter. Fred Bennett and Ted Gullic, up from the Texas League, are better hitters than fielders, and Morris Badgro is willing to try to do both.

Killefer, who should know a catcher when he sees one, is enthusiastic over Rick Ferrell, who, after only one year's experience, has been promoted to the first string catching job. Manager Bill believes the Tarheel will show himself the best catcher to break into the American League since Mickey Cochrane came up. Clyde Manion, a veteran, will be the other catcher.

The Browns may find themselves in the position of trying to hold their own in the first division, where they have finished for two years, while they wait for their youngsters to develop.

Last Warning Is Issued to Spencer

Griffith Says Catcher Must Sign by Saturday.

Suspension Is Threat; Unfriendliness With Goslin Denied.

By FRANK H. YOUNG
(Staff Correspondent of The Post).

BILOXI, Miss., March 5.—Tiring of the apparent indifference shown by Roy Spencer and no doubt piqued at hearing that the catcher had written one of his mates here to send him clothes which he left in his locker at the end of last season, President Clark Griffith, of the Nationals, today decided upon drastic action.

Although well within his rights in fining and suspending this player for failing to sign his contract and report as ordered, the Washington Club owner is giving Spencer another chance, writing him this morning that if he fails to advise of acceptance of the terms offered by next Saturday, he will be assessed $100, suspended and forced to get himself into condition at his own expense if he does finally decide to report and that he probably will have to accept less money than he is now considering.

With respect to Outfielder Leon (Goose) Goslin, who has not been heard from in many moons, Griffith intimates that he plans drastic action in this case, too, in case the big fly chaser fails to agree to terms by next Sunday, the date on which he has been ordered to report.

Last Offer Is Made Goslin.

It has been reported around the camp that Goslin has failed to sign because he and Manager Johnson are unfriendly. The story is that Goslin has so advised President Griffith. Both the latter and Johnson deny it, however. Unless Griffith weakens, no other offers will be made Goslin.

"I am offering him a basic salary which is too high if Goslin does no better than he did last year," said Griffith. "There is a scale of bonuses included in the contract which would give him a good salary if he earned any of them. As a matter of fact if he can't earn at least one of these I would just as soon see him hold out, for I'd rather start breaking in a couple of promising youngsters than to pay him a good salary for another poor season."

Outfielder George Loepp reported at the park while this morning's session was in progress and immediately donned uniform and started to work. Still stiff from a long train ride from Spencer, Iowa, the youngster took his turn in the batting drill and pleased Manager Johnson and President Griffith by cracking out a number of long clouts.

Started Career on Detroit Sandlots.

Loepp was born in Detroit 26 years ago. He is 5 feet 10½ inches tall and weighs 165. He played sandlot ball in Detroit until the 1924 season, when he joined the Muskegon Club of the Michigan-Ontario League. He remained but a month, going to the Sioux Falls Club for two weeks and then finished out the season on the sandlots of Spencer, Iowa, his wife's home.

InI 1925, he was with the Kitchener Team of the Michigan-Ontario League and he started his next two seasons with Mobile, of the Southern Association, being farmed out to Hattiesburg in 1926 and to Meridian in 1927. He reported to the Boston Red Sox camp in 1928, was farmed to Pittsfield, of the Eastern League, and then finished out the season at Boston. The next spring after reporting to the Sox he was sold to Baltimore, the Orioles in turn selling him to the Nationals for delivery this spring. Loepp hit .313 with Baltimore last year, 27 of his blows being homers. He hits and throws right-handed.

The two pitchers showing the most progress to date are Fred Marberry and Adolph Liska. The former declares he has never been so far advanced at this stage of spring training, while Liska is putting plenty on the ball, even while under heavy wraps.

West Point Elects Roommates Captains

West Point, N. Y., March 5 (A.P.).—Cadets Dean C. Strother, of Winfield, Kans., and Orrin C. Krueger, of Buffalo, N. Y., have been elected cocaptains of the Army Basket Ball Team, it was announced today. They are expected to lead the team in alternate games next season.

Strother and Krueger have been roommates since they entered the Academy three years ago and are now occupying adjoining beds in the cadet hospital, both suffering from the same injury—a wrenched right knee—received in recent games.

THERE'S a swirl of style to the Dunlap "Metropolitan"—youthful style—authentic style. And it bears the Sidney West label, your guarantee of fine quality.

Tech High Court Obtained for A.A.U. Play; The Post Announces All Teams' Pairings

Woltz vs. St. Martins in Feature of First Games Monday.

THE TECH HIGH SCHOOL gymnasium, affording the best facilities for basket ball in this section, will be the scene of Monday's opening program in the first annual championship tournament of the District Association of the A. A. U., which is sponsored by The Washington Post. This was announced last night by the basket ball committee. Negotiations for the use of the spacious Tech gymnasium, located at Third and T streets, northeast, were completed yesterday with the Community Center Department of the Public Schools.

The drawings for the various classes for the opening program Monday night is announced by The Post:

Montrose vs. Pontiacs (unlimited class), 7 o'clock.

J. C. C. Flashes vs. Arcadians (130-pound class), 8 o'clock.

Wallace Memorial vs. Calvary Drakes (145-pound class), 9 o'clock.

Woltz Photographers vs. St. Martin's (unlimited class), 10 o'clock.

Three of the best known officials in this section, who have refereed the South Atlantic tournament games of the past three years, were again named to work this year's contests. They are the Mitchell Brothers, Joe and Orrel, and Tommy Ford. Their work is familiar to practically every player in the tournament.

Four Teams Seeded In Unlimited Class.

The drawings resulted in the assurance that this year's contests will bring another string of sterling battles that Washington's basket ball followers have come to expect from the tournament play. In the unlimited class, the committee seeded four ited class, the committee ceded four of the leading District teams. These honored clubs, which were assigned to the four brackets of the scheduled before the draw, were the Woltz Photographers, defending District A. A. U. champions; the Jewish Community Center, which has lost only one game this season; the Potomac Boat Club, one of the season's outstanding fives and the crack George Washington Freshmen.

The unlimited drawings promise many evenly-matched contests in the early rounds as well as potential clashes in the semifinals and finals which should h old a maximum of interest. The same promise of point-for-point battles, which have characterized tournament play here in the past, is carried into the other classes.

Lighter Class Games At G. W. Court.

Due to the fact that the Tech gymnasium will be available only after 6:30 p. m., the committee found it necessary to shift some of the early-round contests in the 100 and 115 pound classes to the George Washington gymnasium, scene of last year's championship games. The first games at George Washington will be played Tuesday.

The schedule for Tuesday was announced as follows:

GEORGE WASHINGTON GYM
(2010 H Street NW.)

J. C. C. Spartans vs. St. John's Eagles (100-pound class), 4 o'clock.
St. Paul's vs. Pirates (115-pound class), 5 o'clock.

TECH HIGH GYM
(Third and T Streets NE.)

Boys Club Optimists vs. Wilsons (130-pound class), 7 o'clock.
St. Stephen's vs. Cosmopolitans (130-pound class), 8 o'clock.
G. W. Freshmen vs. Trinity M. E. (unlimited class), 9 o'clock.
Quantico Marines vs. Potomac Boat Club (unlimited class), 10 o'clock.

SPENGLER POST READY.

The Spengler Post five wants games with teams in the 115-130 pound classes. Call Manager Milton Waring at Decatur 548.

Hitting the Baseball Trail

ORLANDO, Fla., March 5 (A.P.).—Dan Howley today sent his Cincinnati Reds through their first batting practice of the training season and smiled when Harry Hellmann and Bob Meusel, long-distance sluggers, acquired from the American League, drove many pitches to the scoreboard.

Cuccinello, Stripp, Dressen and Riconda, third base candidates, all took turns at the hot corner during infield practice.

The pitchers were put through an hour's drill covering first base on infield hits.

Shortstop Shines in Cards' Drill.

Bradentown, Fla., March 5 (A.P.).—Today was full of action at the St. Louis Cardinal spring training camp. Manager Gabby Street sent his pitchers through an hour and a half of various forms of exercises during the morning, and held fielding practice for the youngsters during which Eddie Delker shone at short. In the afternoon after batting practice the regular infield, with only Frisch missing went through a snappy workout.

Two youngsters with glasses, Burton Bruckman, catcher from Purdue University, and Willis Glasgow, infielder from Iowa, took part in today's workout. Both are slated for Cardinal farms this year.

Bucky Harris Praises Young Catchers.

Tampa, Fla., March 5 (A.P.).—Manager Bucky Harris, of the Detroit Tigers, believes that George Rensa, who was with Toronto in 1929, and Bill Steinecke, who came up from Seattle, are the best two young catchers he ever has seen.

He said so today after revealing that he has given a considerable part of his attention to the activities of these two young men who have been in training here for ten days.

Melillo Arrives at Browns' Camp.

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 5 (A. P.).—The St. Louis Browns' training squad was augmented for practice today by the first field appearance of Melillo, Schulte and O'Rourke. Manager Killifer took full advantage of a warm day to send the players through a stiff practice session. Seven players still were missing from camp, but only three of them, Kress, Manush and Blaeholder are causing worry. None of them has yet signed a contract.

The work of Pitchers Johnny Ogden, Herman Holshouser, a recruit from Baltimore, pleased Boss Killifer.

19 Yankee Hurlers Take Workout.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 5 (A.P.). The New York Yankees went about their batting practice in a big way today. Every one of the nineteen pitchers on the Yankee roster took his turn in flinging the ball across the plate for the batters to hit or miss. Herb Pennock led the hurling brigade, bearing down a trifle for the first time, and displayed good control among his other assets.

Today's results were so good that Manager Bob Shawkey added another contest to tomorrow's program as a sort of side show for the financial game in which Babe Ruth and Col. Jacob Rupert expect to engage when the Yankee owner arrives.

Bonura Shows Form In Indians' Camp.

New Orleans, La., March 5 (A.P.).—Bonura, one o fthree strong candidates for Lew Fonseca's place at first base in the event the Portuguese slugger does not recover his health, exhibited a powerful bat today when the Cleveland Indians held batting practice.

One of Bonura's smashes cleared the deep left field barrier with plenty to spare. He drove his ball great distances with little apparent effort.

The other candidates are Bruce Caldwell and Alex Hooks, who are scheduled to report Sunday.

Four More Pitchers Join Robins.

Clearwater, Fla., March 5 (A.P.).—Four more pitchers joined the Brooklyn training squad today, but they didn't do much to stop the hitting in the daily practice game. Ray Moss, Jim Faulkner, Adolfo Luque and Arthur McKay arrived. Moss still is a holdout, but expects to settle his salary differences with the Robin management soon.

Despite the large number of pitchers, a total of 30 hits were garnered in the contest between the regulars and the irregulars. Young Mickey Finn led the irregulars to their second straight victory by clouting a double and two singles to drive in five runs.

Bucknell Wins Over C. U. in Boxing, 5-2

Malevich and Blasi Only Cardinals to Gain Decisions.

Stapleton Stopped by Lepore in 1st Round; 1,800 See Bouts.

By JACK ESPEY.

TWO unbeaten boxing teams met last night in Brookland Gymnasium, and Bucknell, the visitor, spoiled the party of the host, Catholic University, in the presence of 1,800 spectators. In this, the final match of the season for Catholic, the clever crew from Lewisburg, Pa., took the decision, 5 bouts to 2.

Bucknell won because it had good boxers in every one of the seven bouts, but its margin might not have been so decisive had Catholic been able to present its strongest front. Two of Catholic's veterans, Johnny DePasquale, bantamweight, and Charley DiComo, lightweight, viewed the bouts from the sidelines.

Two technical knockouts—one accredited to Capt. Lou Mutzel, undefeated in six years of competition—and three decisions were chalked up in favor of Bucknell, while Catholic registered two decisions, one of which went to Capt. Jack Malevich, who was fighting his last fight for his school.

Towel in First Round Saves Murphy.

Contrary to expectations, Coach Ted Mitchell did not use Malevich against Mutzel, preferring to pit Gene Murphy, a volunteer for the light-heavyweight assignment, against the Bucknell star in order not to forfeit. Until Tuesday night it had appeared as though Catholic would have to forfeit in one of the heavier weight bouts owing to dearth of material, and Mitchell had planned to match Malevich with the Bucknell captain in the hope of developing an exciting scrap.

But Murphy volunteered his services and he received the call, which was about as far as his part figured. He lost on a technical knockout 15 seconds after the opening bell when his seconds tossed in the towel. During that short time Mutzel had indicated with a flurry of sharp lefts and rights that he would score an easy triumph. The towel, however, saved Murphy any damage.

Malevich encountered a real fighter in Norman Egel, Bucknell heavyweight, who was fighting for only the second time in his life. It took all of Cap'n Jack's ring generalship, plus the hardest of his punch repertoire, to gain the decision. This bout brought out the liveliest action of the program.

Blasi Outpoints Foe Easily.

Rocco Blasi accounted for Catholic's other victory by easily outpointing "Red" Wilkenson in the middleweight bout. Ripping a long left to "Red's" face whenever he chose, Blasi assured himself of the decision before the second round closed.

Charles Stapleton, C. U. novice in the welterweight bout, was floored in the first round by Frank Lepore, veteran Bison, while John O'Connell, also a newcomer to the Cardinal ranks, lost on an extra-round decision to J. V. Terpolilli in the bantamweight clash. Chick Scuderi slowed up rapidly after a nice start to fal lbefore Mickey Boerner in the featherweight fracas and Harry DiGiacomo lost similarly to Lou Marcheasano in the lightweight bout. The summaries:

Collins, Dayton Pro, St. Petersburg Victor

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 5 (A.P.). Jock Collins, of Dayton, Ohio, won the $1,000 first prize money in the St. Petersburg open golf tournament today when he turned in a 68 for his final 18 holes, which with his 73 of yesterday, made his total 141.

Horton Smith, Detroit, and Frank Walsh, Chicago, tied for second place with 142, getting $400 each. Tony Manero, unattached, New York, and Joe Turnesa, Elmsford, N. Y., had totals of 143, dividing fourth and fifth prize money, getting $150 each; Gene Sarazen, Fresh Meadow, Long Island; Fairly Clark, Savannah, and Billy Burke, Greenwich, Conn., tied with 144's to win sixth, seventh and eighth place money, getting $58.50 each.

Others in the money were: Louis Chiapetta, Clearwater, 145—$50; Densmore Shute, Columbus, Ohio, 146—$50; Bill Thompson, Canton, Ohio, Henry Bontempo, Springfield, Mass., and Bobby Cruickshank, Purchase, N. Y., split tenth, eleventh and twelfth place money, getting $25 each.

Mrs. Haynes, D. C. Ace, Bows to Miss Collett

St. Augustine, Fla., March 5 (A.P.).—Miss Glenna Collett, national women's golf champion, advanced easily through her first round match of the Florida East Coast Tournament here today, defeating Mrs. J. Marvin Haynes, former District of Columbia champion, 4 and 3.

Miss Virginia Van Wie, Chicago, won a more impressive victory over Mrs. C. R. Harbaugh, Cleveland, Ohio, 7 and 6. The Chicago girl sizzled out in a 33, three under men's par, and was 7 up at the turn.

Miss Helen Hicks, New York, took the measure of Miss Edith Hopwood, Uniontown, Pa., by 7 and 6, being also 7 up on her opponent at the turn.

Miss Maureen Orcutt, Metropolitan women's champion, was never in danger from Miss Virginia Vilas, Chicago, and after reaching the turn 5 up, ended it on the thirteenth, 6 and 5.

3 DISTRICT SCHOOLS PUT OUT OF TOURNEY; TECH ROUTED, 39-17

Campolo-Risko Bout In N. Y. Again Sought

New York, March 5 (A.P.).—Negotiations were definitely abandoned today for a middleweight championship match here March 24 between Mickey Walker, the titleholder, and Rene De Vos, European champion. The match was to have been staged in Madison Square Garden as the feature bout of the Cancer Hospital fund charity card.

Negotiations ended when Jack Kearns, manager of the titleholder, refused to accept the percentages offered.

An attempt will be made to match Johnny Risko, who once was ruled "too small" by the commission, with Victorio Campolo, the Argentine giant, in a return engagement on the March 24 date. After the commission refused to sanction the bout here, Risko and Campolo fought a furious draw in the semifinal to the Sharkey-Scott fiasco at Miami, Fla.

Bows to Overlook; Hagerstown Beats Central, 25-20.

Western Unable to Hold Lead; Loses to Quakers, 30-24.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 5.—All three Washington teams entered in the high school division of the Tenth Annual University of Pennsylvania basket ball tournament and picked to go far in the tourney were eliminated today.

McKinley Tech, city champions, were the first to fall by the wayside when they lost a quarter final match to Overbrook High (Philadelphia), by a 39 to 17 count in the afternoon. Washington Central followed when it sustained a 25 to 20 surprise reverse at the hands of Hagerstown High and then Washington Western losing to Central High (Philadelphia), 3 0to 24, completed the list. Hagerstown and five Philadelphia teams still remain in the tourney.

Washington Western's downfall was caused by the greatest rally staged by any team in the tourney so far, when Central High, favorite to romp off with the crown, came from behind to nip the Western five at the finish.

The Capital City five held large leads three times during the second half, at one time holding a 2 2to 15 advantage, but each time the local players overtook their Washington foes.

When Thompson's field goal, five minutes before the end of the game, gave Western a 2 4to 21 lead, the third time it came bac kto set the pace, it appeared that Western would stay in front.

Thompson Leads Attack.

But Slim Einhorn, Central ace, caged two field goals to put his team ahead, this time to stay, and put the visitors out of the running. Thompson shouldered the burden of the loser's attack bagging four field goals and one foul.

Washington Central left the tourney the victim of an upset when it bowed to Hagerstown High, of Maryland, 25 to 20. Central was very much in the game in the first half which ended in a 9-to-9 score but in the final chapter the Hagerstown Five, on some sensational scoring by Stonebraker, pulled ahead.

Dempsey Signs Mastro For La Barba Match

Chicago, March 5 (A.P.).—Promoter Jack Dempsey tonight signed Earl Mastro, Chicago ranking featherweight, for a ten-round fight with Fidel La Barba, of Los Angeles, at the Coliseum, March 21. Dempsey has promised the winner a match with Kid Chocolate, sensational Cuban Negro. He has Chocolate signed for an outdoor engagement. Mastro and La Barba have fought twice before, with each winning hair-line decisions.

U. S. Asks 57 Nations To Olympic Games

New York, March 5 (A.P.).—Invitations to participate in the winter games of the 1932 Olympics were sent today to athletic officials of 57 nations by Gen. Charles H. Sherrill, American member of the International Olympic committee and United States representative on the executive committee of the international group. The winter sports will be held at Lake Placid, N. Y., January 28 to February 6, 1932.

Gen. Sherrill said the State Department of the Nation would cooperate with the Lake Placid committee, headed by Godfrey Dewey, and would supplement the invitations with diplomatic communications to several countries.

U.S. Names Lott, Allison, Van Ryn Nucleus of Team

NEW YORK, March 5 (A.P.).—America will stand or fall upon the strength of its younger players in Davis Cup tennis competition this year and within a month will begin active mobilization of a youthful squad headed by John Van Ryn, Orange, N. J.; Wilmer Allison, Austin, Tex., and George Lott, Chicago, the United States Lawn Tennis Association announced today.

The opening American zone contest with Canada will be held "at some club in Philadelphia at a time to be announced later," it was made known further.

"It is the present intention of the Davis Cup committee," said the announcement, "to name Van Ryn, Allison and Lott as the nucleus of the squad."

The names of Bill Tilden and Frank Hunter, the veterans who headed the United States ranking list but have insisted they are through with international play, are conspicuously absent, indicating that the Davis Cup committeemen have taken them at their word.

No Mention Made Of Doeg.

No mention is made of John Doeg, the young Santa Monica, Calif., giant, who is ranked third behind Tilden and Hunter, but who suffered defeats in recetn tournaments at San Antonio and Hamilton, Bermuda.

In the new ranking list, Lott is No. 4, Van Ryn No. 5, and Allison No. 7, Fritz Mercur, of Bethlehem, Pa., being No. 6.

The selection of the team to open the Davis Cup season against the Canadianso will be made entirely upon the basis of the showing made by the candidates in the Southern tournaments, it was announced.

'No consideration will be given players who show in-and-out form or indifference in their tournament play," said the statement.

Good Shepherd Five Wins Boys Club Title

Defeating the team with which they were tied for top honors, the Good Shepherd courtmen won the championship of the Boys' Club 130-Pound League last night by pasting a 22-17 lacing on the Arcadian Five. Each team had a record of eleven wins in twelve starts before the game.

The game was exceptionally close, the score being tied on no less than five occasions. Bayliss was the leading factor in the victory, scoring 10 points for his team.

CATHOLIC FIVE FACES G. W. AFTER 19 LOSSES IN ROW

Game Tonight Promises Action

Colonials Triumph in First Clash This Season, 23-21.

Still Smarting Under Decisive Defeat in Football.

FIERY old rivals clash tonight in the H Street Gymnasium when George Washington and Catholic University Quintets come to grips in their second game of the season and the final for both. The main attraction will follow a game between the respective freshmen teams, which will open at 7 o'clock.

For Catholic, it is one of those games in which there is everything to gain and nothing to lose. In a previous meeting, George Washington emerged the winner by 23 to 21. That defeat was one of nineteen which the Brookland team has absorbed in succession. Not since the first two games of the season in December has Catholic tasted victory.

The last game developed some of the most spirited battling that has been witnessed on a local court this winter and it was only through the restraining hands of officials and teammates on the sidelines that the straining performers did not stage a little fisticuffing.

G. W. Still Smarting Under Grid Defeat.

George Washington is of the mind that another victory will not hurt its cause, as it still is smarting under that terrible football pasting received from the Brooklanders last November. In other words, a real football lacing demands a counter attack of two basket ball victories, according to the Colonials.

An interesting individual duel for honors should develop between Joe Walsh, of Catholic, and Irving Fine, of the home team. This pair have been playing fine basket ball throughout the season. Walsh has maintained a fast pace in spite of lack of capable support from his fellow Cardinals. Both Walsh and Fine are of diminutive stature, but they make up for physical handicaps with extraordinary speed and shooting.

St. John's Junior Title Annexed by 1-C Five

The championship of the Junior League in the St. John's class leagues was won by the 1-C Five yesterday, when it defeated the 1-B Team, 20 to 11. Although 3-B had already annexed the honors for the Senior League, 2-A vanquished 1-A in the closing game of the season, 17 to 7.

With high interest maintained in the games throughout the season the frays were likewise productive of revealing promising players who shape up as varsity material next year. Raymond Liston, John Spate and Fred Sheele, of the 2-A Team, have looked especially good to Coach Faully Byrne, who witnessed each game.

LILLIAN REUTER	105	2	5	7h	7h	7h	Leyland	27.20
PEACE JIMMY	110	5	6	5½	8	8	L. Jones	26.05

Two-dollar mutuels paid—DICK MORRIS, $3.00, $3.20, $2.90; MASTER HALLIGAN, $15.80, $5.50; RARE CHARM, $3.30.

DICK MORRIS, away well, moved into the lead after going the first furlong and, continuing well, drew out as if much the best. MASTER HALLIGAN, well up from the break, held on well. RARE CHARM, fractious at the post, was off well and finished resolutely. ATLAS closed ground. WILLIFORD quit badly after showing brief early speed.

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $800; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 2:46. Off at 2:50. Winner, O. Viau's blk. f. (4), by Pataud—Mesquite. Trained by owner. Value to winner, $625; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25. Time, 0:23 4-5, 0:48 1-5, 1:14 1-5.

SPORTING MAID	110	9	12	12	12	12	12	Douglas	141.70

Two-dollar mutuels paid—BLACK ALICE, $8.70, $3.70, $3.40; ARROGANT, $3.10, $3.40; UNCLE BOOT, $7.50.

BLACK ALICE, forwardly placed from the break, responded well when called upon and, overhauling ARROGANT in the final sixteenth, was drawing clear at the end. ARROGANT moved into the lead after disposing of BUCHON in the first quarter, but could not stall off the winner. UNCLE BOOT finished well. TRUDGEON ran a good race. BUCHON quit after displaying early speed.

THIRD RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse, $800; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 3:16. Off at 3:17. Winner, S. Berk's br. m. (6), by Underfire—Yellow Blossom. Trained by owner. Value to winner, $625; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25. Time, 0:24 3-5, 0:49 3-5, 1:15, 1:41 3-5, 1:54 4-5.

BRUNE	112	5	6	6h	7½	8	8	8	Leyland	64.10

Two-dollar mutuels paid—FIRE OPAL, $8.90, $3.80, $2.50; RAPIDA, $3.20, $2.40; MARCEL AGNES, $3.10.

FIRE OPAL, reserved off the early pace, moved up gradually entering the stretch and, overhauling RAPIDA, was drawing clear in the final stages. RAPIDA, rated under stout restraint for a half mile, took the lead with a rush when called upon, but could not withstand the winner's challenge. MARCELLA AGNES went forwardly all the way and had no mishaps. TRUE BOY tired. JIM BELL raced wide throughout. GUEST OF HONOR was through after showing speed for a half mile.

FOURTH RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $800; allowances. The Evangeline. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start poor. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 3:42. Off at 3:47. Winner, Jones Stock Farm's b. f. (4), by Handgrenade—Legola. Trained by B. A. Jones. Value to winner, $625; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25. Time, 0:23 4-5, 0:47 4-5, 1:12 4-5.

Horses	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	Str.	Fin.	Jockeys	Straight

BRAMABIAU	106	6	6	6h	6h	6h	6h	Arnold	102.85
ALL THE TIME	94	2	7	7	7	7	7	Morgan	112.55

Two-dollar mutuels paid—TADDYWAWA, $4.60, $4.00, $2.20; LUCKY HIT, $4.60, $2.70; OLD DUTCH, $2.20.

TADDYWAWA, outrun early, took command inside the final furlong, held LUCKY HIT safe. The latter, racing forwardly on the outside to the stretch, finished well after being carried wide and, with better luck, might have won. OLD DUTCH displayed the most speed in pacemaking, but bore out badly entering the stretch and tired in the final drive. JUSTINA also came wide into the stretch and hung badly under punishment in final drive. ELIZABETH BOLLA tired after being carried wide.

FIFTH RACE—Six furlongs and seventy yards. Purse, $1,000; allowances. The Jefferson. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 4:12½. Off at 4:15. Winner, O. Viau's b. g. (5), by Camp Fire—Bandana III. Trained by owner. Value to winner, $700; second, $175; third, $100; fourth, $25. Time, 0:24, 0:48 3-5, 1:15, 1:40 4-5, 1:45 2-5.

BROAD AX	110	5	4	3h	3h	5h	5½	6	Geving	4.40

Two-dollar mutuels paid—SMOLDERING, $10.60, $3.80, $2.90; KADIAK, $2.80, $2.30; CORBEAU, $2.50.

SMOLDERING, away well, moved into the lead at once and, displaying good speed in pacemaking, held sway to the stretch, where he responded to mild urging and held race safe. KADIAK, rated close up all the way, held on well in final drive, but could not head the winner. CORBEAU, slow to find his stride, worked his way up gradually after going half a mile, but was unable to threaten contention in the stretch. SANFORD saved ground all the way and had no mishaps.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $800; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won handily; place, driving. Went to post at 4:41. Off at 4:41½. Winner, J. Bert Phillips' ch. g. (6), by Gnome—Starlight. Trained by C. Phillips. Value to winner, $625; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25. Time, 0:24 2-5, 0:48 3-5, 1:15, 1:41, 1:47 1-5.

DEAR INEZ	104	3	7	7h	8	8	8	8	M. Meyers	7.80

Two-dollar mutuels paid—COMET, $9.20, $5.80, $3.60; GOVERNOR SETH, $14.50, $4.80; WATCH THE TIME, $3.00.

COMET, racing improved, was reserved off the early pace until reaching the stretch, where he improved his position on the outside and, heading GOVERNOR SETH, drew out handily. GOVERNOR SETH, following in closest pursuit of the early pace, took a brief lead in the stretch when CHATTERING tired, but could not stall off the winner. WATCH THE TIME, a bride in the field, after making a wide turn, finished well. BOB KERNAN had no mishaps. CHATTERING quit badly after leading to the stretch.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse, $800; claiming. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won easily; place, driving. Went to post at 5:08½. Off at 5:09. Winner, G. Frankino' b. g. (5), by Pandion—Betty Hanes. Trained by owner. Value to winner, $625; second, $118.75; third, $62.50; fourth, $25. Time, 0:25, 0:50, 1:15 4-5, 1:42 1-5, 1:55 3-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—DOCTOR FRED, $14.00, $5.70, $4.60; QUIBBLER, $3.80, $2.60; STANDARD BEARER, $6.60.

DOCTOR FRED, displaying the most speed in pacemaking, held sway to the stretch, where after a mild shaking up he held race safe. QUIBBLER, close up from the break, challenged resolutely in the stretch, but could not overhaul the leaders. STANDARD BEARER finished well. MYSTERIOUS saved ground and closed a gap. COTTAGE BOY trailed throughout and showed a dull effort.

3-GAME CARD FOR SOCCER TEAMS

Concord-Washington Meet Sunday in Feature of Program.

THE second round of the Washington and Southeastern District Soccer Association Cup tie tourney will be played next Sunday when British United meets the Gaelic-Americans and Silver Spring engages Marlboro. An attempt will again be made to complete the first round when Concord and Washington Soccer Clubs will meet Sunday on the Monument Grounds.

Both of the second round cup games will be played on the Silver Spring Field. At 1 o'clock Marlboro will play Silver Spring with Bill Castle refereeing and at 3 o'clock British United will play Gaelic-Americans with Edward Kruse calling the fouls. G. W. Wilson will handle the Washington-Concord tilt.

Last Sunday Concord and Washington engaged in a thrilling 1-to-1 match under most adverse weather conditions. The Washington kickers led for the most part of the game, the score being equalized in the waning minutes when little Emil Konnell caught one to his liking and smashed it through the Washington uprights.

Record Crowd Expected.

Seldom have two teams more evenly matched met on local fields and a record-breaking crowd is expected to turn out to watch the clubs try to reach a conclusion. Concord followers believe that their team will have an edge on the large Monument field since the spry legs of its youthful club will carry over the wide spaces with more ease than the creaking joints of the older Washington players.

Gaelic-Americans climaxed their sudden rush to the front that has amazed the fans for three weeks by defeating Rockville last Sunday, 2 to 1. The Irish kickers displayed a well balanced forward line and a sturdy defense to stop the Capital City League champions.

School Soccerists Try To End Title Series

A championship which has not been decided in four extra periods of two games each, will be at stake again today when the Gage and Peabody Schools meet at 3:30 o'clock on the Plaza Playground for the soccer title of the city. Peabody will represent the East portion of the city, while Gage will be the representative of the West.

The first game was fought to a 0-0 draw after eight periods of even battling, while a 2-2 tie marked the second overtime battle of the rivals.

DANCE TO FOLLOW GAME.

Union Printers Basketers will dance after their game tomorrow night with the French A. C. in the Silver Spring Armory. The dance has been arranged to climax the close of the Printers' court season which will be over after the French game.

EMERSON & ORME FIVE WINS.

Two Eastern High School players, Ben McCullough and Bill Noonan, led the Emerson and Orme Five to a 46 to 12 victory over the Remsen Five yesterday at the Kensington Armory. Each of the players scored enough points alone to give their team the verdict.

SOUTH TRACK TITLES LURE FOR STARS

Conference Meet on Saturday Draws Best Athletes.

Special to The Washington Post.

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., March 5.—Advance dope indicates that the cream of the South's cindermen will converge on the University of North Carolina for the first Southern Conference indoor games here March 8.

The meet will be the first indoor championship track meet ever held by the Southern Conference, and is attracting wide attention.

Georgia Tech has already signified intention of sending a large delegation, and that means Ed Hamm and Doug Graydon among others will be present.

Hamm holds the world's broad jump record at 25 feet 11⅛ inches. Graydon hurled the javelin 205 feet. Both boys are among the South's best sprinters as well.

The University of Virginia is reported to be planning to send a large delegation headed by the satellites, Flippin, Wisner and Day.

Wisner Is Rival Of Hamm.

Wisner is perhaps Hamm's toughest Southern rival at the sport of propelling the human body through air. Day ranks with the South's best shot putters. Flippin is coholder of a world's hurdle record.

Washington and Lee will send its Southern Conference championship mile-relay team, composed this year of the veterans, Shepard and Dickey, and the newcomers, Sandifer and Broderick, along with other stars.

Georgia is reported to have plans of sending an all-star aggregation headed by Bob Young, who has won the last two Southern Conference cross-country runs, and who placed second in the mile run at the conference last year.

The some-town Tarheels, State champions for eight consecutive seasons, and Southern runner-up last year, will make their own strong bid to carry off honors in the first tournament.

McGinn Heads Wolfpack.

State and Duke, also among the home folks, are reported to be planning their own campaigns. McGinn, second in the conference 880 last year, will probably head the Wolfpack delegation, and Simon, who broke the Navy cross-country course record, the Dukemen.

The meet is to be held in the big Tin Can here, beginning at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon and at 6:45 Saturday night. There will be four freshmen events and seven events for high and prep schools, as well as twelve varsity events.

W. & L. to Enter 21 In Conference Meet

Special to The Washington Post.

Lexington, Va., March 5.—Washington and Lee will be represented by a squad of 21 athletes in the annual Southern Conference indoor track and field meet to be held at the University of North Carolina Saturday.

Although not doped to win the meet, Washington and Lee will present strong competition in a number of events. Washington and Lee is strongest in the dashes and the hurdles.

The men who will make the trip are Capt. W. S. Sandifer, dashes, relay, high and broad jumps; Stevens, shot and broad jump; Broderick, half mile and relay; Speer, dashes and hurdles; Finklestein, dashes, hurdles and broad jump; Ade, dashes; Shepherd, quarter and relay; Dickey, relay; Biddle, mile; Mahler and Phelps, two mile; Armour, hurdles; Pomeroy, Maxey and Hartgrove, pole vault; Williams, quarter and relay, and Paul Horner, manager.

Coach Fletcher also will have a team entered in the freshman relay. This team will be chosen from Black, Blatterman, Edmonds, Abbott and Squires, all of whom will make the trip.

Virginia Prep Boxing Event Requires 2 Days

Special to The Washington Post.

Charlottesville, Va., March 5.—Two days will be necessary this year to run off the third annual preparatory school boxing tournament, which will be held at the University of Virginia on Friday and Saturday, with four States represented among the entries. Augusta Military Academy, Bellefonte Academy, Greenbriar Military School, Oakridge Institute and Staunton Military Academy are the teams that will battle for the trophy this year. It has been won by Staunton for two seasons. The prep school tourney was started in connection with the Southern Conference boxing tournament. Last year it was held separately, but on a single day. This time two days of boxing will be required. The final bouts are scheduled for Saturday night.

GOLF AS CHAMPIONS PLAY IT

A LARGE SHARE OF THE GAME SHOULD BE PLAYED IN HERE

What part, in your opinion, do brains play in the make-up of a good golfer?

Answered by LEO DIEGEL,

Canadian Open, San Diego Open, Massachusetts Open, Metropolitan P. G. A. Qualifying Medal, P. G. A. Championship, 1928; Tied for Long Beach Open, 1928; San Diego Open, 1929.

Brains and golf experience play a large part in the make-up of a good golfer. Both are the development in golf of much more than the mere making of shots, for mechanical accuracy is an attribute of many men who are not champions.

The ability to figure out the chance of success, to calculate and judge the flight and carry of a ball in a wind and to size up the psychological aspects of a given situation are all important aspects of a champion's make-up. Champions are usually men who have shown extraordinary ability in the mental side of the game as well as in the mechanical side.

V. P. I. BIDS FOR MAT CROWN

Graves and Davis Are Chief Hopes in Conference Tourney.

Special to The Washington Post.

BLACKSBURG, Va., March 5.—Their first whirl at tournament competition may find the Virginia Poly wrestlers playing a "dark horse" role in the Southern Conference wrestling meet at Virginia Military Institute this week.

George Herring, the veteran coach, will enter a team of eight matmen who can not boast the all-round strength of several aggregations he has piloted to a Dixie title in past years. But the Gobbler roster carries two heavy-scoring aces who are undefeated over a two-year span. Several other grapplers are strong enough to threaten the high perch of high-ranking matmen of other teams.

V. P. I. hopes center chiefly in Colby Graves, dashing little 118-pounder, and Bill Davis, 237-pound unlimited entry. These boys are the alpha and omega of the Gobbler line-up, but are tied in the season scoring with 33 points each in a possible 35. In addition, both won by fall over every opponent in 1929. Graves is just a sophomore and has scored ten falls and one decision in eleven bouts under the Tech banner.

Davis Completing Brilliant Career.

Davis will wind up his three-year career in the coming melee and will bring to a close the greatest scoring record ever compiled by a V. P. I. wrestler. His lone defeat of the three years was not in conference circles. In 21 bouts he has won 18 by fall, 2 by time advantage, and lost 1. His total of 96 points eclipses the mark set by Charlie Flory, Teddy Ray, Buck Miles, Milton Andes and other Southern champs numbered among the mat proteges of George Herring.

Bob Mitchell, former Christiansburg High athlete, will probably carry the Gobbler colors in the 128-pound class, with Mundie, 138; Joe Bailey, 148; White, 158; Cecil, 168, and Ellett, 178.

LaBelotte Winner Of Agua Caliente Purse

Agua Caliente, Mexico, March 5.—Fred Almy's LaBelotte won the Pleasanton Purse, today's featured attraction. The Northway Stable's Flagtime was second and William Sharp Kilmer's Dark Ayr was third. Tippy Toe, the favorite, was fourth. The winner paid $11.20 for a $2 mutuel ticket.

LaBelotte raced close to the leaders and, taking command in the stretch, won by a length and a half. Flagtime was the early pacemaker, but tired in the stretch after suffering interference. Dark Ayr finished fast after being in close quarters in the early running.

Miami Suit Asks Close Of Greyhound Track

Miami, Fla., March 5 (A.P.).—Legal controversy over gambling in the Miami area, dormant for a week or more with winter social and sporting activities on the wane, broke out anew today.

Harmon M. Campbell, acting as his own attorney, filed a suit in Circuit Court to have the Biscayne Kennel Club adjudged a nuisance, because of alleged open gambling in a betting ring. The suit asks that injunction be issued restraining the club, one of Miami's two greyhound racing tracks, from operation.

Campbell, it was learned, started action some time ago to have jalalai games at the Biscayne Fronton here closed for the same reason, but did not succeed.

Whichone and Boojum Enter American Derby

Chicago, March 5 (A.P.).—Whichone and Boojum, the sensational colts owned by Harry Payne Whitney, New York sportsman, tonight were nominated for the $50,000 American Derby, which will be decided at Washington Park, June 14.

The race will mark the Western debut of the Whitney stars, as they were not nominated for the Kentucky Derby. Owner Whitney withheld his racers from the Kentucky classic because of his desire to save them for important stakes to be decided later in the season.

Col. Matt Winn, president of the Washington Park Jockey Club, said tonight the American Derby will include all the promising 3-year-olds from the leading stables of America. He had assurance, he said, that the winner of the Kentucky Derby and the $50,000 Preakness would meet in the American Derby.

U. S. Women to Play British Golfers May 1

St. Augustine, Fla., March 5 (A.P.). May 1 has been named as the starting date of the international women's golf matches between selected teams from the United States and England, it was announced here today by Miss Glenna Collett, captain of the American group.

Miss Collett, who is participating in the Florida East Coast championship here, said she had received a letter from Miss Mollie Gourlay, captain of the British team, in which the date was definitely set.

It will be the first time in golf history that a team match between the two countries has been played.

Names of the American team have not been chosen, but it was considered certain Misses Virginia Van Wie, Maureen Orcutt and Helen Hicks would be among those to go, provided they can arrange to get away at that time.

Leading women golfers of the country have been invited by Miss Collett to participate in the match.

Duckpin Association Holds Meeting Sunday

The annual meeting of the Washington City Duckpin Association will be held at 3 o'clock Sunday in the Oak Room of the Raleigh Hotel. Election of officers and the adoption of an amended and revised constitution will be the business on hand.

Representatives of every league in the city are requested to be present and all bowlers are welcome.

READING BOWLERS INVADE.

The bowlers of the American Business Club of Reading, Pa., have accepted an invitation of the Washington A. B. C. to roll a special match at King Pin No. 1 on Saturday evening. The match will start at 8 o'clock. A return match at Reading is planned for April.

COMETS CLAIM FORFEIT.

Comet 85-pound courtmen claim a forfeit from the Brightwood Five yesterday which failed to put in an appearance. Teams seeking games with the Comets should call Manager Sullivan, at Georgia 1289.

OH BUCK! YOU'RE JUST WONDERFUL! WE'LL RESCUE SALLY AFTER ALL, I KNOW!
IF WE MISS MARS WE'LL HIT ETERNITY—BUT I'D RISK ANYTHING TO FIND ILLANA
WE WON'T HAVE ROOM FOR A LARGE CREW. BUT OUR SHIP WILL BE HEAVILY ARMED AND ARMORED.
IT'S A TERRIBLE RISK, ISN'T IT, DEAR?
WHO CARES?
THE SHIP WILL COST A FORTUNE. WHERE WILL YOU GET FUNDS? YOU KNOW THE COUNCIL WON'T RISK TROUBLE WITH THE MARTIANS. THEY MIGHT EVEN FORBID OUR GOING!
W-WHY—ER—AH—I HADN'T THOUGHT—
BUT AFTER DINNER, WILMA BECAME PRACTICAL.

LIQUIDATION SENDS STOCKS DOWNWARD

Initial Rally Reverses as Current Data's Trend Remains Cheerless.

NATIONAL BISCUIT RISES

New York, March 5 (A.P.).—The level of share prices rose further in today's stock market, only to find the structure weakened by the rather cheerless character of current business reports, and to burst forth in a torrent of liquidation which reduced the level substantially below yesterday's close.

The sudden reversal of the movement came late in the day, and appeared to be precipitated by a bear drive. The bear attack, however, owed its success to the psychological effects of the continued unsettlement of the commodity markets.

The day's news was not altogether cheerless. Credit conditions continued to ease, and there was a growing conviction in Wall street that a lower rediscount rate will be announced within a short time by the New York Federal Reserve Bank. Call money held at 4 per cent, but was available in the outside market as low as 3. Time money and bankers' acceptances displayed an easing tone.

Lower Discount Rates Seen.

While few ventured to predict that a lower rediscount rate would be announced after the weekly meeting tomorrow, it was felt that the trend of credit rates in the New York market indicated such action by early spring, at least. It is notable that reductions in credit rates thus far have not markedly influenced the cost of commercial credit throughout that country at large.

Furthermore, reports from the petroleum industry were distinctly more pleasing. Crude oil production last week took one of the most decided downturns in recent months. Statistics of gasoline in storage for January showed another large accumulation of stocks, but the Federal Oil Conservation Board's recommendation for suspension of refining on one day a week, while not meeting with universal approval, was at once adopted by the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey and its subsidiaries.

The cotton market was again conspicuously weak. Futures prices dipped to new low levels for the season, and closed 95 cents to $1.50 a bale below yesterday's final levels. Selling was induced by weakness of the Liverpool market, and a report of fertilizer sales in the South which promised little reduction in acreage next year. Wheat futures lost nearly 2 cents reflecting bearish weather reports, uneasiness over the huge stocks at terminals, and heaviness of the Winnipeg market. Corn closed nearly a cent lower.

U. S. Steel Declines.

Among shares closing 2 to 4 points lower were such issues as U. S. Steel, American Can, Westinghouse Electric, Air Reduction, Allied Chemical, American & Foreign Power, Columbia Gas, Columbian Carbon, Consolidated Gas, Eastman Kodak, Underwood Elliott, Union Carbide, Nash Motors, and U. S. Smelting, the last two named reaching new low levels for the year. An acutely weak feature was Indian Motorcycle. The stock dropped more than 6 points to 9, and closed at 10¾, in what appeared to be the abandonment or collapse of a pool operation.

There were a few firm spots at the close. Stone & Webster, California Packing, and Mack Truck gained 2 points or so. Case rose 20 points to a new 1930 peak, then lost 12½ of its gain. National Biscuit old stock rose 8 points to a new high for the year, then lost half its advance. American Solvents, a low-priced specialty recently taken over from the curb, was bid up 5 points to a new peak at 22, and closed near the top.

Foreign exchanges were steady, with sterling cables holding at $4.86. The Spanish peseta rallied a little.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, March 5 (A.P.).—Emphasis given to possibilities of an embargo on rural shipments of wheat to domestic terminals had more or less bearish influence on wheat values today. Explanations from Chairman Legge, of the Federal Farm Board, that congestion of wheat in terminal markets was the chief cause for change of the board's buying policy, and that withdrawal of loan value prices was expected to slow up shipments sufficiently to hold off a threatened embargo were somewhat overlooked. Farm Board auxiliaries apparently did not support the wheat futures market today and with no other aggressive support evident prices headed down grade.

Wheat closed unsettled, 1½c to 2c a bushel net lower, with corn ½c to 1c down, oats unchanged to ¾c off and provisions showing 5c to 15c decline.

Setbacks in wheat values formed the rule today from start to finish. Early downturns here received considerable impetus from the fact that the Liverpool market displayed virtual indifference to yesterday's advances in price on this side of the Atlantic. Notice was also taken of a statement credited to Congressman Haugen, chairman of the House committee on agriculture, that there is no chance that Congress will pass a bill this session appropriating $25,000,000 to buy wheat for famine relief in China. Moreover, export demand today for wheat from North America amounted to only 400,000 bushels exclusively Canadian and domestic wheat crop conditions were announced from Washington as good to excellent, about a month ahead of average in some places.

Adding to selling pressure in the wheat futures market here were authoritative estimates indicating that larger population and increased use of wheat are not keeping pace with more active world-wide growing of crops. Excluding Russia, average world crops of wheat for the last three seasons were figured at 3,544,000,000 bushels, compared to average crops of 3,032,000,000 bushels six seasons ago, acreage of 230,000,000 against 211,000,000 and yield per acre 15.4 compared to 14.4. On the other hand estimates which also were circulated that North American stocks of wheat are now 643,000,000 bushels, against 660,000,000 bushels at this time last year, failed to give the market any perceptible stimulus. Corn, oats and rye markets sagged owing to sympathy with wheat weakness. Rye touched a new low price record for the season.

Despite upturns in hog values provisions eased down on account of declines in grain.

10 RAILS, U.S. BONDS TOUCH YEAR'S PEAKS

Ease in Credit Rates Aids Market's General Upturn.

UTILITY GROUP QUIETER

New York, March 5 (A.P.).—Under the leadership of United States Government obligations, most of which touched new 1930 highs, the bond market gave a rather impressive demonstration of strength today. Numerous prime rails changed hands in large blocks and the average for ten carriers made the best gain of the year.

Pronounced ease in credit was behind the upturn. Not only did time money rates again manifest a downward tendency, but bankers' acceptances were reduced and supplies of call funds were plentiful at the renewal charge of 4 per cent.

Governments made the largest turnover in some time. The Liberty 3½s and Fourth 4¼s, as well as all the listed treasuries, touched new 1930 peaks and closing quotations were generally at the top. The strongest issue was the Treasury 3¾s which rose 27-32 of a point to 105.11, while the Treasury 4s went to 108 2 for a net advance of 21-32. Gains in the Liberties were smaller.

Low Coupon Rails Active.

Low coupon rails attracted a brisk demand. Chesapeake & Ohio 4½s and Chicago & North Western General 3½s made new high ground for the year, the latter rising 2⅜. New York Central obligations, Nickel Plate 4½s, Kansas City Southern First 3s, New Haven 4½s, Pennsylvania 4½s, Northern Pacific Prior Lien 4s and General 3s, Southern Railway General 4s, St. Louis & San Francisco Prior Lien 4s, Wabash 4½s and Louisville & Nashville 4½s likewise enjoyed the best buying seen in several weeks.

Investment utilities, which closely follow the prime rails, met a quieter market, but there was sufficient inquiry to bring out better than average gains in Cincinnati Gas & Electric 4s, New York Edison 6½s, Montana Power 5s, and Illinois Bell Telephone 5s. Bell Telephone of Pennsylvania 5s softened, losing 1⅜.

Industrials Are Steady.

Industrials were steady. Bethlehem Steel refunding 5s sold off nearly 2 points on small trading, but Goodyear Rubber 5s made a new 1930 high and International Paper 6s rose a point. American Smelting 5s, Armour 4½s and other investment issues were firm.

As usual, the most active convertible was the American Telephone 4½s, which finished an irregular session with a 2-point loss on a turnover of about $1,650,000, par value. New Haven 6s advanced 1, but Missouri Pacific 5½s and Reading Coal & Iron 6s eased. Aside from the telephone bond, however, there was little interest in stock feature obligations.

Foreign loans fell far behind the domestics. The most impressive listings were the Belgiums, with the 7s making a peak for the year on a gain of 1⅛. French 7s also squeezed the previous maximum, closing at 116¼, up ¼. South Americans were firm.

WOMAN IS NAMED BANK'S SECRETARY

Mrs. M. H. Buckingham Is to Succeed to Position of Thomas J. Groom.

WAS FORMERLY TYPIST

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.

The growing importance of women in bank officialdom was again emphasized yesterday by the election of Mrs. M. H. Buckingham as secretary of the Washington Mechanics Savings Bank to succeed Thomas J. Groom, former vice president, cashier and secretary, leaving the institution recently to become a vice president and cashier of the Bank of Commerce & Savings.

Mrs. Buckingham entered the employ of the bank as a stenographer and advanced to the position of assistant secretary about seven years ago. She is also assistant secretary of the Washington Mechanics Mortgage Co.

Miss Mary J. Winfree, president of the Bank Women's Club of Washington, was formerly secretary of the Continental Trust Co., and when that company recently merged with the Commercial National Bank, became an assistant cashier of the latter institution. Miss E. M. Michael has also been an assistant cashier of the North Capitol Savings Bank for a number of years.

Bondholders' Protective Group Named.

Formation of a bondholders' protective committee by out-of-town holders of F. H. Smith Co. bonds and designation of the Bank of Commerce & Savings at Seventh and E streets northwest, as a local subdepository for these securities is announced in a circular distributed by the committee stating a large number of holders have asked it to act for the protection of their interests.

The circular cites that bondholders are widely located throughout the United States and therefore can not effectively protect their interests except by acting in concert with each other through a committee. It also reminds that legal proceedings have been instituted against the Smith Co. The Broadway National Bank & Trust Co. of New York is the principal depository and the local bank, the Fidelity Trust Co. of Pittsburgh and the Aldine Trust Co. of Philadelphia are designated subdepositories.

On the committee are Herbert L. Davis, of this city; Charles D. Newton, Geneseo, N. Y.; Eric Fisher Wood, Pittsburgh, Pa.; John J. McDevitt, jr., Philadelphia; James L. Malcolm, Catskill, N. Y., and A. M. Frumberg, New York. Counsel for the committee are Boskey, Schiller, Marvin & Serling, New York.

Bromo-Seltzer Dividend.

The board of directors of Emerson's Bromo-Seltzer, Inc., of Baltimore, Md., met recently and declared the regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents per share on the class A common stock of the company. The dividend is payable to stockholders of record at 12 o'clock noon, March 15, 1930.

This is the issue which was brought out last October by the Century Trust Co., of Baltimore, and Waggaman, Brawner & Co., Inc., of Washington.

Inland Utilities, Inc., in its initial report covering the six months period from June 20, 1929, the date of consolidation, to December 31, 1929, shows gross revenues of $650,688. After operating expenses, interest on divisional liens, maintenance, depletion, depreciation and deduction for minority interests, but before income taxes, net income was $288,352. This was equivalent to 2.78 times the interest requirements for the period on $3,250,000 6 per cent convertible debentures due 1934.

Earnings after interest on debentures were equivalent to an annual rate of $3.91 a share on the 83,487 shares of participating ($1.70 cumulative) class A stock outstanding December 31, 1929.

Inland Utilities, Inc., through its subsidiaries, controls extensive natural gas properties in Kentucky and West Virginia, and supplies water, manufactured gas and other public service essentials in Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Weather Bureau, Washington, Wednesday, March 5—8 p. m.

Forecast—For the District of Columbia, fair Thursday; Friday showers; mild temperature; gentle variable winds, becoming moderate southerly Friday.

For Maryland and Virginia, fair and slightly warmer Thursday; Friday showers with mild temperature; moderate southerly winds, increasing Friday.

The northern disturbance is now central north of Hudson Straits, Nottingham Island, 29.08 inches, with a trough extending southward to eastern New York. The disturbance from the Pacific has moved eastward and increased in intensity, and it now covers practically all sections west of the Mississippi River, with center over southeastern Alberta, Medicine Hat, 29.32 inches. It has caused quite general rains from the Pacific Coast eastward to the Rocky Mountains. Fair weather has prevailed in practically all sections east of the Rockies. Pressure remains high over the lower Mackenzie Valley, Aklavik, 30.20 inches; it is high and rising from the Canadian Maritime Provinces southward to Bermuda, Sable Island, 30.26 inches, and it is relatively high and rising over the lake region. The temperature has continued to rise throughout the Eastern and Southern States, the northern plains States, and Montana, and it has fallen in the plateau region and the Pacific States, and from the Lake Superior region southwestward to Missouri. The temperature is now above normal almost generally east of the Rocky Mountains, except in the South Atlantic States.

Generally fair weather will prevail Thursday in the Washington forecast district, with a further rise in temperature in most sections, but the eastward advance of the western disturbance will cause showers Friday rather generally east of the Mississippi River. The temperature will continue mild in the Washington forecast district Friday, followed by colder weather Friday afternoon or night in Tennessee, the Ohio Valley, and the lower lake region.

NEW YORK COTTON.

New York, March 5 (A.P.).—A renewal or continuation of the recent selling movement promoted by weakness in Liverpool and the unsettled ruling of wheat, was reflected by a sharp decline in the cotton market today. Prices for all months made new low records for the season, with May deliveries selling off to 14.74, or 31 points below yesterday's closing quotation and nearly 5½ cents a pound under the high price of last September. May closed at 14.75, with the general market closing easy at net declines of 19 to 30 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of 7 to 13 points and soon showed net losses of 13 to 17 points under liquidation or reselling by recent buyers, who were evidently influenced by lower Liverpool cables than expected and declines in wheat. Some stop orders were uncovered and after the execution prices stiffened up on trade buying and covering. This caused rallies of about 8 to 12 points from the lowest, but the buying tapered off on the advance, which was evidently a disappointment to early buyers or people who had carried contracts over the decline. At any rate, the market hesitated and showed renewed weakness later, with prices reaching the lowest points in the day and season in the late trading, when the selling became somewhat more active. March broke to 14.32 and closed nominal at 14.47, while the old October contract sold off to 15.14 and closed at that figure. The general market closed within a point or two of the lowest.

Liverpool cables said there had been continental and Bombay liquidation, together with short selling in that market, and reported a pessimistic tone in the Manchester goods trade owing to lack of confidence in current prices, and said that yarn sales were below production.

Houses with Liverpool connections were among the sellers here during the early trading, and there was scattered selling on the further decline in wheat, but much of the pressure was attributed to further liquidation inspired by the failure of advances to attract a more aggressive demand. The report of the Senate subcommittee recommending amendments to the cotton futures act came in for some considerable discussion, but was not generally mentioned in connection with the immediate action of the market.

Exports today, 10,693, making 5,507,895 so far this season. Port receipts, 9,316. United States port stocks, 2,098,549.

CURB MARKET REVIEW

New York, March 5 (A.P.).—Trading on the New York Curb Exchange today set a new high record for the year, with a turnover of 1,258,500 shares, more than one-sixth of which was in common stock of the Cities Service Co. Prices rallied briskly until the last, when a heavy selling movement, centering in the public utility issues, cut down or wiped out many of the early gains, and left closing prices irregular.

Cities Service common was marked up to a new top for the year at 39⅝, and then eased to 37⅞, for a net decline of ½ point, on a turnover of 220,200 shares. Electric Bond & Share, another active feature, showed a net loss of 2⅛ at 101, after having sold as high as 103¾.

There were several strong spots in the public utility group, with buying presumably influenced by unconfirmed reports that large banking interests were working on a series of new consolidations. Central States Convertible preferred jumped 8¾ points to a new high at 172¼. Peoples Light & Power A was marked up 2⅝ points to a new 1930 high at 35⅞. Hydroelectric and Sierra Pacific Electric also reached new highs for the year. American & Foreign Power warrants and American Gas & Electric each lost about 3 points and Consolidated Gas of Baltimore, Tampa Electric and United Light & Power A lost a point or more.

Allegheny Gas and the Arkansas Natural Gas issues reached new peaks for the year, but the latter lost their gains and closed with small net declines.

Humble Oil ran up 7 points to a new 1930 high at 98, but lost about 3 points of its gain. Gulf of Pennsylvania closed about a point higher, but Cosden Oil dropped 5 points to 50.

Aviation issues presented a few points of strength. Sikorsky jumped nearly 7 points, Aero Underwriters crossed 22 to a new high for a gain of about 4 points and Consolidated Aircraft sold at 19, up 1⅞, for the first time this year. Western Air Express was heavy.

New peak prices for the year also were registered by Amrad Corporation, Blue Ridge common, Eisler Electric, International Utilities "A" and "B," Royal Typewriter (new), A. O. Smith, and Standard Screw. Glen Alden Coal dropped 8 points to a new low at 102, in response to the reduction in the annual dividend from $10 to $8, and then rallied to 105. New York & Honduras also sold at a new low for the year.

$350 in GOLD

And 90,000 EXTRA VOTES for Each $20 Worth of New Subscriptions

Prizes Worth Striving for in the Second Period of the POST $20,000 Opportunity Campaign

Here is a "campaign within a campaign" extending from February 20 to March 12, inclusive, and in which any ambitious man or woman may participate with equal chances to win one of the big cash awards and the thousands of extra votes that will place he or she among the leaders in the race for twelve automobiles and sixteen radios. No subscriptions received previous to this period will count towards a special award of votes or cash—new entrants compete on an equal basis with all other candidates. Opportunity is further equalized by the division of territory into city and out-of-town sections, each with its individual prize list of equal value. $100 will be presented to the city candidate who secures the greatest amount of new subscription payments within this period and $100 to the out-of-town candidate who secures the greatest amount from his district—even though the total may be half that of the city candidate's or vice versa. $50 will be presented to the second highest candidate in each district and $25 to the third candidate in each division. In addition these leading candidates will also receive the greatest total of extra votes which will speed them on their way to ultimate ownership of a brand-new automobile or radio.

Enter NOW—and Win One of These Valuable Prizes will be paid to qualifying candidates who do not participate in the distribution of the 28 big prizes. It is, therefore, evident that every one may profit by participation in this campaign.

10% CASH Commissions

TENTATIVE BUDGET ADOPTED IN FAIRFAX

Several Items Are Cut From Original Estimate in January.

SCHOOLS GET $204,034

FAIRFAX BUREAU OF THE POST.
P. O. Box 245, Vienna, Va.
Phone Vienna 64.

The Fairfax County Board of Supervisors met yesterday in the boardroom at the courthouse in their regular monthly meeting and made a tentative adoption of a budget for the coming year, drawn from estimates passed at the January meeting.

These items include $10,000 for expenses for the reassessment of real estate which is a reduction of $4,000 from their estimate. The superintendent of public welfare was allowed $1,500, a reduction of $300, and $4,500 was allowed for county fire protection. The supervisors also allowed $204,034.56 for schools as was requested by the school board. The board voted to make a 1 cent district levy in the six districts and to make a levy of approximately 98 cents for the county road fund. In previous years the levy was divided almost equally between the districts and county road levies.

The board again yesterday refused to give the United States Government a fee simple title to county owned land at the entrance of the Mount Vernon estate. A committee from the United States Bureau of Roads, headed by St. John Wilson, appeared before the board asking that absolute deed be given to this tract and the road at the entrance of the estate. They were referred to the action of the board at the September meeting, which granted the bureau rights to use the land and to make any improvements they might see fit, but allowing the county to retain the title.

The board agreed, with the permission of the circuit court, to enter into a contract granting the United States Government an easement over the land so long as they might wish to use it for the purpose of a proposed road and park.

In contemplation of the State taking over 16 miles of road in this county, in addition to the State mileage under the new road bill, a resolution was passed recommending that the State take over Kings highway from Penn Daw Hotel to the Little River turnpike and that portion of Ox road necessary to complete the State highway from Fairfax Court-House to Occoquan and the road from Tyson's Cross Roads through Falls Church to Alexandria.

The board rescinded its action of the February meeting regarding changes to the interior of the courtroom. It had been planned to take out a portion of the old guard rail, cut a new passage way, and purchase new chairs for the jury box.

A communication was read from the State Highway Department approving incorporating the Columbia pike, the road from Merrifield to Tysons Cross Roads and the road from Annandale to Falls Church into the county system. The communication did not approve such action for the road from Berry's Corner to the Leesburg pike in Providence district.

A letter was read from R. E. Brookbank, of the State and Federal cattle inspection service, in regard to the bovine tubercular eradication work in Fairfax County. The letter stated that reactors amounted to nearly 1 per cent of the cattle tested. Mr. Brookbank does not think it advisable to employ an additional cattle inspector at this time, unless further funds are made available by the board.

State Senator Frank L. Ball advised the board by letter, in answer to their request of his opposition to any reduction in gasoline tax for Fairfax County; that he did not believe the bill adopted by the Legislature dealing with the gasoline tax would affect this county.

The expenditure of $69.60 out of the county dog fund for 120 predatory birds and animals killed last month was authorized, and $72.40 was received from the State Game Bureau as reimbursement for last month to be credited to the dog fund.

A petition was received asking that the Pohick road in Mount Vernon district be rerouted to eliminate several dangerous curves near Pohick Run. This matter was referred to the county engineer for his report.

The county engineer, who is the purchasing agent for the county, was authorized to purchase and have installed an electric stove at the jail.

The report of the county traffic police for February showed that Capt. Haywood J. Durrer made eight arrests, with fines totaling $70 and fees $3. Traffic Officer A. W. Mills made fourteen arrests, fines amounted to $87, and fees $24. Traffic Officer Carl R. McIntosh made eight arrests, fines amounted to $55, fees $4. Traffic Officer Lewis L. Finks made fifteen arrests, fines amounted to $71.50, fees $11. All fees were turned into the county treasurers' office to be applied to the county police fund.

Lawrence H. Baer, of R. F. D., No. 1, Alexandria, was arrested by Traffic Policeman Finks for operating a car on District of Columbia tags on River road, near Fort Hunt. He was taken before Justice of the Peace Harry Shephard at Accotink and fined $10 and costs.

The official board of the Methodist Church and Sunday School at Oakton, will meet at the home of Mrs. Hugh Bell this evening.

The Missionary Society of the Southern Methodist Church at Falls Church will meet this evening at the home of Mrs. J. S. Higgins, with Mrs. Bruner acting as cohostess. Mrs. H. C. Febrey has charge of the program for the evening.

The Aid Society of the Chesterbrook Southern Methodist Church will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. James Stoner at Franklin Park. New officers will be elected at this time.

The Fairfax Garden Club will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. D. Richardson. Mrs. Amos Chilcott has charge of the program. Mrs. Chilcott will address the Fairfax School at their regular assembly next week in regard to forming a Junior Garden Club. This movement is being sponsored by the Fairfax Garden Club and the Parent-Teachers Association.

The School League at Burke will meet this evening in the schoolhouse. The president of the league, A. D. Carter, has arranged an interesting program in which the school children will take part.

The School League at Andrew Chapel will meet this evening in the schoolhouse. Miss Edith Thompson, rural supervisor, will be the guest of the league at this time. A program will be given by the school children under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Day.

During the month of February, County Agricultural Agent H. B. Derr made 31 farm visits to others than demonstrators and visited 28 men and 4 women demonstrators, 8 schools and 8 4-H clubs. Visits were also made to 17 dairy farms and 24 poultry flocks.

Many of the dairy herds are suffering from attacks of lice and 2 demonstrations were given in treatment. Of the 24 flocks visited nearly one-half were more or less troubled with sickness and treatment was advised. Five culling demonstrations were held. Eight flock owners were assisted in selecting breeding pens. One demonstration was held and 25 sheep dosed for parasites. One pruning demonstration. 5 seed corn selections and 2 blackleg vaccination demonstrations were held.

During the month there were two extension leaders' meetings and two meetings in relation to farm projects, with an attendance at both meetings of 118 farmers. On February 15 was held the annual county corn show, with a display of both white and yellow corn. The exhibit was judged by District Agent W. C. Shackleford, from near Charlottesville, Va. In the bushel contest there were nearly twenty bushels of seed corn shown. The principal prizes were the Chamber of Commerce silver cup and the ton of lime offered by the Leesburg Lime Co. These prizes were won by C. O. Schaub with his pure bred Reid's yellow dent corn. Having won this cup on two previous occasions, it has become his personal property.

These corn shows have a decided influence upon the yield and quality of the corn of this county. The exhibit also proved that despite the unfavorable season of 1929, farmers raised much excellent seed corn.

Daily O'Currences

By JOHN DALY

FROM the way she came charging at me I knew there was trouble ahead. Luella doesn't often lose her temper; but when she does, "Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest are these—'She's mad again!'"

"Did you or did you not," she asked deliberately, tapping her foot at the same time, "mail that letter?"

"What letter?"

"You know what letter,"

* * * *

AS a matter of fact, I had no idea what letter she meant. Often she gives me letters to mail. Sometimes they get mailed. Sometimes I carry 'em around. You know how it is.

"You haven't given me a letter to mail since last Christmas," I told her.

"No," she said, "and I'll never give you another one to mail as long as I live. Understand that"

No argument there. I hope she keeps her word.

"If you had mailed the letter," she resumed, "I wouldn't have had to make so many explanations this morning when Mrs. Battersea called ——"

"Mrs. Battersea? You don't mean ——"

"Yes. I do mean that Mrs. Battersea called—just back from Europe—and I give you my word she had received no letter from me thanking her for——"

* * * *

FOR the dachshund. Mrs. Battersea sent us a dachshund for Christmas. Of course, we wern't particularly crazy about a dachshund, Luella preferring a Pomeranian, and I—well, I said at the time I'd like to have a little Scotch—that is, er, uh—terrier. Anyway, we got the dachshund, and Luella was supposed to write and thank Mrs. Battersea.

"Are you sure you wrote the letter?" I asked.

Her eyes filled with a holy light—like a martyr about to be burned on a funeral pyre.

"Am I sure I wrote the letter?" she gasped, and I ran for the smelling salts. "I'm just as sure I wrote the letter as I am that you've got it somewhere in one of your pockets—in the suit you wore at Christmas time!"

* * * *

HOLY SMOKES! That's the suit I gave to the bazaar to help the starving Armenians. It's all right, I guess. Nobody over there'll be able to read Luella's handwriting.

MILL MURDER TRIAL TESTIMONY CLOSES

Two Present Alibis at Close of Hearing for Five in Gastonia Case.

ARGUMENTS OPEN TODAY

Charlotte, N. C., March 5 (A.P.).—Testimony in the trial of five men accused of the death of Ella May Wiggins, Bessemer City textile worker, was completed today in Mecklenburg County Superior Court. Arguments will begin tomorrow.

Dewey Carver, textile worker, declared that Horace Wheelus, accused of having fired the bullets that killed Mrs. Ella May Wiggins, was sitting in a Mecklenburg County Court room listening to a flogging trial when the Bessemer City textile union worker was killed.

The defense presented Carver's testimony as the climax in its case, after O. H. Lunsford, another of the defendants, had testified he was at home asleep at the time of the shooting.

The three other defendants, Troy Jones, Fred Morrow and Lowery Davis, told yesterday they were en route to Lake James, North Carolina, for a week-end of fishing when the truck load of textile workers, including Mrs. Wiggins, crashed into the rear of their automobile. They denied they were members of the alleged anticommunistic mob.

Carver, who on September 14 was one of seven men on trial in connection with the flogging of Ben Wells, labor organizer, said he employed Wheelus to bring him from Gastonia to Charlotte for the trial. He said he and Wheelus sat together in an empty jury box from 1 o'clock until 3 o'clock when court adjourned. Mrs. Wiggins was killed about 2:45 o'clock.

Prominent Mason Buried at Staunton

Grand Lodge Attends Rites for W. B. McChesney, Noted Ritualist.

Special to The Washington Post.

Staunton, Va., March 5.—Lieut. Gov. James H. Price led the Masonic fraternity of Virginia in paying tribute to the memory of William Baylor McChesney, 81, who died here early Monday morning, and whose funeral was held yesterday afternoon at the residence. Burial was in Thornrose Cemetery.

The Rev. Dr. Frank T. McFaden, of Winchester, grand master of Masons in Virginia, was in charge of the funeral, and was assisted by other grand lodge officers. The Rev. J. E. Wayland, of the First Presbyterian Church, this city, further assisted. Knights Templar, in uniform, formed a guard of honor as the procession moved from the McChesney residence to the cemetery. Among those here for the rites were, in addition to Dr. McFaden, Past Grand Masters John T. Cochran, of The Plains; James H. Price, of Richmond; B. W. Beach, of Danville; James Bowman, of Roanoke; Grand Secretary James M. Cliffe, of Richmond; Grand Steward A. W. Baker, of Richmond; Grand Tiler I. H. Adams, of Richmond; Grand Junior Deacon T. W. Ebsper, of Culpeper; Grand High Priest S. Tate Sterrett, of Staunton, and many others.

Mr. McChesney was affectionately referred to as the "grand old man of Masonry" in Virginia. He had held all the offices that three branches of the fraternity offer, both locally and in the State jurisdiction.

VIRGINIA LAUNCHES SANITATION PLANS

Official Reviews Steps of State to Protect All Water Supplies.

GIVES TALK OVER RADIO

Richmond, Va., March 5 (A.P.).—Importance and progress of sanitation as a means toward good health and resultant prosperity were outlined in an address prepared by Dr. Roy K. Flannagan, assistant State health commissioner, for delivery over radio here today.

Although less advanced than cities in promoting good health through modern sanitation," Dr. Flannagan said, "country folk are beginning to realize that the cities and towns can compete with them in few things that are of the highest value except sanitation and protected water supplies."

He reviewed the steps taken by the State department of health for protection of all water supplies, pointing out that aluminum signs are erected at service stations and roadside inns showing whether the water served there is certified as safe. That the public considers its health safety is important is shown, Dr. Flannagan said, by the fact that many persons refuse to patronize places where the signs are not shown.

The engineering division of the State department of health is now engaged in a study of stream pollution in Virginia in cooperation with representatives of manufacturing interests and departments of State, the health officer stated.

"Out of this study will undoubtedly come a better handling of industrial wastes and an improvement of the quality of water in many streams of Virginia," he added.

Corn Thief Shoots Youth in Abdomen

Buckton Lad Is in Hospital After Attack by Man, Who Escapes.

Special to The Washington Post.

Winchester, Va., March 5.—Marvin Mitchell, 14, son of Mrs. Susie Mitchell, Buckton, Warren County, Va., is in a hospital here with a pistol bullet wound in the abdomen, inflicted, it was said, by one of a party of corn thieves surprised late last night by the lad and Henry Wright, a neighbor.

Wright said he and Marvin Mitchell had started out with flashlights to locate the thieves when the Mitchell youth was felled with a shot in the stomach.

Sheriff Collins, of Warren County, arrested Harry Day and Wesley Smith, of Buckton, on suspicion but they denied having been in the Mitchell corn field. They were held for further questioning.

Liner Is Launched At Newport News

New Ward Steamer, Morro Castle, to Ply Between New York, Havana.

Newport News, Va., March 5 (A.P.). The Ward liner, Morro Castle, one of two new vessels planned for the New York-Havana line, was launched here at noon today at ceremonies attended by officers of the company, commissioners of the United States Shipping Board and other prominent officials.

To the accompaniment of shrieking whistles of harbor craft and before a large gallery, the new liner slipped smoothly down the ways at noon into the waters of Hampton Roads. The ship was christened by Miss Ruth Eleanor Mooney, daughter of Franklin D. Mooney, president of the Atlantic, Gulf & West Indies Co., of which the Ward Line is a subsidiary.

The Morro Castle, of 11,300 gross tons, and designed to have a speed of 20 knots, will be one of the fastest turbo-electric liners afloat. She is among the first of the new fleet of American flag liners to be built under the aids provided by the Jones-White act.

John C. Strite Dies After Brief Illness

Hagerstown, Md., March 5.—John C. Strite, a member of the Maryland Legislature, died suddenly at Leitersburg, Md., today, aged 59. He was ill but a few moments.

This was Mr. Strite's second term in the House of Delegates from Washington County. He was president of a local bank and a miller, operating a mill that has been in his family for nearly a century. A widow and two daughters survive.

Harpers Ferry Pastor Leaves.

Harpers Ferry, W. Va., March 5 (Special).—The Rev. John A. Curran, pastor of St. Peter's Catholic Church here for seventeen years, has been transferred to Clarendon, Va., and has gone to assume his duties. He is succeeded here by the Rev. Edward V. Mullankey, transferred from Colonial Beach, Va.

OVERHEAD CROSSING LOCATION DISCUSSED

State Roads Officials and Montgomery County Officers Confer.

SITES ARE INSPECTED

Maryland State Roads Commission officials yesterday conferred with Montgomery County and Rockville officials on the location of the proposed ovehead crossing which will eliminate the Rockville grade crossing. Elimination of this crossing and those at Kensington and Gaithersburg is planned for the coming season, according to State roads plans at present.

Chief Engineer Harry Williar, jr., of the roads commission, was accompanied by E. G. Duncan, district engineer, and Walter C. Hopkins, bridge engineer, of the commission. He was met at Rockville by County Commissioner Lacy Shaw, Chief Engineer Irving C. Root, of the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission, who has been preparing a highway plan for the town of Rockville; Mayor J. Roger Spates and Town Councilman Stedman Prescott and H. W. Talbott.

The group inspected several sites for the proposed crossing. Some dissatisfaction had been apparent in Rockville at the site which had been chosen by the roads commission.

Delos H. Smith, architect, and several county officials yesterday conferred at length at the Rockville courthouse on the allotment of space and location in the new courthouse building which is being designed.

It is expected that a definite plan will be prepared for submission to the courthouse construction committee, which is to meet tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock at the courthouse.

Miss Ruth Braden, nutrition expert who is working in Montgomery County through the efforts of the Montgomery County Chapter of the American Red Cross, yesterday submitted her report on her activities for February.

The nutrition expert visited 5 homes, held 15 consultations and made 7 talks other than school talks, reaching 29 persons through home visits, 20 through consultations and 180 through talks. Two mothers' classes have been completed and certificates presented to Mrs. S. C. Speck, Mrs. Charles Hawkins, Mrs. H. Howard, Mrs. W. B. Neely, Miss Annie Soper, Miss Catherine Hines and Mrs. C. Rufus Rorem. A new class has been fomed in Rockville and will be completed at the end of March.

Nutrition courses were completed at the following schools: Garret Park, Somerset, Blair, Woodside, Ednor, Brighton, Brookeville and Chey Chase.

Police Skeptical In 'Bomb' Finding

New Year's Day Explosion Recalled by Discovery in Prince Georges.

Prince Georges County officials yesterday were inclined to discount the value of an alleged "bomb" found near the home of Herman Brady at Mitchellville. They declared the find to be merely a can of powder which had been left out probably for blasting a tree stump.

Interest attached to the alleged "bomb" at first was because it was thought that it might have been an experimental device used prior to the manufacturing of the bomb which exploded at the Hall home in Seat Pleasant, Md., New Year's Day, which killed three persons, one of whom was Naomi Hall Brady, wife of Herman Brady.

Leroy Brady, brother of Herman, is in Marlboro Jail awaiting presentation to the April grand jury on charges that he was the manufacturer of the bomb which killed the three Hall children.

Hoover Asked to Attend Cape Henry Celebration

Richmond, Va., March 5 (A.P.).—President Hoover would be extended an invitation to make the pilgrimage to Cape Henry on April 26, commemorating the first landing of the first permanent English settlers in the New World, under a joint resolution adopted today by the House. Similar invitations were extended to the governors of the thirteen original States and of West Virginia, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin.

The resolutions set out that the first permanent English colonists came ashore at Cape Henry on April 26, 1607, and that in Virginia it has become a custom to commemorate the event with appropriate ceremonies on each anniversary.

Lynchburg City Offices Moved.

Lynchburg, Va., March 5 (Special). City offices, which have been located for six years in a temporary municipal building, are being moved to the old Piedmont Club, preparatory to the site being given up to the Federal Government, which will use it for a new Federal building. After the new postoffice is ready the city will take over the present Federal building and use it for a city hall.

Authorities to Get Protest on Wages

Danville Union Organizer to Make Complaint on Textile Scale.

Danville, Va., March 5.—The textile situation in Danville, where the American Federation of Labor is engaged in organizing a union will be placed before the Federal authorities "within the next few days," according to Francis J. Gorman, vice president of the United Textile Workers of Virginia, in charge of local organization. He added that the matter would also be presented to Senators Glass and Swanson.

Mr. Gorman proposes to make a report on the local situaton to William Green, president of the American Federatoin of Labor. It is also reported that 700 more textile operatives have joined the union since last Sunday when more than 1,000 took the obligation at a theater meeting.

Mr. Gorman is planning to take to Washington pay envelopes received by the employes of the Riverside and Dan River Cotton Mills, as evidence of their earnings. He said that the average pay for the first week following the 10 per cent cut was $16.75.

BREWER LIQUOR BILL DIES IN COMMITTEE

Virginia Group Kills Measure to Let Counties Handle Enforcement.

OTHER PROPOSALS PASS

Special to The Washington Post.

Richmond, Va., March 5.—The Brewer bill to give counties the right to parallel State prohibition laws was killed in Senate committee this afternoon with Senator George W. Layman, of Craig, father of the Virginia prohibition law, and Senator James S. Barron, of Norfolk, avowed wet and member of the board of directors of the Association Against the Eighteenth Amendment, voting together against it.

"I don't want to be put in the position," Senator Barron said, "of ever voting for anything that might tend to break down enforcement. I am a wet and against the law, but the Senator there (indicating Senator Layman' will not say that I've ever done a thing to break down enforcement."

Delegate R. L. Brewer, jr., of Suffolk, who introduced the bill, explained that he was "one of the original drys," and had no thought of trying to weaken enforcement; rather, he said, he believed that if the fines went to the counties, enforcement would be strengthened and not impaired in any way. Senator W. H. Langhorne, of Lynchburg, although a wet, said he believed the bill would not injure enforcement "because very few of the State enforcement agents who have come under my observation seemed to have any very strong convictions."

Few Bills Are Passed.

The Senate and the House both fought along with their calendars, passing, however, relatively few bills because of contests. The House passed the Buchanan bill that gives to localities the right to exempt manufacturers and works of internal improvement after adopting an amendment that provided that the exemption should not be allowed to an industry competing with one already in existence. Opponents held that this would render the law unconstitutional.

In the Senate, the Reid resolution calling for a study of State insurance for workmen's compensation was passed after Senator Hill Montague, Richmond, attacked it as a "move toward socialism." Senators Layman and Ball defended it in that it provided only for study of the situation, for report in 1932, of the troublesome question.

The Senate, by a vote of 24 to 9, killed the Dovell bill that would have repealed the Downing law, which requires that every person applying for a State license of any kind, from hunting to buying automobile tags, must first have paid his or her poll tax.

Game Code Bill Passes.

The House passed the game codification bill, which, in addition to codifying and making uniform the game laws, also increases the number of commissioners from five to seven. It killed the plumbing code bill, sponsored by Senators Holt and Ball. It was championed in the House by Delegates Hugh Reid, of Arlington, and J. Fred Birrell, of Alexandria. The latter said he was a mechanic and had the opportunity of seeing how badly plumbing was done. The measure would have provided minimum requirements for plumbing.

The conference committee, which is considering the much-amended appropriations bill, has promised a report tomorrow morning. It is being awaited rather anxiously in that there is a possibility that the salary raises involved may create so much dissatisfaction that adjournment, set for Saturday, may be delayed.

COUNTY TO EXTEND ITS WATER SYSTEM

Work in Fairfax Will Give Town Three Fire Hydrants.

SIX-INCH MAIN PROVIDED

ARLINGTON COUNTY.
BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Clar. 500. Clarendon, Va.

Work was started yesterday by the Arlington County Water Department, under the supervision of County Engineer C. L. Kinnier, on the extension of the county water mains from the beginning of the corporate limits of the town of Falls Church, along the Lee highway, through the town to the corporate limits at the Fairfax County line. The length of the line is 1,900 feet.

This extension will provide a 6-inch main through Falls Church, with three fire hydrants, which will insure adequate fire protection. The cost of the work is being borne by the abutting property owners. Provisions in the specifications provide for proper fittings at each street crossing to provide for the laying of lateral lines as time requires.

The starting of this work brings to a close efforts which have been made by the citizens of the town for water since the beginning of the installation of the line through the county more than two years ago.

The Arlington County Civic Federation at its meeting last night in the Lyon Park Community House went on record as indorsing the report recently submitted to the county school board by the United States Bureau of Education relative to the condition of the county schools and the needed enlargement of the system.

The resolution offered by the school committee authorizes the county school authorities to take the necessary steps as soon as practicable to put into effect the proposed school building program as outlined in the report submitted to the school board.

The report of the bureau recommends a bond issue of $580,000 to carry out the program. Of this amount, $335,000 is to be used for actual construction work and the remaining $225,000 for refunding short-term loans used for capital investment.

Col. A. H. Barbour, president of the Interfederation Conference and former president of the Montgomery County Civic Federation, addressing the meeting, spoke of the advantages of joint action on the many problems affecting any section of the area designated for regional development and said, "We of Maryland want to assist you as you develop, so shall we."

The secretary was instructed on motion of Mrs. Florence E. Cannon to address a letter to the Shell Oil Co. expressing the hope that the company will cooperate with the plans for the improvement of the metropolitan area to the extent of refraining from the use of huge billboard advertising.

The federation adopted the resolution as offered by Arthur Orr, president of the Lyon Park Citizens' Association, advocating early construction of that part of The-Straight-To-The-Bridge road which will connect the Wilson boulevard with the new Memorial Bridge, rapidly nearing completion.

The federation also indorsed the bill which has been offered by Representative R. Walton Moore, providing for the construction by the Agriculture Department of that section of the Lee boulevard which circles Fort Myer and joins the bridge.

An announcement was made by Robert E. Plymale, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the annual banquet to be held at Arlington Hall College for Girls the evening of April 5, that the committee will hold a meeting Monday night at the hall to complete plans for the banquet.

Application for a permit was filed in the office of County Commissioner of Revenue Harry K. Green yesterday by W. T. Weaver, of Weaver Brothers, hardware dealers in Georgetown, for the construction of a warehouse at an estimated cost of $4,000.

According to the application, which is in the office of County Engineer C. L. Kinnier, the warehouse is to be erected on the Lee highway, at Rosslyn, on the vacant site between the Standard Laundry and the Cherry Smash Co., within a few hundred feet of the proposed site of the Sun Oil Co. The building, according to the specifications, will have a frontage of 40 feet on the highway, with a depth of 00 feet. It will be of brick and tile construction.

The teachers of the James Monroe School at Aurora Heights will give a benefit entertainment tomorrow night at the school house, at 8 o'clock.

Miss Jola Payne is chairman in charge of the arrangements.

Arlington County stands second in the contribution in the Christmas seal sale for 1929 to fight tuberculosis with a total of $1,619, with Frederick County leading with a total of $1,854, out of the 100 counties in the State, according to an announcement made yesterday by Dr. P. M. Chichester, county health officer.

Announcement was made yesterday that the Arlington Lodge, No. 193, I. O. O. F., will hold its ninth annual banquet and birthday party the evening of March 12 in the Odd Fellows Hall at Clarendon.

C. J. Ives is the general chairman in charge of the arrangements. A complete program will be announced later.

The Missionary Societies of the Ballston Churches will hold a special prayer service at the Ballston Central Methodist Episcopal Church tomorrow, beginning at 2 o'clock.

The county health department announces the following list of five-point health children from the several county public schools: Robert E. Lee School, Rubye Lee Brittingham, Lule Rogers, Betty Marie Crouch, Robert Trotter, Peggy Smith, Elizabeth Van Doren, William Paxton, Virginia Birch and Donald Wickline.

Woodrow Wilson School—Frank Bierly, Jane Richmond, Walter Smith, Jack Richmond, Virginia Gillette and James Schroff.

Ballston School—Vernon Hixson, Romanine Johnson, Doland Moser, Henry Maxey, Sophie Bubb, Preddie Lee Dorsythe, Dorothy Craig, Louise Odor, Alice Gooding, Marye Compher, William Allison, Eleanor Smith, Jane Laing, Helen German, Charles Smallwood, Virginia Reamy, Odeth Compher, Margaret McIntyre, Lois Goode, Charles Orndorff, Warren Smith, Louis Douglass, Dorothy German, Evelyn Morris, Audrey Reamy, Howard Choate, Carroll Hall, Lloyd Darr, Louise Morgan, Vivian Stegmair, Katherine King, John Hollingsworth, Marguerite Barr, Milton Stewart, Helen Haines, Elizabeth Via, Arbella Charles, Paul Weeder, Edwin Matthews, John Foster, George Hall, Pauline Whitehouse, Louis Orndorff, Mildred Crump, Eileen Power and William Stuart.

Glen Carlyn School—Miriam Masi and Darrel Damer.

Oliver M. Patton and Charles E. Hughes, both minors, brought before Judge Harry R. Thomas of the Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court yesterday on a charge of housebreaking, were each sentenced to the State Board of Public Welfare. The sentences were suspended and the boys placed on probation for 30 days.

Judge Thomas gave each a strong lecture in the presence of their mothers and warned them that unless they attended school and behaved themselves that he would send them both to Richmond, where they would have to behave.

County School Superintendent Fletcher Kemp was instructed by the court to give the court a report on the boys' actions. Superintendent Kemp said, "The boys can return to school, but the first time they fail to do as they are told, out they go."

Trailed by officers Harry L. Woodyard, Ray Cobean, C. Wayne Carr, Hugh Jones and John R. Burke at a high rate of speed for more than 2 miles from the Highway Bridge along Columbia pike, a youth giving his name as James T. Wilmer, of Alexandria, 18 years old, was arrested yesterday. Searching the car the officers found four cases of alleged liquor totaling 24 gallons. Wilmer was taken to the Arlington County Jail where he was charged with transporting. He was later released on $1,000 bond. He will be given a hearing before Police Judge Harry R. Thomas Tuesday morning. When first reaching the jail the boy gave the name of James Thurston Brown.

There will be a meeting of the executive committee of the Arlington County Chamber of Commerce tonight at 8 o'clock at the Washington Golf and Country Club.

Inspection of the Washington-Lee High School Cadet Corps will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by Maj. C. S. McNeil, instructor in military science and tactics at the school.

Lumberman Dead From Gun Wounds

Shooting Said to Have Followed Dispute Over Matters of Money.

Special to The Washington Post.

Charlottesville, Va., March 5.—Charles Thomas, a lumberman, living near Burnleys, this county, died today at University Hospital from a gunshot wound received Sunday afternoon at the home of Delmore Brookman, 2 miles below Barboursville, in Orange County. Thomas is alleged to have been shot by Brookman following a dispute over money matters. He was fired on as he was cranking his car to leave the Brookman home in company with his brother, Vanna Thomas. The load of buckshot entered Thomas' side after crushing his arm. The victim never regained consciousness after being brought to the hospital and was unable to make any statement regarding the shooting.

Brookman, a son of Peter Brookman, was arrested Sunday night by Sheriff Selby, of Orange County, and lodged in the jail at Orange. Thomas, 35 years old and unmarried, was a son of the late Linburn Thomas, of Albemarle. Five brothers and four sisters survive.

INQUEST CONDUCTED IN HIGHWAY DEATH

Identity of Supposed Traffic Victim Not Established Yet by Officials.

U. D. C. CHAPTER ACTIVE

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU.
312 S. Washington St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria 523.

Dr. T. M. Jones, city coroner, after hearing several witnesses at the inquest yesterday into the death of the unidentified man found Friday night lying beside the road between here and Washington, rendered a verdict to the effect that the man came to his death from injuries to his head, "in all probability due to an automobile accident."

S. L. Nifong, of 507 Seventh street northeast, Washington, who was the first to discover the injured man, and Lester Wiley, of 494 F street southwest, Washington, who arrived on the scene shortly after the discovery, and aided Mr. Nifong in bringing the man to the Alexandria Hospital, testified at the inquest. Mr. Nifong stated he was coming south on the River road and saw the man lying with his feet on the concrete road and the remainder of his body off the paved surface. He said Mr. Wiley, who arrived about this time, discovered signs of life in the man, and brought him to the hospital, where he died about half an hour later.

Mr. Nifong said he thought he saw a bus in front of him as he was coming south, but that it might have been a large truck or car, some of which resemble a bus. Policeman Grimm stated he had questioned the driver and passengers on a bus of the A. B. & A. company, which was scheduled to pass the spot about the time of the finding of the injured man, but all stated that they had neither seen nor felt the impact of the bus striking anyone.

Efforts are still being made by the local police and J. Herbert Taylor, chief of the identification bureau of the Navy, to identify the body. Mr. Taylor received a telegram from William F. Hoffman, identification expert of the Pennsylvania State Police at Harrisburg, P
